A Liturgy of Self Understanding and Commitment

Unison:

In the presence of God, we acknowledge our heritage, affirm our faith in the Gospel,
and commit ourselves to God's purposes for us as an institution of higher learning of that part of the Universal Church called the Church of the Nazarene.

Students:

We are the Church—

we come out of many backgrounds and conditions, but we seek to live in harmony with each other.

We are the Church engaged in a specific and temporary vocation.

We are students.

Precious
Years of our lives will be spent here under the tutorship and influence of this school.

We desire to know, therefore,
What are her aims and goals.

President:

Our goals are very high but they are more than paper and ink to me and the administration.

We believe that the goals and objectives of Trevecca College are profoundly relevant to the needs of students precisely because they affirm those personal and spiritual values which alone can heal and sustain our human society.

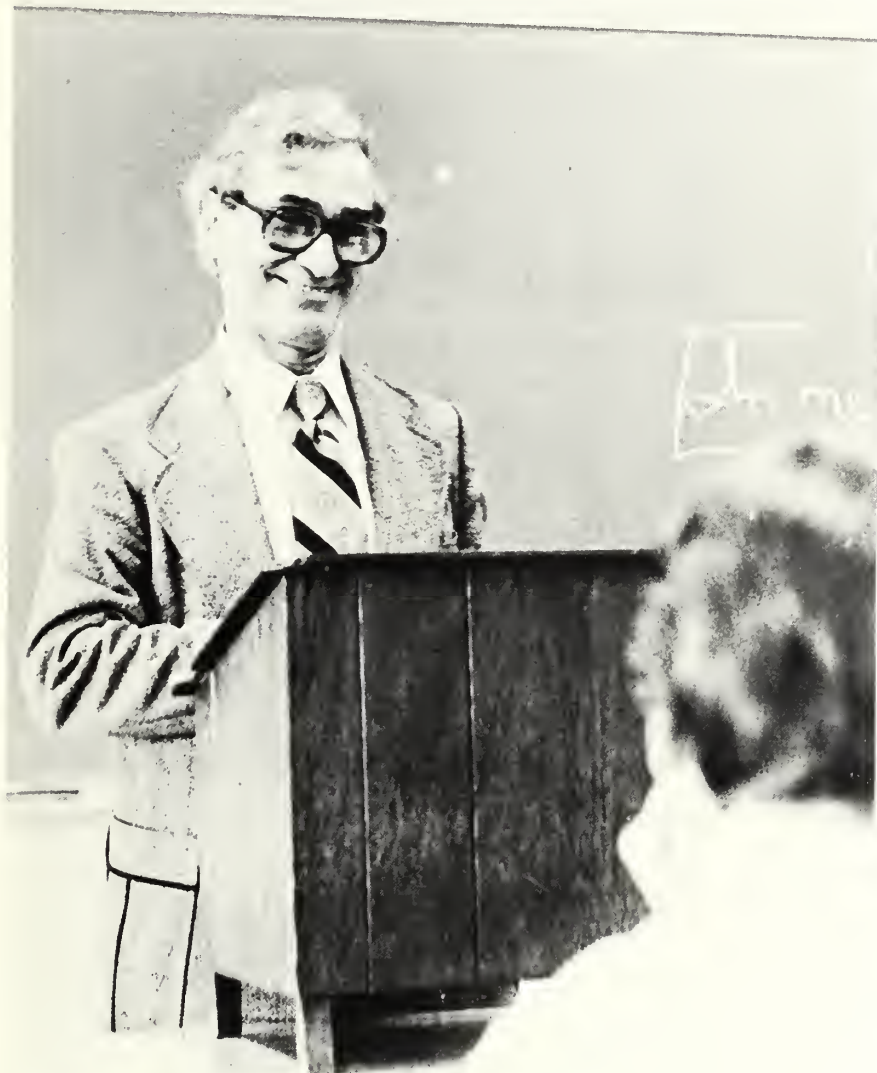

Faculty and Administration:

We offer the students ourselves as Christian persons, and give all that we are, as Christian scholars and educators we give to you.

We seek to be growing scholars in our several disciplines.

We seek to be growing Christian persons, involved with you and for you in the learning process.

Dean:

We offer you,
the students, purposeful instruction and creative participation of the classroom and lecture hall.

We recognize that our proving ground is the classroom.

We are nothing if we are not a college, a Christian college.

We realize that the profound difference between secular and Christian education is found, finally, in the teaching encounter.

We pledge to you our best efforts there, and will seek to present a broad range of the arts and the sciences within the framework of the Christian world view.

Dean of Students:
We offer you
the enrichment and the discipline of community living.

The purpose of all campus regulations is to foster adjustment
and cooperation in the development of a serious
learning community.
No regulations will knowingly be made which

tend to undermine self-respect,
or to place unnatural distance between teacher and student.

Chaplain:

We offer regular chapel meetings for prayer and worship, for instruction in the Faith, and for the sharing of common community concerns.

Times of devotion, times of evangelism, times for public sharing of our faith—all these are integral to the purpose of Trevecca College.

Faculty and Administration:

Through the academic disciplines of the humanities and sciences, the creative expression of the arts, the team spirit of athletics, dormitory and campus associations, involvement in prayer and Bible study groups—through these and a hundred other ways we seek to teach, to train, to influence, to build into your lives the goals to which we have a common commitment.

Students:

We have heard you speak of the goals and ideals of this college. We honor the men and women whose faith and commitment have brought the school into being and sustained it through her history.

But we cannot dedicate our lives to the goals and dreams of other people in other times.

We are not content to perpetuate a heritage.

We believe in the God of today who is the God of the future.

What of the present?

What of the future?

Faculty and Administration:

We recognize that the present is the focus of all that there is.

It is holy ground.

It holds all the past and from it all the future must come.

We honor the past, for we need the wisdom of its perspective.

But we are committed to the present and in faith we look to the future.

We have made the goals of this college our own by our free and personal commitment.

They no longer symbolize the past for us.

They call us to deep and disciplined involvement in the present and in the future.

We now challenge you to make this same free and personal commitment.

We ask you, as partners with us in this fellowship of learning: Will you be loyal to the spirit and purpose of this institution?

Student:

By the help of God, we will.

But we ask you to remember that we are not here to be formed into yesterday's molds.

We ask you to release to be our real selves and to be patient with us as we grow toward maturity.

We must make our own personal search for truth.

Our commitment is real, but sometimes it wavers and never is it perfect.

Do not ask too much of us too soon.

Faculty:

We ask you, in turn, to be patient with us.

We, too, are learning what real maturity means.

We have not lived in this generation before.

It is as new to us as it is to you.

Nevertheless we affirm the value of our Christian college in today's world.

We affirm the saving relevance of the Christian Gospel to the deep needs of modern man.

We affirm the significance of our community in a fragmented and pluralistic society.

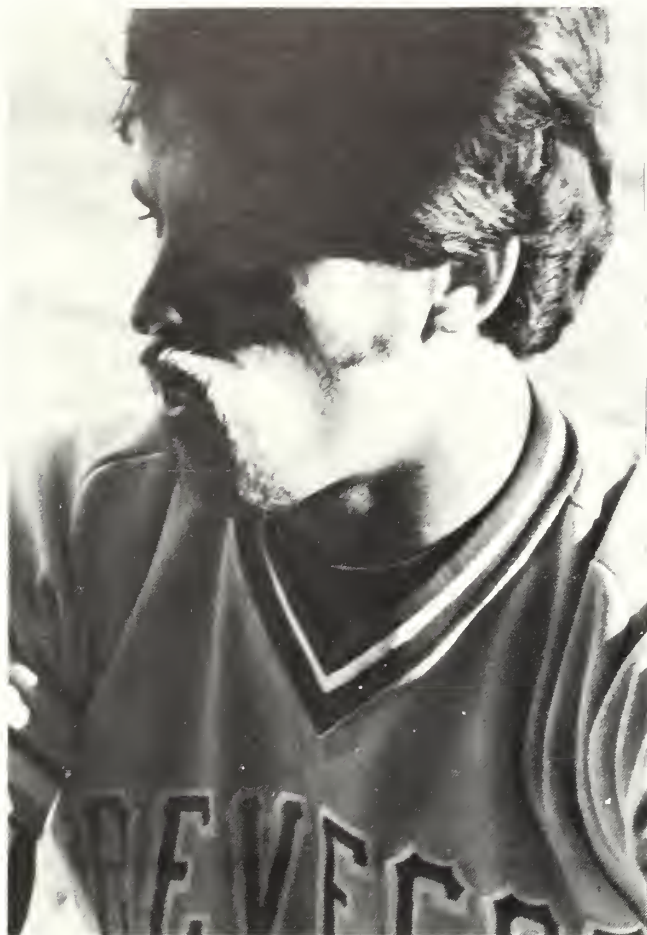

We affirm Trevecca College.

We want you to join us in this affirmation, and accept with joy both the privileges and the responsibilities involved.

Students:

We recognize that as a Christian fellowship, we are one.
We realize that as a community of learners, we are one.
We join you, then, in sincere commitment to our common goals.

Chaplain:

We now face a difficult moment.
We have stated our goals and objectives and have renewed our commitment to them.
Yet, we know that neither the institution nor the student body will always live up to the promises made this day.
Our human-ness is with us now.

Failure is waiting at the door.

How, then shall we proceed?

We shall proceed with both repentance
and resolution!

With both concern and faith!

Let there be among us

a new quality of mutual trust,
mutual respect,
mutual forgiveness.

Let no one

“Think of himself more highly than he ought to think,

but to think with sober judgment,

each according to the measure of faith which God has assigned him. For as in one body we have many members, and all members do not have the same function, so we, though many, are one body in Christ, and individually members
one of another.” (Romans 12:3-5)

Unison:

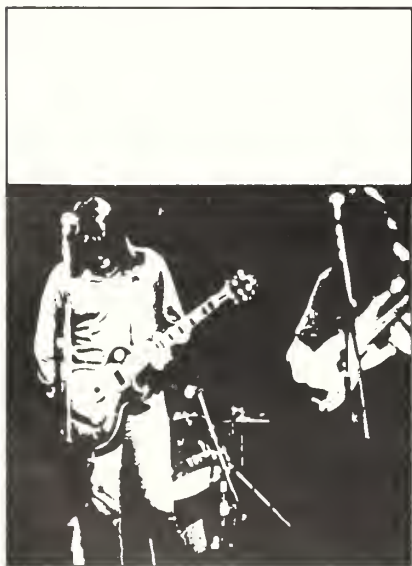

“Now to him who by the power at work within us is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus to all generations, forever and ever. Amen.

(Ephesians 3:20-21)

Dr. Homer J.

Adams

Friday, March 2, Dr. Homer Adams gave his first official address to the Student Body as their President.

During the chapel service he shared one of his major goals—that of entirely eliminating Trevecca's short term debt.

In an interview with the new president, Adams stated that he also wants to begin as soon as possible to work on the building of the new student chapel.

Adams also shares former President Mark Moore's hope to close the streets which cut through the TNC campus.

The priorities of the new president include both a balanced budget and a strong, spiritual atmosphere on campus.

Dr. Adams stated that he wanted Trevecca to maintain her high standards of Christian influence, so as to be of fullest service to the churches of the denomination across the Southeastern Zone.

Adams had been commuting from his home in Stone Mountain, Georgia, to Trevecca.

Wednesday, the 7th, an Atlas van was seen near the President's home as it was filled with new furniture.

Adams received his A.B. degree from Trevecca Nazarene College in 1947. He then went on to complete his Master's degree and Ph.D. and became the first Trevecca graduate to earn a doctorate.

Adams graduated from the Navy Midshipman School in 1944 with the commission of Ensign of the naval reserve.

