NSLC Adds Education Secretary

By Norma Brumbelee

The yearly Nazarene Student Leadership Conference was held at Mt. Vernon Nazarene College April 30 - May 2. Every Nazarene college except Colorado Springs Bible College was represented at the Conference. Those representing Trevecca were Charles Davis, Student Council President; Dennis Moore, President-Elect; Bob Brower, Vice-President Elect; David Blue and Ron Shingleton, representatives of the Outreach Program and Dr. Strickland, Dean of Students.

In a recent interview, Charles Davis explained that the main purpose of the Conference was the orientation of new students leaders in their particular positions. He added that most of the time was spent in workshops geared to this purpose and also to the exchange of new and old ideas between colleges. Also discussed were better ways to promote good communications and relations between students and administration.

Davis went on to say, "I think the most important thing we did was to elect Dennis Moore chairman of next year's conference. He will be responsible for planning all activities for next year."

In addition to this, the Conference changed its constitution to read that the Executive Secretary of the Department of Education of the general church will serve as its co-chairman instead of a chosen advisor for each year. This department was also asked to take a poll of college student opinion pertaining to church and social issues. After this has been decided upon, it will be given further consideration and discussion at next year's conference.

Each college has the opportunity of inviting the Conference to their campus for the coming year. Mid-America will be host in 1971.

"Up With People" Performance Tonight

The Nashville cast of "Sing Out South" will perform on the Trevecca campus at 7:30 o'clock this evening, May 15. The performance will be held in McClurkin Auditorium under the sponsorship of the Circle K Club of Trevecca College.

"Sing Out South" is a part of the international "Up With People" organization.

Mr. James Townsend, director of the Nashville cast, said that the group will present a lively program of songs with the "beat" of today, utilizing considerable choreography aimed at presenting the idea of moral re-arming.

Moral re-arming is a name that is synonymous with the "Up With People" organization and has been used to build better relations throughout the world among people of all races and creeds.

There will be no charge for admission.

Psychology And Sociology Profs Added To Staff

By Carolyn Fox

Kenneth Slifer will be a new member of the staff next year. Although he will teach a few courses in education, his main field will be psychology. He is a graduate of Trevecca. This summer he will receive his doctorate at Auburn University. He is presently the Dean of Instruction at Montolow Junior College in Tullahoma, Tennessee. Having taught in both public schools and college, he is a well-experienced and a well-qualified person.

Mr. Slifer, a middle-aged man, is married.

Also, Jerry D. Hull will be joining the Trevecca staff next year as a full-time assistant professor in sociology. He will be a part of the new Department of Missions, Anthropology, and Sociology.

Mr. Hull graduated from Northwest Nazarene College with a major in history and social science. At the Nazarene Theological Seminary, he graduated with a 4.0 average. He is now finishing his masters degree in sociology at the University of Nebraska. He also plans to complete his doctorate in sociology. Mr. Hull is married and has two children.

As a result of this addition to the teaching faculty, we hope to offer several new courses. They will be Introduction to Sociology, Social Problems, Church and the Intercity, Minority Groups in the American Society, and Research Methods and Sociological Theory.

Oakland Drops Language Requirement

Rochester, Mich.—(I.P.)—Oakland University has dropped its traditional foreign language requirement and ruled that learning the language of the computer is as relevant as learning to speak French, German, or Spanish.

Approved by the University Senate recently is a new "symbolic systems" requirement which allows students to substitute computer programming, symbolic logic or philosophy or language courses for those in a second natural language.

Effective in December, 1970, OU students will no longer be re-

ARA-SLATER SELECTED TO BECOME NEW TREVECCA FOOD SERVICE COMPANY

ARA-Slater will become the new food service company for Trevecca Nazarene College beginning next fall. The final decision on the new food service was made by students last week in a special survey presented in a regularly scheduled chapel.

The ARA food company will replace Interstate United, which for three years provided the Trevecca food service. The change in companies, as stated by one College official, was being made after many apparent student complaints concerning Interstate United.

Three companies were the in-initial bidders for the Trevecca contract. They were ARA-Slater, Saga Food Company, and Interstate United. The approximate tally of the student referendum was ARA—210, Saga—85, and Interstate United—9.