He has served as both high school teacher and principal, as well as dean and college professor in the field of history.

For the past three years, Adams has served as Vice President and Chief Administrator of DeKalb Community College.

Adams is also a member of the Kiwanis Club.

Dear Student,

Self-understanding and commitment are powerful words. Socrates said, "know thyself" and Solomon warned, "Lean not unto thine own understanding." Were these two wise men in contradiction with one another? Probably not.

One of the pleasant pursuits of higher education is to learn to know one's self. This is accomplished by taking certain courses, engaging in reflective, prayerful thought, and soliciting guidance from friends. You might gain a frank revelation regarding a flaw in your personality from someone you did not know was your friend. You have probably noticed that brothers and sisters will give unsolicited analysis of your faults. Learn to accept truth wherever you find it, painful as it may be in its initial stages. To face one's need for improvement frankly and taking systematic steps toward achieving this goal is an evidence of maturity.

A favorite topic in college circles these days is "student-development." The term "Dean of Student Development" has gained usage in some colleges. This indicates a concern that we in Nazarene Colleges hold, that the college experience be one of development for students, development physically, mentally, socially and spiritually. Moreover faculty members and administrators learn right along with you and, indeed, through you. As you gain self-understanding and use this insight for personal improvement you are on the road to being an educated person.

One of the noblest words in the English language is "COMMITMENT." This is defined as, "a pledge or promise binding one emotionally and intellectually to a course of action." In a Christian college, your commitment should be made to:

A Life-Long Search for Truth.

When you and I view the vast sea of knowledge into which we have scarcely embarked, we are prone to breathe the sailor's prayer, "Oh, Lord, thy sea is so great and my boat is so small."

A Sense of Responsibility.

Much of the trouble in the world can be traced to man's unwillingness, or inability to assume a rightful responsibility—the need to defend the right and cry out against wrong. A strong sense of responsibility leads us into paths of service.

Total Commitment To A Faith Centered in Christ.

The most important thing on earth is to be totally committed to Christ and to live a life that makes the world a better place because you passed this way. Christianity is personal but not private. We must share our Christian faith or lose it. Christianity is not just what you believe but whom you have received.

I trust that all Trevecca students will seek the wisdom of self-understanding and live with total commitment to Christ our Lord.

Sincerely yours,

Homer J. Adams

President Moore Resigns Takes Position in Kansas City

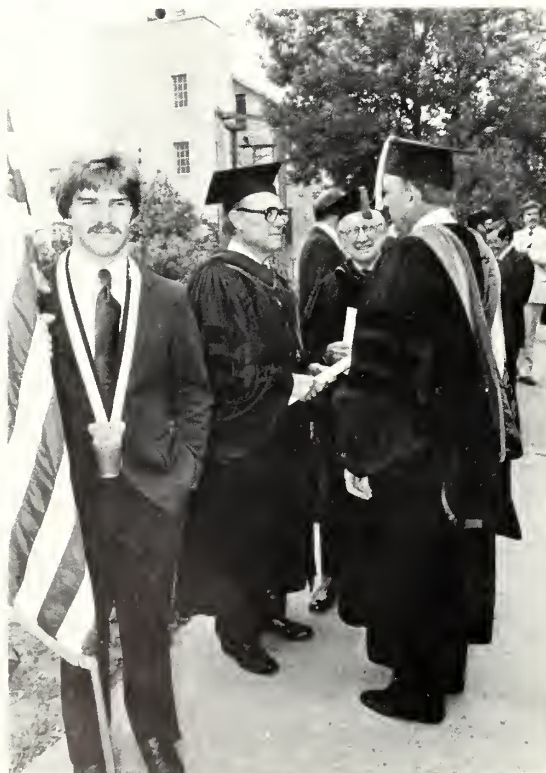

FEBRUARY 8, 1979

At the farewell banquet Mrs. Moore receives a gift from the Trevecca Women's Club. Behind Mrs. Moore is her son Brad.

Quite a few changes since 1968, as these photos portray the dress changes, accomplishments (above right—celebration for the accreditation) and personalities.

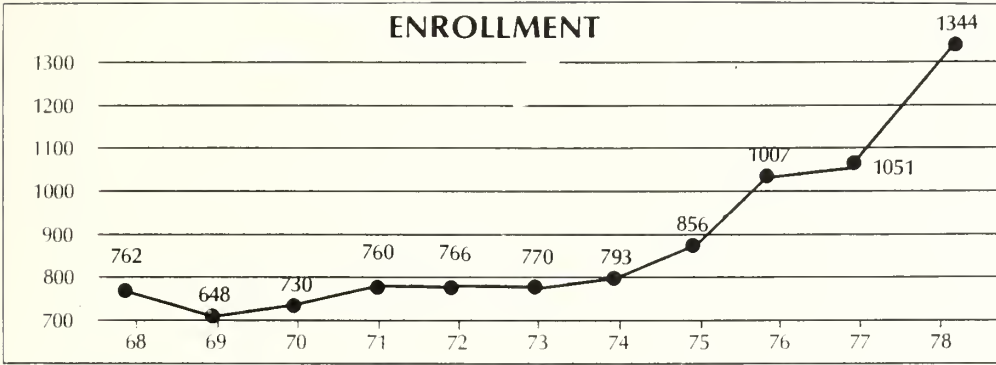

The snow that halted the city of Nashville seemed to have little effect on the number of people that filled the banquet hall. Faculty, Staff, Administrators and friends of the college gathered to honor Dr. and Mrs. Mark R. Moore. Over the past ten years Dr. Moore served as their president, but more than that, he and Clarice served as their friends.

It was a difficult task to wrap ten years of "Thank You's" into a bundle, or to engrave on a gold plaque the feelings of all the lives that had been touched. Difficult as it was, several individuals were chosen to do just that. Dr. Charles C. Childers led the way by presenting a tribute from the faculty in his inimitable style. He described Dr. Moore as a dedicated man of courage with a saving sense of humor. Closing his tribute he stated, "Dr. Moore has a human touch which helps us to see the ordinary human being peeking through whatever official dignity he may be clothed in."

Ken Price interjected humor throughout his tribute, but spoke sincerely, "I feel that Dr. Moore has elevated the staff position at Trevecca College to a position of importance where one can have a high level of self-dignity." Claude Diehl, as an Administrator, entitled his remarks "A decade with one of God's true Churchmen." He referred to Dr. Moore's administration as one of optimism and vision. Toby Williams, as director of East Campus, thanked Dr. Moore for not only allowing him to serve TNC but, in his words, "Having enough confidence to throw me in the midst of East Campus and say 'Go at it!'"

Dr. Moore has always been close to the heartbeats of the student body. Student body president, Byron Middendorf referred to Dr. Moore's dedication and concern for the community of Trevecca. He specifically said that the understanding between the students and Administration had been caused by the openness between the two.

Representing the Alumni, Herb McMillian remembered Dr. Moore's academic accomplishments when he said, "You helped bring us academic credibility. We feel pride and we are grateful."

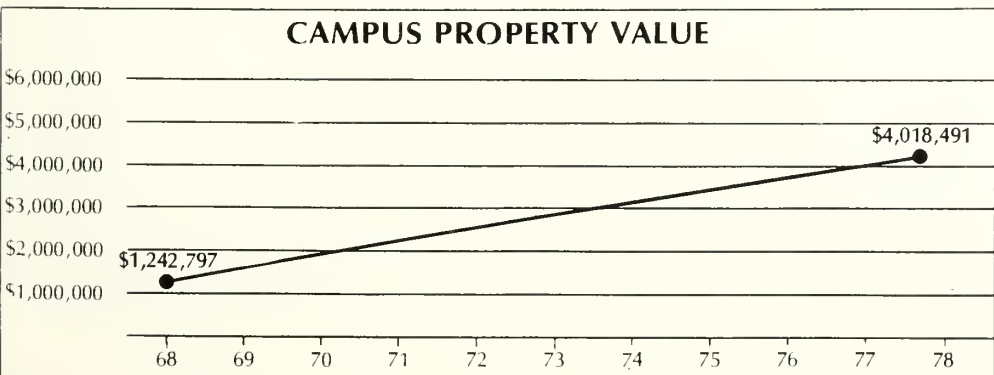

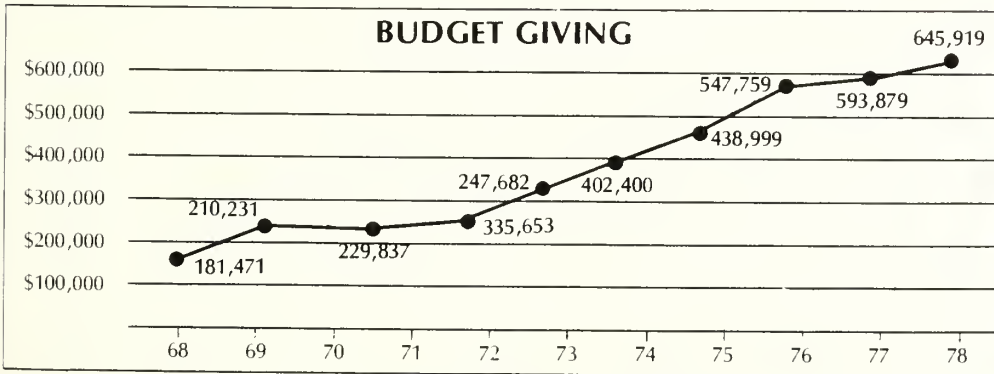

It was a night of honor for Dr. Moore, but every presenter realized that a large part of the President's success was due to the lady that sat next to him. Mrs. Moore, was presented with a special gift from Mrs. Pauletta Janaway who represented the Trevecca Women's Club.

Bringing the time of tributes to a close, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Dr. H. Harvey Hendershot, presented Dr. and Mrs. Moore with a check for $1,000 from all of the districts on the educational zone. A plaque was also presented which read, "Deepest appreciation to President and Mrs. Mark R. Moore in recognition of dedicated service to church and college."

As Dr. Hendershot finished reading those words the standing ovation seemed to signify that everyone was in full agreement. Many of those present had been with Dr. Moore his full tenure as president. Even those who had been at TNC for a short time had seen Dr. Moore's love for and dedication to the college.

It was time for Dr. Moore to address the Trevecca community one final time. Never again would that group be together just as it was. The President approached the podium with confidence. The same confidence displayed during his tenure as President. He told of a gentleman that had asked him what his greatest contribution was to Trevecca. He replied, "the greatest contribution that I made was not so much the buildings that were built ... or the finances that were raised ... but it was the spirit I tried to leave. That spirit of working together, of creative vision and a positive approach." He was not without emotion as he spoke of the Trevecca family. He mentioned how it had wrapped its fingers around their hearts. His love for TNC was very evident throughout his closing remarks as it had always been throughout his tenure as president. Dr. Moore spoke of the past ten years, the accomplishments that had taken place, and the philosophy of his administration. While he reminded all of the past, he looked toward a bright future with the new president.

Anyone spending any amount of time with Mark R. Moore knew by heart the statement he would conclude with. It had been his motto and his reply to many on several occasions. "Do what you can ... with what you have ... where you are ..." He left those words as encouragement and as a challenge to the Faculty, Staff, and Administration as they looked forward to the days that were ahead of them.

For more than a decade TNC was privileged to have Mrs. Mark R. Moore as her "First Lady." Without reservation, she loved Trevecca. She graced every occasion with a quiet dignity. We'll never forget the Bus Campaign and the thousands of trading stamps collected. Under her leadership the Trevecca Women's Club was organized. Because of her dream a cookbook was published to honor the 75th anniversary and the proceeds went to purchase handbells to form our Handbell Choir. Some of her other endeavors were the "I Care" campaign, Bloodmobile, Clinic, and Campus Beautification. She loved the Trevecca Community.

Dale Crum and Pat Stevens participate in the communion service.

First two weeks are busy with orientation & convocation & concert & Fine Arts Retreat

Bob Brower, professor in Communications, offers advice and answers questions for students and parents, at a reception which was part of the orientation for freshmen and new students.

One of the first duties that the new chaplain Bill Boggs undertook was an outdoors communion service.

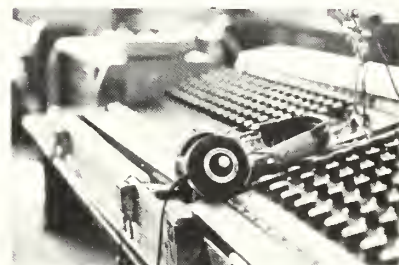

Chuck Lovell and John Hobson act out a song.

Prof. Barbara McClain was the coordinator of the Fine Arts Retreat held at the Tenn. District Center in Dickson. Saturday included many hours of choir and band rehearsals. Choral Society practiced their upcoming presentation of "Greater Is He" which was performed at the Homecoming Concert. They did not have to work all day. Some of the activities included volleyball, exercises, and drama. After each group had performed for the rest, the drive back to "the hill" followed, leaving behind some fond memories.

In their return performance, PETRA presented a very impressive show that the audience seemed to enjoy. Their "Jesus rock" style was apparently popular. The concert began with the title cut from their latest album, "Come Join Us." Most of the concert's program were songs from that album written by Bob Hartman, lead guitarist Steve McElyea, (left) on the Keyboards, was the most impressive of the group with his fantastic style with stage ethics. The group used a combination of 50's, 60's "funky" rock ("Holy Ghost Power"), and Spanish songs.

Rat Days Make Memories

To the present sophomores, Trevecca's 1977-78 Rat Days are an amalgamation of pleasant and not so pleasant memories. During the dates (Sept. 21-22) designated "Freshmen Recognition" the sophomores find themselves on the other side of the fence—as this year's freshmen undergo the annual, zany Rat Days in the hands of the experienced.

Rat Days kicked off with a banquet in the cafeteria for the freshmen. It was there that the neophytes were informed the name of their "big sister" or "big brother"—the one sophomore who would be their partner-in-peril through to the following night. They were also presented the Freshman Fight Song.

Thursday, September 21, is a wild Dress-Up Day, Beanies are sold to the freshmen (source of revenue for the sophomore class) to be worn that special day. They are asked (or required perhaps) to attend classes dressed in outlandish costumes inside-out clothes, painted faces,—creations of their big brothers and sisters. Thursday's festivities continued with a freshmen picnic and concluded with a cartoon marathon in the McClurkan Auditorium.

David Tucker and Sheri Acheson survived Rat Days to be an important part of our campus.

Did Sandra Goodin, sophomore, send this freshmen girl to whisper sweet nothings in this young man's ear?

The freshmen class seemed to have taken their time on deciding who they would elect as their officers. Finally, after three sets of ballots were cast, Mike Johnson from Mississippi was elected president. (Mike is one of our five district superintendent's sons who attended Trevecca this year.) Finley Knowles and Kim King were elected class representatives on Student Council. The other three officers, elected on a second ballot, included Chonda Courtney as vice-president; Sheila Apple as secretary; and Nancy Nickell as treasurer.

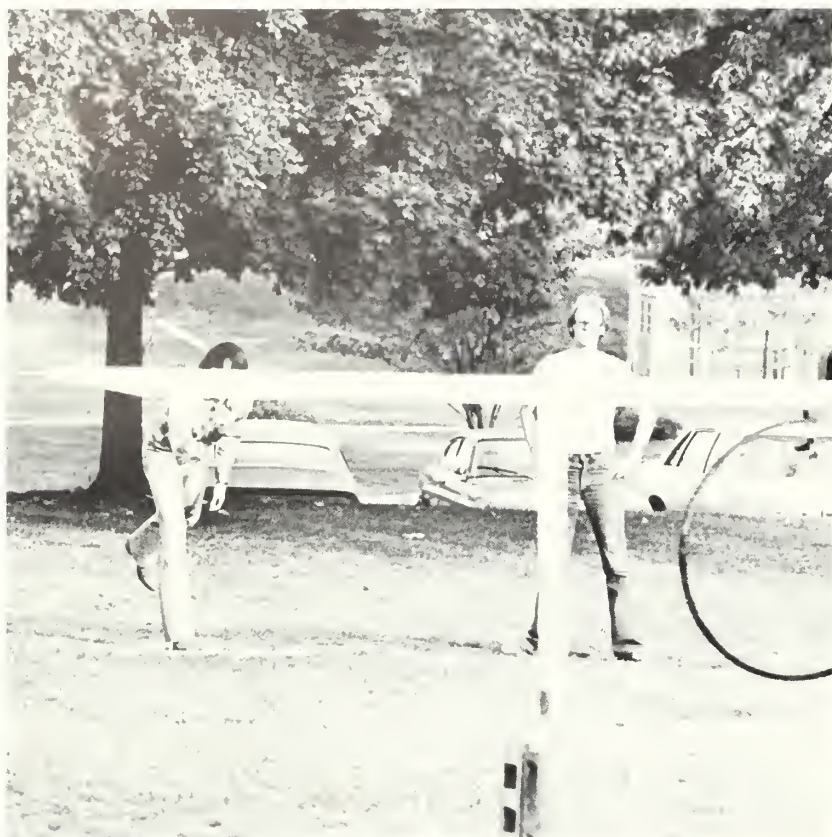

Mike Johnson speaking in the freshman class meeting. Spring quarter he ran again in another election for STUCO rep. (or SGA according to the constitutional revisions made in May.)

Finley Knowles was elected to represent his class again as a sophomore STUCO rep. in the spring election.

The new officers were a very active part of campus life and an important addition to the Student Council. Some had parts in "The Phantom of McClurkan." Some were a part in pulling off a successful Andrae Crouch concert; some were on the yearbook staff; and one had a charming part in "The Music Man."

Frisbee Tourney

The test of skills, with the illustrious voice and humor of Rick Soloky, referee, involved guys and girls flinging the frisbee in freestyle and through the hoop. A modest crowd of spectators and quite a few contestants gathered in the warm fall afternoon.

We didn't exactly rent an elaborate hoop from the National Frisbee Association, but the circle chosen was sufficient. Rick Bartlett is looking on.

Scott Lewis demonstrates his expertise with the frisbee, just like he mastered football skills.

Concert with Truth

Fall Retreat . . .

The brassy sound of Truth filled the McClurkan Auditorium one night. Different organizations sponsored the concerts and usually, a sneak preview was given to those in chapel the day of the concert.

Cools Body, Warms Soul

The student body enjoyed a relaxing weekend at Standing Stone National Park for Fall Retreat. Friday night was packed full of fun and games such as Beat the pan headed by Bert Runyan. Despite the very cold temperatures and lack of electricity in some of the cabins, everyone awoke Saturday morning full of vitality and ready to hit the trail for hiking. As Saturday night approached, the dining hall was filled with people eager to hear the word of God as the revival speaker Ron Richmond shared his message. It proved to be a beautiful night full of testimonies.

Judy Cochran and Promise

Judy and her group provided another of the concerts during Fall Quarter. (Above) Judy Cochran, on the right, on stage with Cathy. The rest of the group was made of talented guys who covered the keyboards, drums, guitar, and brass.

Slave Auction

Auctioneer Sherwyn Nabors gets a bid for Wandas Willis. Below: Kay Johnson patiently waits for her "master."

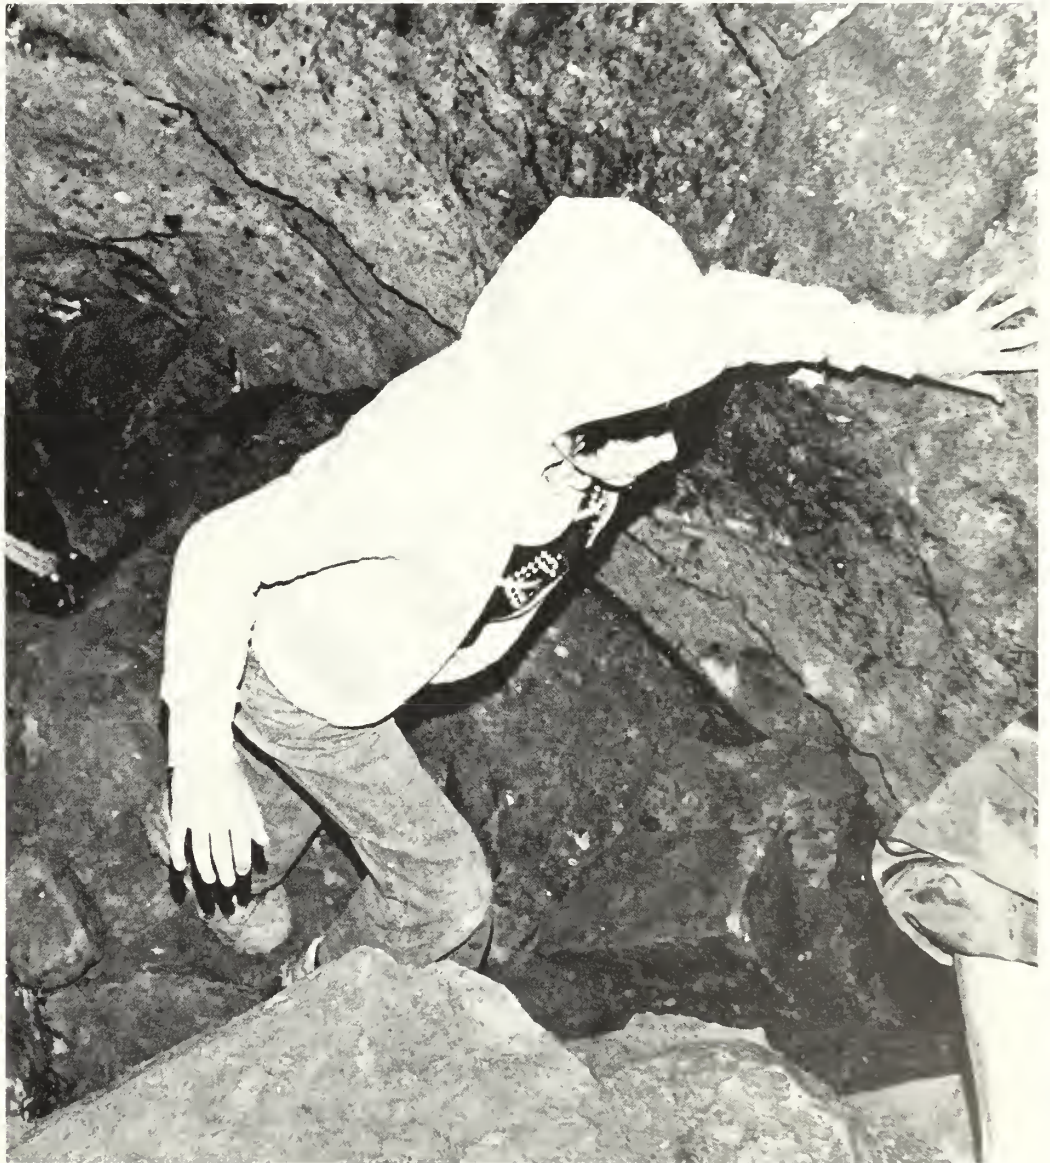

One of the yearly activities of the cheerleaders is their fundraising Slave Auction. This year provided some changes for the squad. Following the approval of male cheerleaders by the Athletic Board, selection for the male squad for the 1978-79 year began.