ARA-Slater is the largest and oldest firm in the field, providing food service to over 250 schools in the United States. Locally ARA serves Belmont College, David Lipscomb College, Fisk University, and Middle Tennessee State University. The district headquarters are located in Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

A new feature of ARA will be a fifteen meal-a-week plate at $150.00 cost per quarter and a 21 meal-a-week plan at $160.00. The fifteen meals a week cost is at the same level as the 21 meals a week now provided by Interstate United.

Also to be added by ARA will be Snack Bar, "offering a program designed to make it a popular on-campus meeting place."

An annual Food Preference Survey will be given by ARA early in the year to determine the local taste of students. ARA has standardized food preparation from 1,525 recipes.

The daily menu plan will be expanded to include a broader spectrum of food. Breakfasts will include: three to four juice selections daily; choice of eggs every morning plus hot cakes, French toast; breakfast meat daily; choice of muffins, biscuits, toast daily; and choice of beverages including milk.

The Lunch menu will include: two soups; two entrees plus one sandwich item from the grill; six salads on buffet; and three desserts.

The evening dinner menu will include: one soup, choice of other appetizer; carved to order item two evenings per week such as roast, baked ham, turkey; special grill item one evening per week with the "Premium" night every Wednesday; additional hot food entrees—choice of two vegetables, choice of two potatoes, choice of four desserts, choice of six salads, choice of beverages.

During the school year there will be five festive meals to celebrate holidays and campus events.

Classes Select 70-71 Officers

By Paulette Johnson

On Monday, May 4th, the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior Classes elected their class officers for the 1970-'71 school year. Each class heard speeches from the various candidates for offices and then cast their ballots.

Elected as officers for next year's Senior Class were: president, Jim Quiggins; vice president, Joe Bullock; secretary, Ruthie Butler; and treasurer, Margaret Headrick. Student Council representatives for next year's Senior Class are Phil Bowles and Jordan Conger.