The four guys who were chosen included Tom Baker, Chuck Lovell, Rob Morris, and David Tucker. Rob and Chuck were only able to attend the home games because of their work schedule. Tom and David traveled with the cheering team to the away games.

The new additions were a great asset to the squad, providing strength and sturdier bases for some of the new, more advanced stunts (Pictured later) which the cheerleaders mastered during the season.

Solomon's Porch and College Hill Spelunk Together

Bill Mauch was the co-ordinator for the overnight spelunking trip which included hiking and (below) sleeping in the cave. TNC student, David Walker, to Bill's left and (below) one of the teens from College Hill goes through a passage.

VIP DAYS

Mike Estep and his Admissions staff successfully improved the 1978-79 VIP Days. In addition to the usual activities, such as class visitation and departmental displays, there were also such activities as the "country-eatin" meals in McClurkan Auditorium, and the Andrus, Blackwood and Co. concert in the gymnasium. Visitors received a small taste of dorm life. Old friendships were refreshed and new friends made as the VIPers enjoyed campus atmosphere and school spirit at the Purple & White Game.

Lots of Treats A Little of Tricks

Andrus Blackwood and Company

Although the concert was at 8:30, the gym was practically packed at 7:45. On the hour, Andrus Blackwood & C., enjoyed by VIP'ers, Treveccans, and Nashvillians, commenced to perform a spirit-laden concert. The group consisted of Bob Villarael playing guitar, Jim Marsh on drums, Rocky Laughlin on bass, Karen Vogelund performing vocally and on the keyboards, and Sherman Andrus and Terry Blackwood as lead vocalists. They opened with "Rescue Me" and "Lord, You Are My Everything." The repertoire which followed included many sing-alongs and a medley of a few songs used while they were with the Imperials. The group performed "I'm Gonna Rise" three times, at the audience's insistent applause, finally, they refused to make a fourth round. Andrus then spoke from the Word telling about the "God of the Now!"

Porch Celebrates Grand Opening

"GRAND OPENING—1978" read the banners flapping in the wind outside Solomon's Porch on October 7. It had all the excitement of any grand opening as Dr. Mark Moore cut the ribbon, which began the Porch's new year of service and entertainment to the campus. And the people came. Wall-to-wall from 9:00 to 12:00, enjoying the music of former WWGM Radio D.J. Benton White, the "Winston and Lewis Expedition," Mary Jo Cagle, Mike Wilkerson, Joe Lovell and Mike Johnson, the humor of Vic Collier and Keith Smith. A night jam-packed full of entertainment, and the college community obviously ate up every minute of it. The crowd of students was spilling into side rooms. Many students, as well as President Moore, discovered the second exit out of the window of one of the side rooms. Unfortunately, a Darda photographer assisted him and we're unable to provide a picture!

The competition for the crown of the 1978 Homecoming Queen was close among the senior contenders; Betty Boyer, Judy Johnston, and Chris Fitzgerald. Tension eased as Betty Boyer, escorted by Doug Williams was crowned Queen. Other members of the court included junior attendant Becky Rowan, escorted by Mike Vollman; sophomore attendant, Kay Mills, escorted by Donnie McKenzie; and freshman attendant Karla Oglesby, escorted by Jimmy Taylor. Escorts for the other candidates included Rob Irwin with Chris Fitzgerald, and Jim Williams with Judy Johnston.

The 1977 Homecoming Queen, Miss Sherry Heard, escorted by alumnus Dave Moore, crowned the new queen as A.S.B. President, Byron Middendorf assisted.

Following the ceremony, the queen and her court, seated on the designated platform, watched the second half of an exciting game between T.N.C. and the Vikings of Lee College, who unfortunately beat the Trojans.

Even our real live Trojan did not intimidate Lee College who proved to be tough competition. We fell to a 58-64 loss after overtime. Equal opportunity cheerleaders added four guys to their squad for the '78 season.

Chaplain Bill Boggs was the narrator in the musical.

The 1979 Valentine Court

On Friday night, February 9, the annual gala affair of pageantry was once again brought to the community by the Sophomore Class. The pageant began as the contestants plus a crew of four young men, dubbed as the "Bettermen Quartet" presented a group number to the theme of "An Old Fashioned Love Song."

A tie took place between Beth Werstler and Karen Carter, who were escorted by Mike Bearden and Larry Smith, respectively. Kay Mills, escorted by Donnie McKenzie received first runner-up.

Mike Cork, the emcee, announced the 1979 Valentine Queen—Peggy Jenkins, escorted by Mark Lancaster. Peggy was brought center-stage for the traditional crowning and presentation of the regal robe. We can see an excited Peggy in the above pictures along with Becky Hulstine who was in charge of the successful production and Brenda Miller, the 1978 Homecoming Queen. In the upper right corner Peggy is doing a rendition from "The King and I." Nashville Provides Another White Winter Quarter

One day on the campus of dear T.N.C.
We were walking along, just my friend and me.
When out of the sky came a great big, white blob.
When the pain subsided, we went looking for Rob,
For who on this campus has an arm like that?

Nashville Based Re'Generation Performs in Gym

Derric Johnson's heavily booked contemporary group entertained the Trevecca audience with their cheery smiles, stage personality, and smooth flowing music. Growing out of the nightmares of the past the Re' is a counter-statement to visualize and verbalize oneness in a strong heritage of faith and freedom, a musical unit that emphasizes positive attitudes and actions.

Students Get Hunger Pangs

Right: Students who participated in the lock-in were visited by two young men, seen leaving, who thoughtlessly brought pizza in an effort to intensify the impact of going without. Far right: Spoons were thrown in heaps, soup, loaves of bread, and water was the menu for those in the center, while those in the back were served in style by Civitans and Civinettes. Below: Bill Mauch, Bill Boggs, and Steve Rushing grimly dish out soup.

Last January, the biting winter cold was coupled with biting-yet-unfamiliar pangs of hunger as well over one hundred TNC'ers participated in a thirty hour fast held January 24-25 in order to learn firsthand the plights of the millions of unfortunate people on earth for whom hunger pangs are a way of life.

The entire student body experienced chapel services and saw films and dramatizations concerning world hunger the month preceding the two days of fasting. Conceived by Steve Rushing and Bill Boggs, Trevecca's comprehensive world hunger seminar was held in conjunction with World Vision International evangelical organization which channels over ninety-nine percent of all of its monetary contributions into food and other provisions for hungry natives of Asia, Africa, and South America.

Trevecca's fasters were sponsored by faculty members and students thus raising much-needed funds for the world's hungry. The TNC fast concluded with a Thursday afternoon communion service and a celebratory dinner.

Many of the students who participated in the two-day fast claim that they were changed by the unusual experience. One fellow remarked that, for the first time in his twenty-one-year life, he had gone to bed hungry; and someone else commented that she realizes now how precious food should be to us, "but how wasteful we are in the cafeteria!"

Winter Quarter 1979's world hunger study and fast probably will prove to be a high point in many student's remembrances-because it helped many of us to realize fully the dire predicament of those less fortunate than we-and they constitute the majority of this planet's population.

Opera Comes To Trevecca

Friday night, February 23, at 7:00 P.M., Trevecca's own Opera Workshop proudly presented two fine operas with an "all star" cast.

A full house awaited the opening curtain. Students and faculty alike had joined together for an enjoyable and often humorous evening.

John Hobson, who was the star of W.A. Mozart's "Don Giovanni," played the part of a very confident and sensual romanticist. Tim Elliot has been noted for his superb ghostly appearance, thanks to Nancy Cauthron who was in charge of make-up. Kent Pelton, Sarah Adams, Pam Cowart, Jack Murray, John Yount, and Brenda Miller were all important parts in the presentation. Rusty McCorkle displayed his fine talent as accompanist.

Following a ten minute intermission, the evening was topped off by the performance of Charles Eaken's work, "The Box." The cast included Mike Wilkerson, Kent Pelton, Margi Jared, Marilyn Frantz, and Brenda Miller. The presentation proved to be a learning experience for members of the cast. Chief among the lessons learned was Marilyn's as she learned never to faint in an Elizabethan "hoop" skirt.

The accompanying orchestra lended its touch to the humorous play and the crowd responded well. The hard work of everyone involved, especially Professors Mund and Jarrett who organized the evening, proved to be well worth it, as the presentation turned out to be a success.

Top Entertainment at Valentine's Banquet

The attenders of the Valentine's Banquet benefited from several things. Firstly, the thrill and accomplishment of having a date with someone they wanted to be with; secondly, the healthy experience of dressing sharply and looking pleasing to oneself and others. Other benefits were the luxurious atmosphere of the Hyatt Regency of downtown Nashville and the entertainment of Chris Christian, a former associate of B.J. Thomas. The sophomore class not only sponsored a spectacular pageant—they did not overlook providing a warm experience for those who went to the Valentine's Banquet.

Rook Tourney Won Support

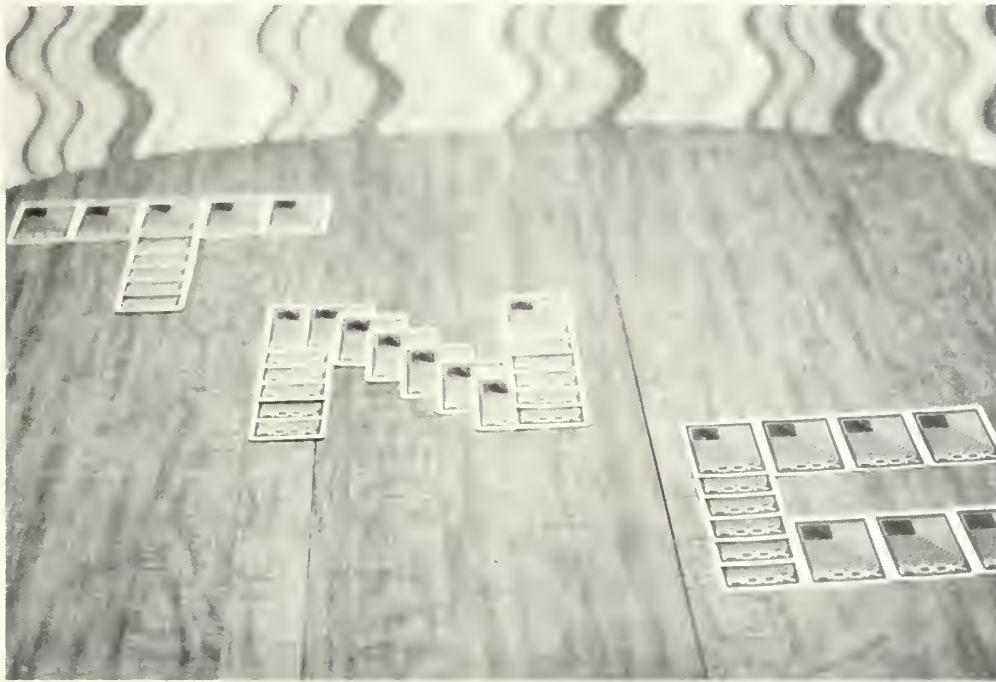

Late January found the Student Center packed with "card sharks" as the First Annual Rook Tournament on the Trevecca campus and sponsored by the Freshman class began with an outstanding turn out.

The tension mounted as the number of eligible teams dropped from 30 plus to only those who were able to work up to the top nine positions.

Finally, following a tough game, Carol Ernest and Dean Murray came out on top. Mel Thompson and Finley Knowles came in second with John Dunn and Robert Johnson working in a close third.