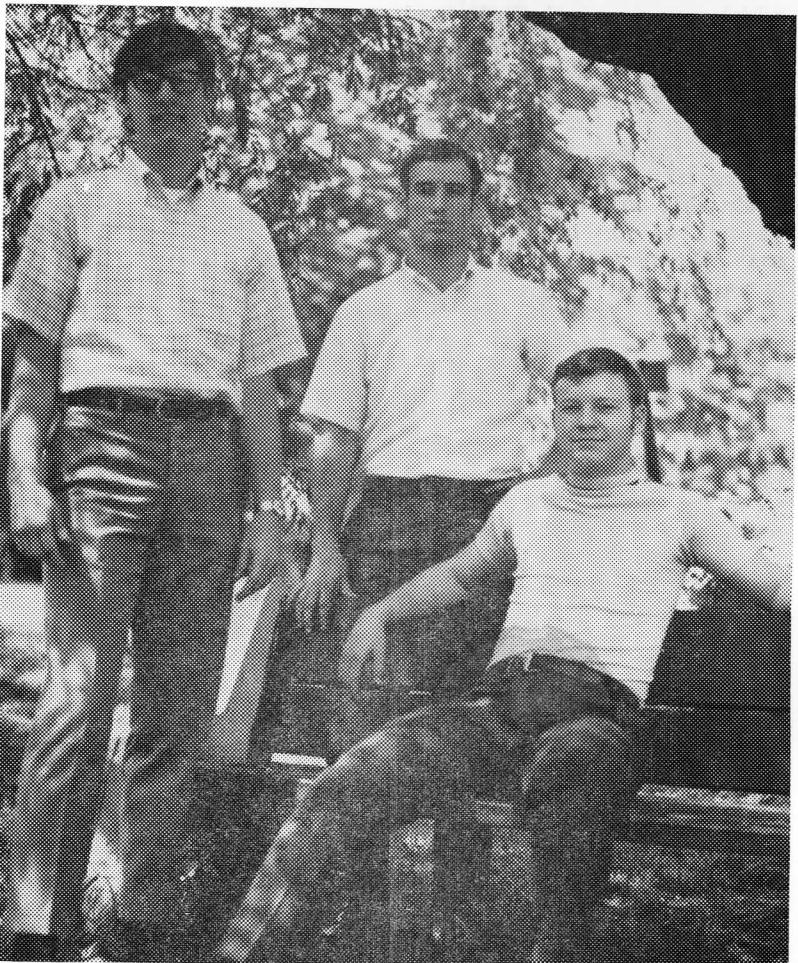

Jim Quiggins is from Louisville, Kentucky and has served this past year as president of Trevecca's Athletic Association. Joe Bullock is from Laurel, Mississippi and has worked with religious outreach and C.W.A. this year, as well as being a very active class member. Coming from Atlanta, Georgia is Ruthie Butler, who served as secretary of her sophomore class and is a member of the Encounters. Treasurer, Margaret Headrick, is from Hixson, Tennessee. She was Trevecca's Valentine Queen this year. Student Council representatives, Phil Bowles from Louisville, Kentucky, and Jordan Conger of Tifton, Georgia, have both served on the Student Council this past year. Jordy was vice president of Student Council and Phil was Junior class representative.

Elected as officers for next year's Junior Class were: president, Ken Davis of Langley, South Carolina; Dale Taylor of Durham, North Carolina; secretary, Esther Carey from Manchester, Tennessee; treasurer, Becky Boswell of Charleston, West Virginia. Student Council representatives are Fred Huff of Rossville, Georgia and Terrell Sanders, from Charlotte, North Carolina.

Officers for next year's Sophomore Class are to be the following: president, Gary Parrish of Tallahassee, Florida; vice president, Tim Brazelton from Owensville, Indiana; secretary, Linda Muecke of Macon, Georgia; and treasurer, Judy Chambers of Homestead, Florida. Elected to hold the offices of Student Council representatives were Lois Henson of West Virginia and Lawrence Golden of Charlottesville, Virginia.

Officers for the 1970-'71 Freshman Class will be elected next fall during Freshman Orientation activities.

SPRING REACTION

Perhaps it is just spring fever, but there is in general an air of optimism and promise in the smoggy environment of the Trevecca "Hill."

As the "end of it all" nears, as is customary, reflections and projections are made on the past and the future. Such is the predicament of this editorial.

At last student opinion has been taken seriously as the college prepares for a new food service for the coming academic year. Students were given the privilege and the responsibility to choose the food service that they preferred.

But there are other areas of noticeable improvement. With the new words "full accreditation" it is possible to make Trevecca more alluring to new students and new money. Potential application figures indicate a healthy enrollment for the 1970-71 year. A new financial campaign may also prove profitable. Additional qualified faculty members indicate a more balanced curriculum offering.

The big T-N-C planted at the flag pole indicates a general improvement in the esthetic value of the Trevecca grounds. For once the lawn mowers are attempting to keep up with the grass.

Further improvements in student services are also indicated. It is highly likely that at least some remodeling of the cafeteria will take place this summer. Also, a new apartment dorm is planned to aid expected over-crowded dorms and to aid married Trevecca students.

Also underway is Coach Representative Boner's "really big" basketball team recruitment. With a much larger basketball schedule and an expanding intercollegiate athletic program, there will be plenty happening for most sport enthusiasts.

Student quality is even improving. For once most Trevecca students were stimulated to do some thinking over the recent Kent State University incident. It's really refreshing to occasionally take the mind off the "Hill." And of course it must be said here, that an eager Student Government is developing to serve students with more complete effectiveness.

Just as the spring season brings new life to the earth and an air of hope, Trevecca may also be experiencing a spring season.

Sketch by Martha Sartini

The old-fashioned pleats, tucks, gathering and smocking have now become new-fashioned. The fine detail makes this fashion tick.

There has always been something special and feminine about a dress with gathers, tucks and pleats. Somehow it seems fragile but not to fussy.

This fashion looks especially becoming on the tiny girl. It gives the impression of a clean, fresh little-girl look.

The dress looks good in cotton for class or knit for those special occasions.

For the free feeling of summer, swing into pleats. For the fragile look of spring, step into a dress with tucks and gathers. All three are guaranteed to be eye catchers.

just being a S.M.D. S.M.C.er."

"Of all the people I met this past summer, one couple sticks out particularly in my mind—The Lyle Prescotts. Living with them was an experience I shall never experience in Guyana was when I spent a week in a village known as Friendship."

"I was sent by the missionaries to go to this area alone, live with the nationals, and hold a series of ten evangelistic services. From the very beginning this week promised to be challenging in every respect. It was a challenge to live with the nationals, eat Guinease food, and try to understand their modes of living. But the most significant challenge that was to come was the challenge against sin that the Holy Spirit overcame as He worked in the hearts and lives of the people there."

Linda Sartin had the privilege of going to two countries, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, and has this to say about her trip: "It's hard to describe in a few words the most wonderful summer of your life. It's hard to relay the excitement of eating fried bananas, struggling with the Spanish language, bargaining in the market, catching a shark, witnessing

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WNAZ-AM?

Dear Editor:

"This is WNAZ-FM, the voice of Trevecca Nazarene College, 88.9 on your FM dial," or so goes one of the identification spots for our college radio station, WNAZ-FM. In the opinion of one who worked regularly at the station for two quarters, this so-called "voice of Trevecca" seemed extremely weak, and I will go so far as to say that it is scarcely heard off the campus. In fact, many Nazarenes in the Nashville area are unaware that Trevecca even has a radio station.

My particular gripes are these: First, the radio station is presently under the jurisdiction of the English department, which apparently has not realized the potential of the station. I believe that the station should be put under the control of the Public Relations department where the message of Trevecca and the Word of God could reach more people. There is much dissatisfaction among the students about the way in which the administration is handling public relations, and about the way that its obsession with the Encounters has seemingly resulted in the "death" of three excellent groups, namely, the Treble-Tones, the ACappella Choir, and Men's Glee Club. It is my belief that if all the time, effort, and money that has been spent on the Encounters had been put into the radio station, it could now be reaching more people than the Encounters ever will. Second: In order for WNAZ to become an effective means of reaching people two things will have to happen: (1) WNAZ-FM will have to become WNAZ-AM for several reasons: there are more AM receivers than FM receivers, they are cheaper and easier to obtain, and the listening audience for AM stations is greater than that for FM stations, and (2) the format of WNAZ will have to be restructured to suit both the needs and desires of the students and the general listening audience. Students will listen to the station if a program appeals to them. This was evidenced by the interest in the recent interviews with the candidates for STUCO officers. As the format is now, it is no competition for such stations as WMAK, WKDA, WLAC and others.

I believe that Trevecca students would like to see their radio station become an important means of spreading the Gospel and telling people about Trevecca. I only wish that the administration would open its eyes and realize the tremendous potential of the radio station and take advantage of it. WNAZ is a young radio station and like a young child it must be nurtured and encouraged during its early developmental years. If this doesn't happen, then the "voice of Trevecca" will first grow weak, then indistinguishable, then fade out altogether. That voice is weak now. Is the administration content to do nothing and watch that voice fade into obscurity?

Sincerely,
Lamar Bradley

THE DROPOUT

Frank was a teenage runaway, an Italian kid. He was a real cool guy—he "grooved" on trees, on birds, and on people. But his parents were worried and embarrassed. They had worked hard and now had a good life, and here Frank was going around with a bunch of dropouts. He didn't bathe often, he went barefoot, he even panhandled for food. Finally, Frank was discovered breaking into his father's warehouse and giving things out free. His old man took him to court. In a fit of pique, Frank stripped off his clothes, threw them at his father's feet, and stomped out of the courtroom, stark naked. Well, Frank didn't run away to Haight-Ashbury, for there was no San Francisco then, but as St. Francis of Assisi, he gave his name to San Francisco.

TROJAN HORSE SENSE

By John Teter

"We want more voice in school affairs!" "We want to have more participation in the decisions which concern us!" These and similar statements are heard from many of our students. It seems that we are really concerned and ready to take part in the affairs of Trevecca. Some recent occurrences, however, give reasons to doubt that we really are. "Give us more responsibility, but do not ask me to take it" seems to be our attitude.

Sure, there are still the same few who will take part, give their time and energy and see that the job is done. The disturbing question is why are so many willing to let someone else do all the work? What do we really want when we ask the Administration for a larger voice in the affairs that concern us? Are we just wanting to make noise or are we willing to take part and work? How can we expect serious consideration to be given to our request for more responsibility when we do not use what we have?