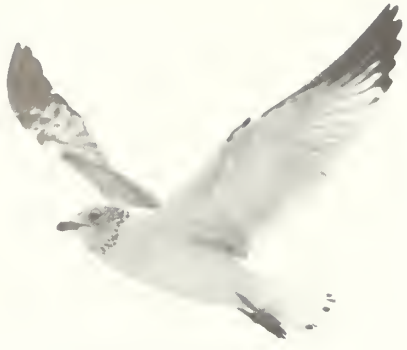

The next six teams were Byron Middendorf and Daryl Willis—fourth, Mark Gritton and Carol Wright—fifth, Kim King and Lil Fortner—sixth, Howard Wilson and Kent Pelton—seventh, Mike and Doris Courtney—eighth, and Terry Johnson and Reba Knowles—ninth.

Plans for the Second Annual Tournament are under way. It will be sanctioned by Parker Brothers and the winners will be eligible to compete in the national tournament.

Choir Makes Spring Tour

The phrase "choir tour" brings to most of our minds sudden recollections of rigorous vacations and rhythmical sequences of exhausting concerts. New recruits see the sojourn as a chance to travel, and to leave behind home or school; veterans observe this occasion as "just another tour." But whether novel or monotonous, each escapade is characterized by individual remembrances.

When someone speaks to me of Concert Choir's spring tour, several thoughts leap to my mind. I reminisce of our visit to the archaic French Quarter of New Orleans and contemplate the possible nocturnal fate of those members almost abandoned in that Gomorric city. Neither can I but recall the hours invested by James Jarrett and his associates in writing out parts, and arranging an offertory featuring Brenda Miller on the piano. Least of all could I forget the chilling circumstances supplied by the dormant bus heater and the changeable Nashville weather during our polar trip back to Trevecca.

Another member might recall one of our best concerts given to a diminutive audience, or the hectic weekend schedule, consisting of hours of driving before and after both performances. A stalwart member might describe the tour as a brief plunge into the icy waters off

Fort Walton Beach, Florida, as well as kite flying, swinging, and picnicking at a state park enroute.

Naturally, choir tour means something special to each individual who was involved; however, we as individuals cannot forget the unique experiences that we as a choir have had-together.

Circle K Raises $2500 In Pledges for M.S.

Over $2500 was pledged for Multiple Sclerosis in response to the work of Circle-K for their sixth annual Volleyball Marathon. This marks the record for the most money pledged.

Last year Trevecca's Circle-K club was noted for raising the largest amount of money among any of the Circle-K organizations in the state of Tennessee. They are in hopes to break all records again this year.

Byron Middendorf and Jimmy Taylor tied for the most money raised at $14.50 per hour. Both lasted the entire 24 hours.

Others who also went the entire 24 hours included Greg Brown, Bob Davis, Faalupega Faoa, Danny Gray, Don Kirby, Chuck Lovell, Danny Oaks, Howard Wall, and Doug Williams.

The 24 long, gruesome hours began at noon on Friday and lasted through noon Saturday and were spent competing against such apt competitors as Third Floor Johnson; Georgia Hall, "The Bombers," and Kettes. The toughest competitors according to the Circle K members. Among the easier teams, in Circle K's opinion, were "The Clowns" coached by Niel Nielson, FCA, and the Southside Police. Each team paid an entry fee of $25 which also went to Multiple Sclerosis.

Over twenty gallons of Coke were consumed by those hot and thirsty volleyball players. All the money received for the drinks also went to MS.

The Marathon attracted many spectators who were either astonished at the endurance of the suicidal competitors, or entertained at some of Circle K's strategy in their games against some of the girls' teams. Some of the spectators spent the night cheering the teams through the wee hours of the morning.

Boggs Goes to California

Friday, April 13, closed out the Chaplain ministry of Rev. William Boggs at Trevecca Nazarene College. Rev. Boggs accepted the call to pastor First Church of the Nazarene in Los Angeles California. Los Angeles First is the "Mother" church of our denomination, and the pulpit of this church holds much prestige. This is Rev. Boggs' first senior pastorate.

"Bill" came to Trevecca last summer, and revolutionized the Chapel program at Trevecca over the past months. Every Chapel became a worship service, with all parts of the service carefully laid out and planned by the Worship Committee. He also served as a professor in this college's Religion Department.

Rev. Boggs was a graduate of Trevecca, serving as Student Body President while here. He then went to Yale University School of Divinity, completing his Master's degree one year earlier than average in that program.

To Bill, Reva, and his family, we said good-bye in that Chapel Service on Good Friday, April 13. We will all never forget, or cease to realize, the tremendous impact the Boggs' have had on our lives.

Chaplain Bill Boggs and his library stretching from wall to wall in his Tidwell office, was graciously stacked by Huey Davis, Barry Bryant, and others. The books were sent with Boggs to his new home in Los Angeles.

Make Me Laugh Show

The talent of amateur comedians John Jeffries, Tammy Power, and Don Garrison; was featured in "Make Me Laugh." The event was similar to the popular T.V. show which gives the comedians 30 seconds to make the contestants laugh. The show, sponsored by the Freshmen Class was held after the final round of Regional Quizzing. Left: Riki Morgan & John Jefferies. Above Right: Don Garrison & Kat Pace.

Andraé!

It all started that cold December day, somewhere on the North American continent. Wherever that genius, unique mind of Greg Page was enlightened by a bulb of a new color-at that moment the dream was just beginning. The dream?—to bring Andraé Crouch and the Disciples to Nashville. To bring the biggest event in the history of Trevecca Student Government to this place ... to go beyond the normal ordinary ... to bring in the fantastic and unbelievable ... the beginning of the dream.

From those humble beginnings, the success of Friday, April 6 rose. The city of Nashville now knows, if they didn't before, that Trevecca does exist, and is alive! Three solid months of work by committees, student council as a whole, and several dedicated students turned into a night we'll never forget as a Trevecca community.

More than 3,200 people filed into Municipal Auditorium Friday evening, and as Found Free took the stage, a special sense of excitement swept over the throng. The volume rose, the movements increased, and the excitement neared as Keith and the group blasted out their unique gospel sound. The decibels increased, as did the spirit of the evening, but all was preparation for the next event. Even Keith, himself, said, "You are about to hear some of the world's greatest music." That feeling became the expectancy of all. As the loudspeaker blurted out, "Ladies and Gentlemen—Andraé Crouch and the Disciples!" the already rocking auditorium suddenly became a madhouse of people thrilled beyond words. As Andraé hit the stage, his backup vocalist and bands began blasting, and the words of songs that only Andraé can write suddenly poured through the speakers. An almost unreal sense of God's presence began quietly creeping across the audience. As the music continued, the crowd became more and more uncontrollable, and the frenzy grew. This was excitement in its purest form. This was excitement motivated by the presence of Jesus Christ in the lives of thousand of people and in the lives of the group appearing on stage.

Andraé!

It all ended as soon as it began. After two encores, with three thousand people on their feet clapping the audience filed out. The auditorium then seemed almost desolate with empty seats which so shortly before had been filled by rejoicing people.

The audience participating in the concert made up the largest crowd to attend any Trevecca sponsored activity. But, only many, many weeks of hard work by Greg Page, StuCo, and other participating students made the event, as well as the crowd, possible.

With the cost of the concert reading $10,000 and StuCo's budget totaling less than $3000, financial wizardry was necessary to cover the expenses. A loan was obtained from a Christian businessman in North Carolina. To be sure StuCo could pay for their bills in case the concert ticket sales flopped, several Christian men from across the Southeast Zone were located who agreed to cover up to $1000 each in the event that StuCo lost money on the concert.

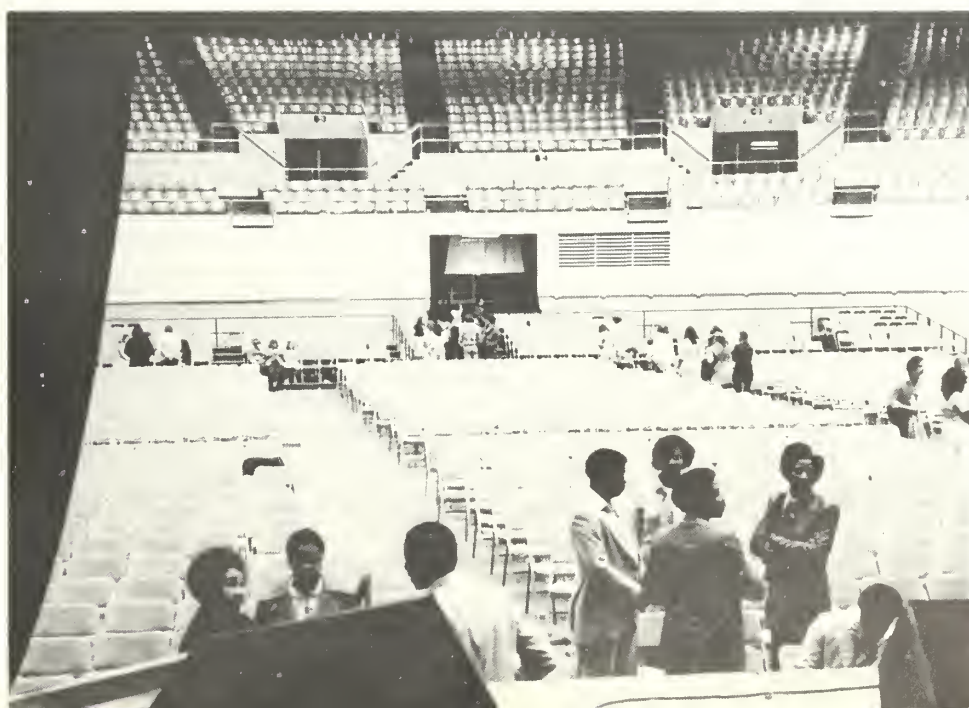

Marc Vann, A.S.B. Treasurer, worked endless hours distributing tickets and handling the financial matters of the concert. Needless to say, Marc and Greg were ecstatic when final calculations showed a net profit of almost $3400.

Andraé!

And then it was over ...

Spring Retreaters Spend Unusual Easter

Ahhh ... Spring Retreat. It couldn't have been a more perfect weekend-with Easter, the more than perfect weather, the perfect park, the perfect people ... well, maybe not the perfect people. Anyway, it was nothing less than great for the 50-plus retreaters. After our little red Chevette made it through hill and dale (and also through "the fog" which must have been a leftover from fall retreat), we arrived safely at the pompons and previously pretty Pickett Park for the beginning of things.

The ping-pong freaks quickly staked out their pongs and started their threatening challenges. The food freaks quickly put their stomachs into neutral and anxiously awaited evening grub. And then there was Ricky Bartlett who finally made it after driving two hours out of the way. (Embarrassed Rick?) After munching down, alias chowing out, things really got rolling with the semi-annual retreat films. Well, how much can you say about those, huh? So after a short nap things started taking their own course. Some of us sat around and talked, some sang, (Bruce always seems to be there with his guitar when you need him most), some of us continued to hog the ping-pong tables, and some of us were not seen for an undetermined length of time.

One of the main highlights of the entire weekend was Gary Henecke, the speaker. After playing "sing-along with Bruce", Gary came to us and spoke of miracles and having giants in our lives. Having the kind of giants that keep us from being the kind of person Christ meant us to be when he died on the Cross. Gary seemed to bring the word of God right down to where we were and where our lives were going.

After an extremely restful night, we woke up to HOT water (Oh, the painful memories of fall!) and set out for the new day. Many took walks, hiked, and some even caught a few z's so they could rest up for the night's events.

Of course, what retreat would be complete without the ever-popular Pan Game? In Game #1, the emerging victors (literally) were Gary Henecke and Cathy Cooley (tough toenails, Don). In Game #2, Brucie and Huey (who apparently didn't care what he had to do to win), came out on top-again, literally. There was also a contest of stacking different boxes without using your hands. The expert-box-stacking duo of Denise Patnode and By Middendorf demonstrated how ingenuity can make you the winners. Denise cleverly used her teeth and By cleverly used his nose.