The recent elections found two major STUCO offices and six class positions uncontested. Is this an indication of our interest and willingness to take part? Most club and class meetings are poorly attended and many activities fail to achieve much due to lack of participation. Is this how we accept our opportunities and show

Lasting Memories of a Summer Experience

By Rodonna Guy

The weather was hot, the emotion was stirred with excitement and the word of God was pressed on all the lips of the S.M.C.'ers. Leaving Trevecca they first stopped off in Kansas City to receive four days of culture training. Linda Sartin was the only one to have extensive language training at Bethany. They left with a hope that they could extend to the people the joy which God had given to them.

JoAnne Fullwood, S.M.C.'er to Trinidad makes these comments on her trip; "The two areas which I found most exciting in all our work in Trinidad were the Vacation Bible Schools and the Impact Team."

"One week we held two Bible Schools, one in the morning and one at night. This was one of the busiest weeks we had."

Our Impact Team worked many weeks on effective witnessing and music, preparing for a week which became the most interesting and exciting week of the whole summer."

"During the afternoon, we went up and down the streets singing and stopping at every door telling people of Christ and inviting them to our services."

"In everything we did, I saw more and more, that it isn't the money we have, the house we live in, the clothes we wear, or the color of our skin that matters—what really matters is that God is Love."

James Hicks was sent to Guyana, South America and has these remarks to make; "The Student Missionary Corps is one of the most exciting programs of the Church of the Nazarene. Every day of the summer has its own unique experience to add to one's life. One of my most memorable to a Puerto Rican and a Virgin Islander, living with 5 missionary families, going through customs, singing, preaching, scrubbing floors, typing and most of all

Gavel Garble

By Charles Davis

Within the last couple of weeks, there has arisen an issue or two of controversy among our students. When we finally voiced an opinion as individuals, we found that we are not as homogeneous a group as we thought. But, differing opinions is a healthy sign and by no means indicates disunity. Rather, several opinions being expressed on any one subject is an essential tool in education. Thus, these last two weeks have been very thought provoking and hopefully educational.

However, there are some who misinterpret this atmosphere. They see dissension as disunity. They would offer that such ideas or actions that create such a spirit should be unexpressed, thus preserving our sacred oneness. The point overlooked, it seems, is that in reality we are in harmony with one another usually in purpose or goal. What we must carefully avoid is letting our differences blind us from our similarities. This is often the result of that over-worked description, a communication breakdown. Personally, these last two weeks have caused me to stop time and time again, think over both sides, look for similarities, and then hopefully try to find ways of expressing our unity behind our similar purposes.

forget. I was sent there to help in V.B.S. They expected 200 children. The only workers that were available were 4 S.M.C.ers. — Louie and Ellen Bustle, Nellinda Purtee, and myself, and of course the Prescotts. In the day we had V.B.S. and at night we were conducting a revival in a nearby mission. S.M.C.ers were completely in charge. The days were long and exhausting but hardly a day went by when Bro. P (as we called him) didn't take us fishing in the ocean. Sometimes it would be 10:00 or 11:00 at night, after a hard day of V.B.S. and revival, but he tried to go everyday. Once this past summer he told me that he felt the closest to God when he was at the ocean. Whenever anything was troubling him he would go down to the ocean and talk it over with God. A few weeks ago on one of his trips to the ocean a large wave came and swept him out to sea. He went to meet his Maker. He had always made a practice to sell his fish and put the money in the Alabaster Box, but there won't be anymore fish money for the Alabaster Box. Soon new missionaries will go and continue the work that the Prescotts began.

"In the mind of this 1969 S.M.C.er will always be the memory of an unforgettable summer and a special missionary that liked to fish!"

Finally the months of work drew to a close. God had worked in marvelous ways using the S.M.C.ers. They flew into Florida for a debriefing and then went back to their normal lives. But it would be unfair to call their lives normal because these four are not the usual, but the unique. They applied the person for God to use and God worked through them in a most unique way.

our willingness to become involved? Are we to seem rather than to be?

But now the elections are over, so how can we shoulder some responsibility now? Class and club activities still need people to work. Our classroom studies still need careful attention. We still need to show more pride in our facilities and take better care of them. These are all little things, but can go a long way toward showing that we are willing to shoulder added responsibilities.