Late that night it got a little strange (she said with tongue in cheek) while several were seemingly trying to sponsor a "No-doze" marathon, the quartet of Lynn, Velda, Denise, and Bev continued to amaze the masses with their vocal abilities(?) on the microphones.

After a very restful and full weekend (good food, Ray) we started packing up. Several felt led to take a dip in the water fall and one felt the call for his "Rough-age".

It was a good time for reflections and fun times with friends-some old and some very recent. Through all of this I can't forget the words of Gary Henecke—Christ didn't want us to be the ordinary person—He wanted us to live up to our potential as Spirit-filled Christians.

Trojans Recognized at Banquet

The Trevecca Intercollegiate Athletic Awards Banquet was held May 22, 1979 with many of those who were involved in the Trojans sports present. The dinner was followed by an invocation by Mike McAdams. Elmore Vail then shared with the group. First to be presented with their awards—Women's Volleyball; followed by the cheerleaders, then basketball. The middle photo shows the Women's Tennis Team. After they received their awards, the Men's Tennis followed (above) and on the agenda, our baseball team. (top).

Wilkerson Named Spring Fling King

This year's Spring Fling Pageant proved to be a real "blast", in the literal sense.

During the opening rendition of several Southern, as well as patriotic melodies, by the class presidents, escorts, plus Byron and Becky, a musket-fire (and I do mean fire!) sounded throughout the auditorium of the College Hill Annex.

The court for '79 year's pageant included Finley Knowles, escorted by his sister Reba, Bruce Thompson, escorted by Vicki Hemby, and Mike Wilkerson, escorted by Carol Herring. Terry "T.J." Johnson was the senior class representative and was escorted by Cathy Clarke. The junior class representative was Mr. Daniel Gray, escorted by Stephanie Stocks. Bobby Milburn represented the sophomore class and was escorted by "Miss Hoop Skirt", herself, Bev Fulkerson.

Following the introductions the various members of the court presented their talent acts. T.J. was first with his own interpretation of "Take Me Out To

The Ball Park". Maestro Danny Gray astounded the crowd with his musical proficiency on the kazoo.

Bobby Milburn was next with a medley of three B.J. Thomas hits. The air grew thick as every female heart melted and several girls found a new singing idol to fall in love with.

The candidates were up next to present their talents. First was Finley Knowles who performed a song which he had written.

Bruce Thompson then presented his version of "Raindrops Keep Fallin On My Head", as he was showered with a water pistol by Rick Bartlett.

Mike Wilkerson made all the girls swoon as he serenaded the audience with the Commodores hit, "Once, Twice, Three Times a Lady."

Darlin' Della (alias Tammy Powers) with her favorite dummy, Don (Garrison, that is,) mounted the stage next. The ad-lib routine kept the crowd rolling until the court was ready with their formal wear.

The final decision came with Mike Wilkerson winning the pageant by a narrow margin.

The Phantom of McClurkan

Scene 1. Introduction: The campus security guard walks down the first floor hall in the library. It is a rainy, windy night and he is making his nightly rounds securing all the buildings. The cold wind blowing down the hall through the front door gives him a chill. Listening to his pocket radio, he hears the announcer give the news.

Announcer

So that just about wraps it up on the 89-FM news scene. Wait—this report just in on the campus scene—The Phantom is on the rampage again. Tonight there were several sightings reported.

Security Guard

(with a chuckle) I just don't believe in ghosts. (trying to convince himself)

As he continues on down the hall suddenly a dark figure darts across the hall in front of him and rushes into a room.

Security Guard

(Startled) Hey!—who's down there?

He runs down the hall into the room.

Scene V (Balcony of McClurkan inside) Light and sound startles audience. Camera is the same angle as it was stopped in SCENE V. Keep in mind this is SCENE V.

The typically restless audience is listening to the fading strains of the typical Chapel "special" song, by yet another group called "Insurance." A young ministerial student, Bill Boggs, and an old minister (today's speaker), and Steve Rushing are seated.

SCENE XXXVI (the hallway outside of Rock's room) Rock, Tom, and Randy sneak out. Rock and Tom are all dressed in black and Randy is in all white, with white shoe polish under the eyes.

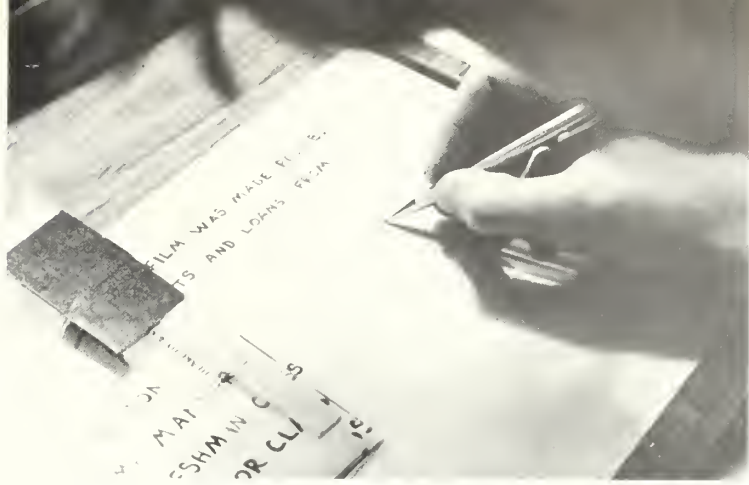

Rock

(sees Randy in white) Hey! Why have you got white on?

Randy

Well, I thought that since you were white and wearing black that I should try to achieve some sort of color balance.

Rock shoves him back in the room. He comes out again dressed in Black. They lean back against the wall as a guard walks past with a doberman. Then they lay down on the floor and sneak under the electronic eye alarm.

On page 68, the stars and their escorts and chauffers all make a big appearance at the premiere showing of the "Phantom of McClurkan." Upper from left to right: Bobby Milburn and Bev Fulkerson, Finley Knowles and Stephanie Stocks, Rob Morris and Kim King, John Jefferies and Terry Nichols. Center left: Joanna Perry and Scottie Lewis. Lower from left to right: Mike Johnson and Sarah Adams, Buz Harrison and Linda Blowers, Kerry Roberts and Oileen Young, Don Garrison and Becky Boyette.

Phantom

Listen to me for a while, please. (He pauses for a min.) Have you ever felt like you never got a fair chance to show what you were capable of? Think now. Have you ever had something worthwhile to say and been denied the chance to say it because people are too self-centered and quick-to-judge that they don't care. I have no intentions of inspiring horror or fear. I do not intend to use this outfit to do anything other than meaningful purposes. I have no friends here, other than you. No one has ever given me a chance. I'm not a great-looking popular guy and so I'm not given a chance to get any further than a very brief 'Hi, how are you?' from anybody. I hurt. I feel emotions and have no one to share them with. No one cares. So I choose to wander by night and spread my loneliness under the stars.

Joyous Fourth of July Celebration

Penned by His Honor, The Illustrious MAYOR GEORGE WASHINGTON SHINN, "Father of River City"

Fellow citizens of River City, Iowa, that grandiloquent, momentous, paramount time of year is upon us again. This week, every patriotic, God-fearing American will observe the one hundred-thirty-sixth birthday of this, our majestic and splendacious country, these forty-eight United States of America. Always remember, my friends—the United States of American is the greatest country on earth; Iowa (The Hawkeye State) is the greatest state in the union; River City is the greatest city in Iowa; and George Washington Shinn, your humble mayor, is the finest mayor ever.

That slightly confutable statement readily can be averred by a consideration of my prodigious—nay, Herculean—accomplishments during my illustrious administration as the Honorable Mayor of River City, Iowa. During my tenure as beloved Father of River City, I have erected a pulchritudinous statue of my venerable ancestor, Martin Bellsie Shinn, who was known throughout the Iowa Territory as an accomplished equine-peculator; and I have appointed my charming wife of twenty-one years and River City's First Lady, Eulalie MacKecknie Shinn, as the town's official Guardian of Culture and Morality.

Your cheerful attendance is expected this July Fourth at the Village Green (or Madison Gymnasium, if it is precipitating) for River City's annual Independence Day exercises, spearheaded by yours truly and my enchanting wife, Elalie MacKecknie Shinn.

In addition to a patriotic sing-along conducted by dear Mrs. Shinn and my traditional eloquent delivery of Abraham Lincoln's immortal "Four score and seven years ago" speech, Jacey Squires will show us breathtaking scenes of ultra modern Des Moines on his newfangled stereoptican slide machine; the members of the school board will present a historical tableau; Miss Ethel Toffelmier will play the piano for us; exceptional spouse, Eualie MacKecknie Shinn, will lead the "Wa Tan Ye" Girls of the local Wigwam of Hiawatha in a colorful demonstration of the customs of

Music Man A Success

On May 3, 4, and 5: "Seventy-Six Trombones" and "The Wells Fargo Wagon" came to TNC-and the Music and Drama Departments' highly successful production of Meredith Willson's Broadway musical comedy, THE MUSIC MAN, came off with no "trouble" at all!

The Lyceum Committee-sponsored the musical comedy about a soft-hearted "con" man in 1912 Iowa and the gentle librarian who wins him, played to a modest opening-night crowd on Thur. night May 3, and to full houses on Friday and Saturday nights. Ticket sales went toward the financing of the musical and toward the Lyceum Committee's projected campus cultural events of the 1970-1980 school years, which included concerts and another full-length (but non-musical) play in the spring.

THE MUSIC MAN was directed by twenty-two year old Marcus Sims, a senior communication major who acted as assistant director of Trevecca's 1977 production of THE SOUND OF MUSIC and director of the last spring's humorous one-act play, THE FLATTERING WORD. James Jarrett was musical director both vocal and instrumental). Robbie Little served as Faculty Consultant to the production. Julian Cowart, a Trevecca graduate, was stage manager for the musical, and student Brenda Brodien acted as assistant stage manager.

The sixty-member cast was peopled primarily by TNC students, although one staff member and five children also appeared. Heading the talented cast were Paul Montemuro in the flamboyant, demanding title role of Harold Hill, the Music Man; and Carol Herring in the romantic, challenging part of Marian Paroo, the prim librarian who confessed starry-eyed to Harold that she has sung "Goodnight, My Someone", and "Till There Was You."

Other River City, Iowa couples were Mayor George Shinn (Jeff Thompson) and his wife, Eulalie (Lena Hegi); Marcellus Washburn (Karl Oelke) and Ethel Toffelmier (Brenda Miller); and Tommy Djilas (Chuck Lovell) and Zaneeta Shinn (Chonda Courtney). Ruth Herring played the part of Marian Paroo's mother who seemed quite anxious to marry off her daughter. Portraying, the delightful River City Barbershop Quartet, Mike Wilkerson, Buz Harrison, Kevin Poe, and Kent Pelton.

Pat Terry Performs at Banquet

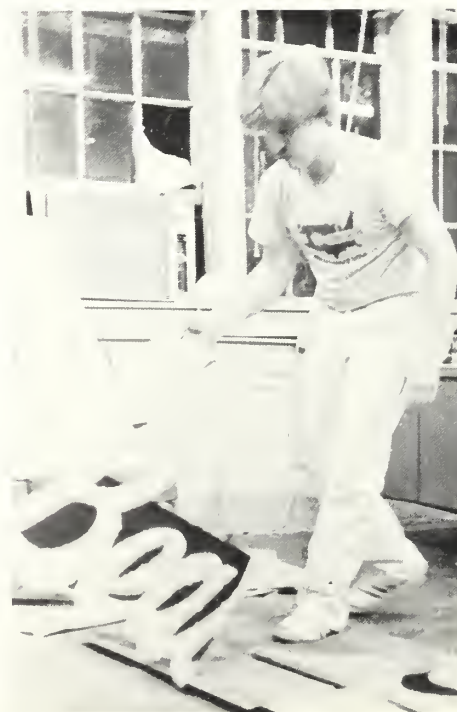

It was a night to remember ... good food, good music, good times. On Saturday evening May 12, the 260 person crowd gathered at the reknowned Opryland Hotel for the annual gala affair. Many Juniors and Seniors gathered for what was to be a night to remember.

Beginnings....the evening began as the guests filed into Opryland's elegant Memphis Room. The service and food proved to be par excellence. After the evening meal was taken care of everyone settled back for the superb slide show coordinated by Tony Lindsey and narrated by Greg Page. We watched with amazement the pictures of our friends go by and wondered how some of us could have actually metamorphosed into the butterflies (?) that we are now. There was a sense of anticipation in the air as this years' Senior Superlatives were announced. Voted as Cutest Couple were Carol Wight and Mark Gritton; the Most Athletic were Carol Ernest and Rob Irwin; the Wittiest, Chuck Lovell and Pam Cowart; voted the Most Talented were Brenda Miller and Richard North; Sandra Foskey and Dean Murray were elected the Most Studious; and the Seniors of the Year were Betty Boyer and Byron Middendorf.

The evening entertainment was provided by the Pat Terry group. These three talented musicians brought us their unique message in song despite some overwhelming sounds from next door.

There were many people who made this night enjoyable as well as one to remember long after the last centerpiece was put away. Thanks Howard and the Junior Class for a very special evening.

'Chase' to Easy Victories

The First Annual Trevecca Chase was held Saturday, May 26, at 10:00 AM. Mike McAdams pulled the trigger, and forty-four charged-up "Chasers" at forty-four different paces started down the hill onto Murfreesboro Road. About one mile along the way, the women veered from the men to finish their 3 miles, as the men ran on to complete a five-mile course. The race went without any complications or injuries.

Gerald Norrington dominated Position I with a fantastic time of 32:26. Riki Morgan crossed the finish line second at 35:26. Ronnie Baile surprised many of the oddsmakers by finishing 3rd with a time of 36:16.

Beth Eby took an early lead and was able to hold it to break the tape at only 25:36. Her closest competitor was Tracie Stover, who sprinted across the line to take the time of 27:00. The 3rd place in Division II was Susan Strickland with a time of 28:39.

Gerald and Beth each received a pair of Niki running shoes from the Athlete's Foot who co-sponsored the Chase with the Freshman Class and StuCo.

Circle K, Senior Class Honored at Awards Chapel

Circle K proudly accepted the Club of the year Award and in turn they presented a local representative of Nashville Multiple Sclerosis Society with the largest donation ever raised at Trevecca.

Alpha and Beta tied to receive the T.I.A. Society of the year.

Peggy Jenkins proudly announced that the Senior Class was the winner of the Class of the Year Award. Tim Taylor, Sr. Class President, came forward to accept the award. Then he introduced his fellow class officers to help him bring in the Senior Class gifts.

The seniors presented Dr. Dunning with a refinished pulpit for the new chapel.

The seniors also presented Coach Smith with a school banner to drape across the score table during athletic functions. The purple silk banner read in white print-

"Trevecca Trojans, Class of 79," and the center of the banner was graced by the Trevecca emblem.

Freshman John Dunn, received the Freshman Chemistry Award from Dr. Nyssen. He came toward, wearing a wide grin, to accept the Award Scroll and its accompanying magazine subscription.

Tammie Crews received an impressively large copy of The New Testament in Greek having the highest grade in Greek. Lynn Holmes was awarded for composing the winning sermon in the Senior Sermon Contest.

Professor Jim Knear came to the microphone to award the Foresics Team Winners. He gave a brief synopsis of the events of the year, and then he awarded Ginger Golson, Phil Lindsley Cheri Waldrip, and Lena Hegi, for their outstanding speaking abilities in different areas.

Dr. Rosebrough, of the Education Department, proudly presented the Teddy Award to Karen Carter, who also received the honor of being Civinette of the year. Barbara Lynch presented the STEA award to Allen Gammel.

The Allied Health Awards honored two 1978 graduates of the Physicians' Associate Program. The recipients were, Alfred Thomas and Dr. Douglas Henry.

Awards Chapel 1979 will long be remembered for its uniqueness - a sharing of joy, praise, tears, and comradeship.

Adams Officially Inaugurated

It was an historic moment. The crowd had gathered, the dignitaries were in their places, and the expectancy was high. Dr. Harvey Hendershot, Board of Trustees Chairman, and Dr. William Greathouse, General Superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene made it official, as on Saturday, June 2, 1979, Homer James Adams, Ph.D. was sworn in as the new president of this institution.

Dr. Adams becomes the ninth individual to hold the office in the 78 year history of this college. He was elected in February of this year, and officially took office in early March. Much of Dr. Adams time has been spent in the Wipe out the Debt campaign across the 11 districts of the educational zone.

We welcome Dr. Homer Adams, now officially inaugurated, to the office of President. We wish him our best in the assignment, certainly not envied by everyone.

One highlight of the ceremony was the fact that on the platform were two former presidents, Dr. Mark Moore, and Dr. William Greathouse, representing presidential leadership since 1961. Both men expressed congratulations and belief in the ability of Dr. Homer Adams to handle the massive responsibility.

In the very enjoyable inaugural address, Dr. Adams emphasized the problems facing education on the college level today, and the stricter challenges of the future, but expressed optimism of grappling with these in a positive way, and winning the battles laid out before us.

Dr. Mark R. Moore and Dr. William Greathouse, both former presidents of Trevecca, returned to TNC last weekend to participate in the graduation exercises.

Three Presidents at Graduation

Former President Moore spoke in the Baccalaureate Service which took place Sunday afternoon in the gymnasium. Moore served as president for Trevecca from 1968 through 1979. Moore was recently appointed to be head of the Department of Education and the Ministries.

Dr. Greathouse, the guest commencement speaker, served as President of Trevecca from 1961 to 1968. Following his years at Trevecca he served as President of the Nazarene Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Missouri, where he served until his election to the General Superintendency of the Church of The Nazarene at the 1976 General Assembly.

Excitement grew as the gym began filling up by 9:30 in eager expectation of the commencement.

One hundred eighty graduate candidates marched down the aisles as hundreds of family and friends looked on.

Following Dr. Greathouse's address the class scholarships of $1,000 were presented. Mark Myers was the recipient of the sophomore scholarship. Kathy Jenkins received the Junior Scholarship, and the Senior scholarship went to Sandy Foskey.

Peggy Jenkins, the '78-'79 A.S.B. Vice-President was presented the Citizenship Award. The award is voted upon by the Student Council and goes to a graduating senior who has proven throughout his (or her, as in this case) college career to be a dependable worker in a variety of school activities, well-rounded academically, of Christian character and integrity, and who has generated enthusiasm and served as an inspiration to fellow students—a description well fitted to Peggy Jenkins.

Diplomas were then presented and mixed emotions swept across the group as they realized their achievement yet also realized that this was the end of their college careers.

Who's Who

These Trevecca students join an elite group of young people selected from more than 1,000 institutions of higher learning in all fifty states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign nations.

"Whenever I approach a child, his presence inspires two feelings in me; Affection for the way he is now, and respect for what he may one day become."

—Louis Pastuer

Karen Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Carter, is from Spiceland, Indiana. She is an Elementary Education Major who hopes to obtain a teaching position after graduation. While at Trevecca she was involved in many things which included: Darda Editor '77, '78; Chapel Choir, Project Invasion; Student Council; Community Living Council; Student Life Committee; Civinettes; Resident Assistant; and Student Teachers Association.

"The best way to be filled is to be hungry"

—Bob Benson

"Try hard to show yourself worthy of God's approach as a labourer who need not be ashamed; be straight forward in your proclamation of the truth."

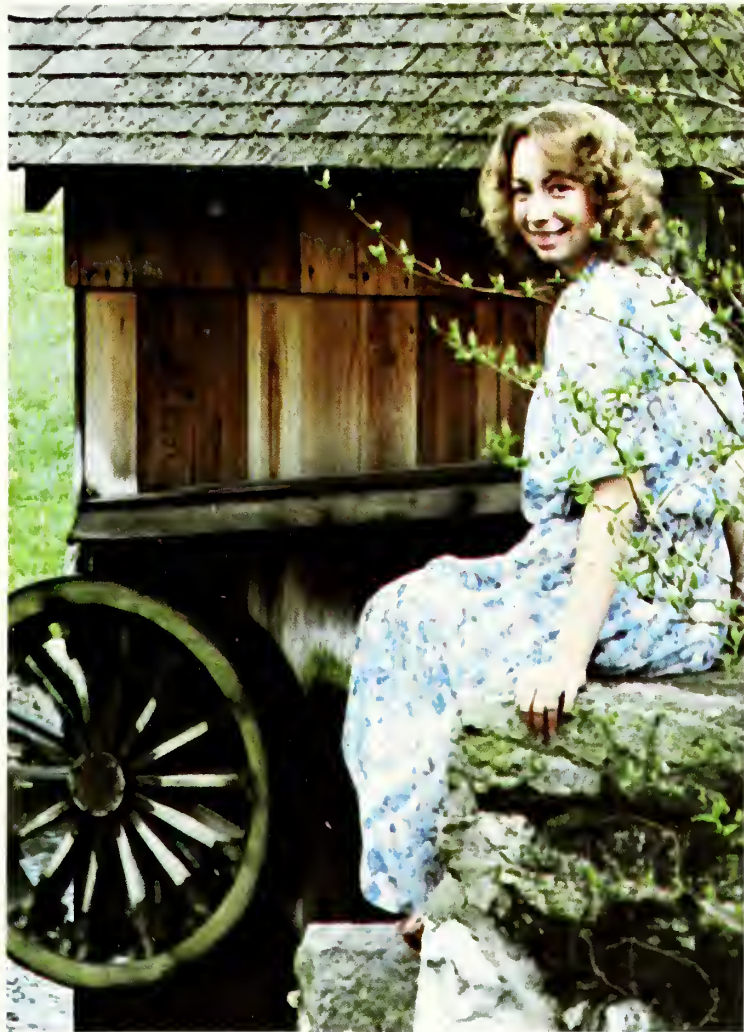

II Timothy 2:15

Lynn Holmes, A Religion Major and Business Minor is from Nashville, Tennessee. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Holmes. His future plans are to go to Kansas City to seminary and thereafter go into the pastoral ministry. While at Trevecca, Lynn was a member of Chapel Choir; Project Invasion; Circle K; Sophomore Vice-President; Ministerial Association; Honor Club; and a Resident Assistant.

"Life is either a daring adventure or nothing at all."—Helen Keller

Stuart Rowan, son of Rev. and Mrs. T.E. Rowan, is a Communications Major and Political Science Minor. He is from Warner Robins, Georgia. While at Trevecca he served as Freshman Class President; Sophomore and Junior Stuco Representative; a member of the Community Living Council for two years. Stuart received his pilots license and the Big "T" award. He was a public relations person; and served as an "I Care" student. Concert Choir; WNAZ; the Music Man; and Phantom of McClurkan were also part of his activities.

"All I have seen teaches me to trust the creator for what I have not seen."

—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Kathy Creel, a Business Education major from Richmond, Virginia, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis L. Creel. After graduating, Tim Taylor (Senior Class President) and Kathy will be getting married. She has been honored on the Dean's list. Her activities at Trevecca include: C.W.A.; Circle K-ette Treasurer; Senior Class Treasurer, Trev-Echoes Secretary, Admission & Retentions Committee member, Dorm Judiciary Committee member, Head Resident of Bud Robinson Dorm.