If we begin to show interest in these and other areas, then we can ask for a larger voice in the school affairs and expect a serious consideration of our requests. This will only come, however, after we take a long look at ourselves, ask what we really want and live "to be rather than to seem."

Williamson-Moore Commencement Speakers

Dr. G. B. Williamson, General Superintendent Emeritus, Church of the Nazarene, is to be the Commencement speaker on Monday, June 8. The Commencement exercises are to be conducted at 10:00 a.m. in the college of Physical Education Center.

Junior-Senior Planned For May 30

The annual Junior-Senior Banquet, sponsored by the Junior Class, will be held on May 30, 1970 at 8:00 in the evening. The banquet is to be held at the downtown Holiday Inn, overlooking the capitol. The theme for the event is to be "The Impossible Dream," and the speaker for the evening will be Mr. Bob Abernathy, Director of Field Services and Extension at Middle Tennessee State University.

The banquet is limited to Juniors and Seniors and their dates. All Seniors will be guests of the Junior Class. Tickets for all others will be $4.00 per person, and pictures will be $3.75 for all persons. This includes two 5"x7" photographs and two wallet-sized pictures.

Business Office To Get New Accountant

On June 15, 1970, David E. Minnix will join the Trevecca staff as Supervisor-Accounting in the Business Office. Mr. Minnix was an honor graduate of Trevecca, 1968, and was the recipient of the Outstanding Business Student for that year.

Currently Mr. Minnix is employed by the State of Kentucky in their Accounting Department. Mr. Minnix is married to the former Sharon Callihan, a graduate of Trevecca, class of 1967. They have one child.

FAILING GRADES NO LONGER KEPT AT LINFIELD

Failing grades need no longer appear on a student's transcript at Linfield College. The faculty has passed a measure to make a student's transcript a record of satisfactory completion of requirements.

The student now has the option of dropping a course at any time, even within 60 days after a final examination, and having the record of his enrollment removed from this transcript at his request.

The innovation is one which has also been adopted recently at Brown University. The philosophy behind this move is that a record of failure often precludes another chance in education or lessons acceptability in graduate school or employment.

The record of failure often conceals personal difficulties which have nothing to do with the potential to complete academic requirements satisfactorily, Linfield believes. Dr. Gordon C. Bjork, Linfield president, says, "We ought to rely on positive incentives and creative teaching to inspire superior performance."

Linfield will require a 2.0 average for graduation and that a student be suspended for failure to complete fewer than five courses by the end of the first year, 10 courses by the end of the second year, 15 courses by the end of the third year, and 20 courses by the end of the fourth year. This would allow a student to complete his academic work in nine semesters, rather than eight, with no academic penalty.

The number of courses required above applies after the fall of 1970 when Linfield goes on the three courses per semester system.

Trevecca's second annual Track and Field Day will be held May 16 and is to be sponsored by the Circle K Club. The day will commence at 8:00 a.m. with the 100 yard dash followed by the 440 yard run, the mile run, and the relay 880.

Other categories will include the shot put, broad jump, high jump, and weight lifting. Women's events will include the softball throw, 100 yard dash and the shot put.

An entrance fee will be charged of 50¢ per event or $2.00 for all events. Medals will be given to first place entries for men and ribbons for first place women and second and third place men winners.

Those wishing to participate must register with a Circle K member.

Golf Team Stands 3-5-1 Record

Trevecca's golf team has now played nine matches of their twelve-match season. With a win and a loss in the last two games, the season record now stands at 3-5-1.

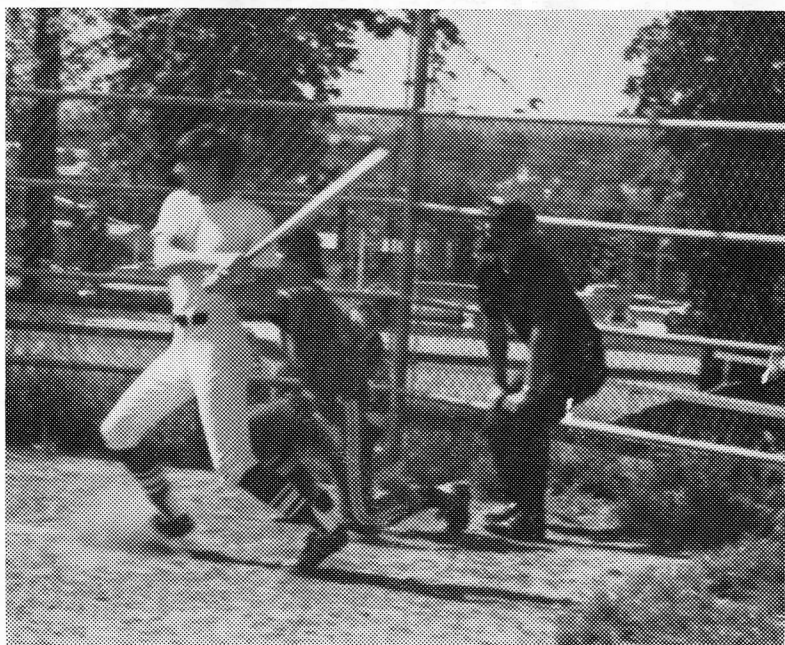

In the three-team match involving Trevecca, Belmont, and David Lipscomb, the competition was tough. Trevecca was low team as the match ended with Lipscomb coming out in top place, Belmont in second, and Trevecca in third. Bobby Black was low-shooter for Trevecca with a 77. Gray followed with a 79.

Trevecca fared better in a match with Lee College of Cleveland, Tennessee. The Trevecca team handed them a 16½-1½ defeat. Black and Gray were again the low shooters, each having a 77 which was five over par.

The team has high hopes for continued success at the last three matches of the season are played.

INTRAMURALS FACE SEASON FINALS

Beta Jim Quiggins connects for one of his three hits as the Betas outscore the Deltas 13-11.

By Dennis Snodgrass

DELTA CRUSH GAMMAS 20 TO 4

Three Gamma pitchers were eaten alive by Delta bats as they pounded them for 11 hits and 20 runs. The Gamma pitchers also gave up nine walks and hit four batters while their teammates made three errors in only five innings.

The game was plagued with minor injuries as many felt the sting of flying softballs. The Gammas looked like the New York Mets of years ago as they did everything wrong while they took their beating.

GAMMAS SLIP BY ALPHAS

The Gammas scored one run in the first on Joe Bullock's home run and five in the fourth to gain a 6 to 5 victory over the Alphas. The Gammas collected seven hits and made only one error.

It was a tight game all the way as both teams played good ball. The Alphas out hit the Gammas with ten hits but they made two errors which proved to be the difference in the game. Preston Ponce had the hot bat for the day as he went three for three at the plate.

ALPHAS FALL TO BETAS

The Alpha Society hampered with a lack of players (8) fell to the Beta Society 11 to 9 in a close game that was not decided till the last out in the bottom of the seventh. The Alphas fighting all the way had men on base when the last out was made.

The Alphas collected six hits and nine runs and made four errors, while the Betas had seven hits, eleven runs and three errors.

BETAS DOWN DELTAS

It was a close hard hitting game, but when the dust cleared the Beta Society had out scored the Deltas 13 to 11 for another victory.

The Betas drew first blood scoring five runs in the first inning. The Deltas tied the score 6 to 6 before the Betas went ahead to stay. Jim Quiggins and Randy Smith led the Betas with three hits each. William Hassell led the Deltas with four hits and fine base running.

WINBUSH FIRES NO HITTER GAMMAS STOMP BETAS

Mike Winbush fired the first no hitter of the season against the Betas. However the Betas scored five runs on 16 walks and one error. Winbush's control left something to be desired.

The Gamma hitters bombed Beta pitching for 14 hits and 17 runs in their 17 to 5 victory. The Beta defense was not up to par as they made seven errors. It was the Gammas first victory over the Betas in three years.

DELTA DROP ALPHAS 10 TO 2

Ted Hill held the Alpha Society to two hits and two runs as the Deltas defeated the Alphas 10 to 12. Meanwhile Hill's teammates were collecting 12 hits and 10 runs to clinch another victory for their ace hurler.

The Alphas who have been having problems this year made 12 errors, six of them in the first inning when the Deltas scored five runs. The Alphas had only eight players. Looks like a few more Alpha men could give them their support.