Hold high the torch! You did not light its glow—'Twas given you by other hands, yours to pass on when you no more need light, For there are other feet that you must guide . . . And efforts which we think are not worthwhile, are sometimes just the very helps they need, Actions to which their souls would give most heed; So that in turn, they will hold it high And say, "I watched someone else carry it this way."

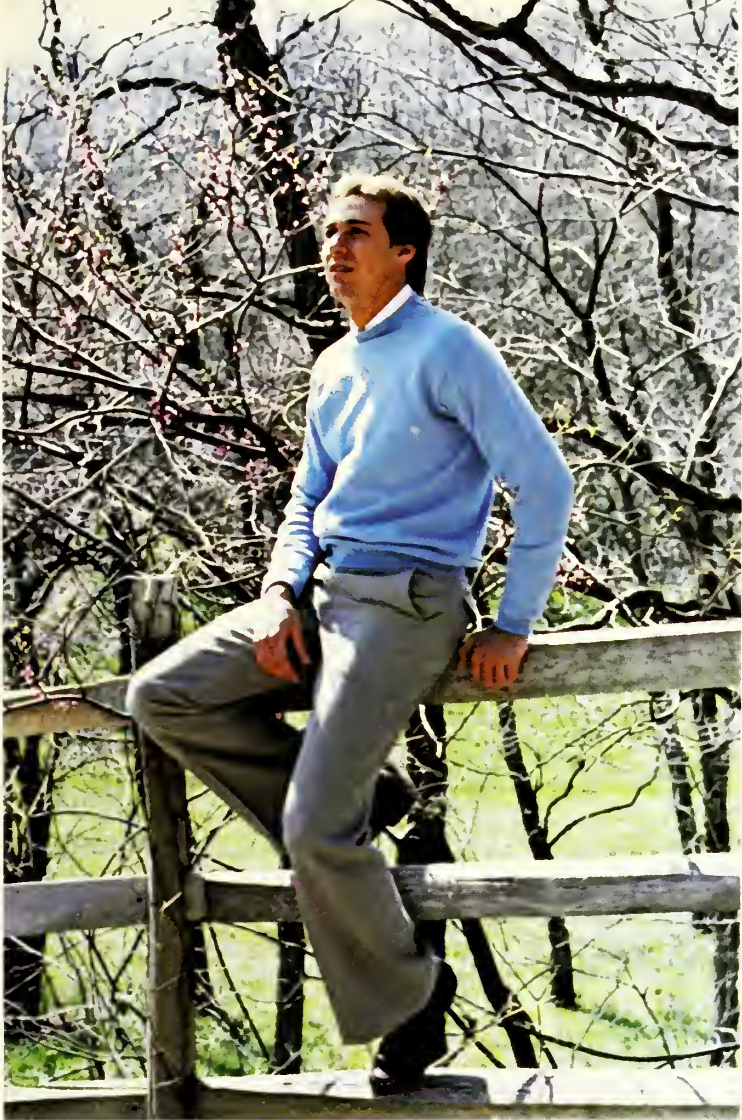

Peggy Jenkins, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Halbert Jenkins, is from Magnolia, Mississippi. She has a double major in Psychology and Communications. The summer following graduation she will participate in INTERSECT, an inner city mission team sponsored by the General Church. While here at Trevecca she was Vice-President of Honor Society, President of Pi Kappa Delta, National Semi-Finalist, President and Vice-President of Dorm Council, member of Civinettes, 1979 Valentine Queen, Chaplain of Concert Choir, Stuco Executive Vice President, Stuco Rep. '78, Stuco Parliamentarian.

Perhaps the future seems dark because the past has been so bright. We get caught up in the memories and accomplishments of yesterday, so we fear reaching for higher goals that carry with them the potential of failure. Father, help me to let yesterday go and dare to face tomorrow.

—Steve Rushing

Steve Rushing, a religion major from Jacksonville, Florida. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. V.S. Rushing. He plans to get involved in a church before entering Seminary. While at Trevecca he was a member of the Student Government as Religious Vice President; and the Ministerial Association.

"Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, you choose them as your guides, and following them you will reach your destiny."

—Carl Shurtz

"Real isn't how you are made, it's a thing that happens to you ... It doesn't happen all at once. You become."

—Margery Williams

Danny Oaks, a Chemistry & Biology major, is from Calera, Alabama. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett E. Oaks. The double major is his preparation for entrance into Medical School. Hopefully, he will set up a practice and then join the faculty at a Medical School. While at Trevecca Danny was involved in the following: Trev-echos Staff; Darda Staff; Circle K Club; Lt. Governor of Kentucky District Circle K International; and President of the Honor Society. His honors include: Freshman Chemistry Award; Honor Society; College Bowl Team; All School Award for Scholarship; Departmental Assistant; Academic Council; Presentation of a paper at Alumni Chemical Society Meeting.

"So don't be anxious about tomorrow. God will take care of your tomorrow too. Live one day at a time."

Matthew 6:34 L.B.

Brenda Miller, daughter of Mrs. Martha C. Robinsan, is from Huntsville, Alabama. She is a Music Education major with no immediate plans for the future. While at Trevecca she was active in Concert Choir (4 yrs.); Maranatha; Direction; Concert Band (4 yrs.); Choral Society (4 yrs.); Brass Quintet (3 yrs.); MENC (2 yrs.); and the Music Club (2 yrs.); She was on the Valentine Court two years and the Valentine Queen her Junior year. Brenda participated in The Fine Arts Workshop; Lyceum Committee; Faculty Judiciary Committee; and in "The Music Man."

"Happiness is neither within us only, or without us; it is the union of ourselves with God."

—Pascal

Betty Boyer, daughter of Mrs. Viola Boyer, is a Communications major from Homestead, Florida. She plans to remain in Nashville where she will work for awhile before starting a Master's Program in Social Work. While at Trevecca, Betty was a member of K-ettes; Resident Assistant in Johnson Dorm; ASB Secretary for her Junior and Senior year; and a member of the Community Living Council Committee. She was selected as Homecoming Queen her Senior year.

"Some people fall asleep and life passes them by, I fell asleep and it ran over me."

—Byron

Byron Middendorf of Nashville is the son of Mrs. Genova Middendorf. He is a Communications and Behavioral Science major. After getting a Master's Degree in Education at MTSU, Byron hopes to go into high school counseling. His involvements while at Trevecca consisted of: Circle K; Freshman Studies Group Leader; Sophomore Stuco Representative; Social Life Vice-President; Student Body President '79; and Community Living Council Chairperson. He received the Dependability Award in 1977.

Judi Grimes:

Q: What was your reaction when you knew for sure you were going to be an R.A.?

A: Excited. The impact of the responsibility didn't hit me at first.

Q: What are some of your best experiences?

A: The main thing is being able to get to know girls on a one-to-one basis; knowing that you have made new friends and not just acquaintances. Long lasting relationships are reciprocal. I have learned patience along with the girls.

Becky Rowan:

- Q: What did you enjoy most about being an R.A.?
 A: Being able to talk to every girl on the floor for the first time. Having the privilege of talking to and knowing every girl individually.
- Q: In twenty years from now what will you remember about being an R.A.?
 A: The friends I made answering echoes in the hall after 11 PM, and not having to check my own room if it wasn't clean.

Chapel

In our services there were special singers such as this trio (above) of Buz Harrison, Alice and Tim Smith, plus many other groups and solos by Richard North, and more. We had Brian Kilian (above middle) and Rusty McCorkle as organists. Dr. and Mrs. Moore (above right) were attenders. Wednesday morning was Faculty Chapel and this group was found (right) at Solomon's Porch. Local and out-of-town ministers visited our platform. Far right is Don Dunlap of College Hill.

Dr. Homer Adams was received well in his first official chapel in which he presented "Million Dollar Day" in order to pay the school debts. School spirit was restirred as everyone saw the need to raise money to meet the large debt.

A day of Praise at Trevecca

THURSDAY NOV. 16

Our day of praise activities will conclude with a communion in the McClurkin Prayer Chapel. You may come with a group of friends or a special friend or just by yourself. No groups larger than twelve please. This will be a unique praise experience for you. Come in an attitude of thanksgiving.

Slonecker Lectureship

Dr. Ralph Byron, Chairman of the Department of General Surgery at the City Of Hope Medical Center was born in Los Angeles in 1914. At present, he is a Clinical Professor of surgery. Over the past 15 years, he has written regularly for POWER, a Sunday School paper. The lecture series is sponsored by Dr. Wm. T. Slonecker of Nashville.

Staley Lecture Series

Dr. Lindsell brings outstanding credentials to the lecture series. He is presently editor emeritus of Christianity Today, after serving as editor of the distinguished evangelical periodical from 1968-1978. Previously, Dr. Lindsell served in various faculty and administrative positions in several colleges and seminaries. He holds four degrees and has published numerous books and articles as well as being editor of several publications.

Wachtel Lecture Series

Dr. Edward Lawlor was born in Yorkshire, England and moved to Canada as a youth with his family. He was converted through the witness of a Salvation Army member. In 1960 Lawlor's strong interest in evangelism was recognized by the general church with his election as Executive Sec. of Evangelism. In 1968 he was elected General Superintendent until his retirement in 1976. He continues to evangelize throughout the U.S. and Canada.

John T. Benson Lecture Series

Rev. Pal Wright presently serves as pastor of the second largest Nazarene Church on the S.E. Zone, Bradenton First. He has been a frequent speaker for youth camps, revivals and conventions. He attended BNC and Miami University.

ADMINISTRATION BUILD-ING (1944) was one of the three buildings on the site purchased in 1937. The original structure was destroyed by fire in 1943, and the building was rebuilt one year later. Remodeled in 1965, the Administration Building now houses offices.

McKay Hall (1937), was named after Lula May Tidwell McKay, who was a missionary to India. The building known as McKay Hall was one of the three original buildings on the campus when it was purchased in 1937. In 1954 McKay was partially destroyed by fire and was rebuilt in 1955. The former dormitory presently houses the campus print shop, Solomon's Porch, and a laundrymat.

Bud Robinson Student Center (1954), was named after "Uncle Buddy" Robinson who was a pioneer evangelist in the church of the Nazarene. The building was remodeled in 1965 to house the 250 seat cafeteria on the main floor while providing resident housing for women on the second floor during the fall quarter of this year. The rest of the year it was used to house visiting teams.

WAKEFIELD FINE ARTS BUILDING (1954)
 The November 1975 Founder's Day activities included the naming of the Fine Arts Building after Mr. A.C. Wakefield, a long-time song evangelist, for his contribution to church music. It houses classrooms, the 225 seat Wakefield Auditorium, band and choral practice rooms, private music practice rooms, and faculty offices.

TIA FOOTBALL

The first football game of the year ended in a scoreless tie between Alpha and Gamma. The game was characterized by fumbles and penalties. However, Terry Maxwell for Gamma did manage to scratch out around fifty yards with nineteen carries. Mike Geasley, an Alpha, was elected player of the game by virtue of his four tackles and five assists.

The second game was exciting in that afternoon was exciting with a good combination of offense and defense. Delta was victorious over Beta by a score of Twenty-two to zero. Kerry Roberts had a fine defensive game, but the undisputed player of the game was Bobby Milburn. He led the game in defensive plays in addition to setting a new TIA punting record by booting a punt of sixty-nine yards from scrimmage, kicking it about 80 yards.

The season continued with Alpha securing the top rank. Crutches flourished. Howard Wall, a Beta player had knee surgery. Pat Rider caused concern when he hurt his back. The football field is active with T.I.A. but do not count out the Sunday afternoons with "Touch Football". Huey Davis could gather a bunch of guys and gals, then teach the girls some tricky quarterback plays. Later on a Powder puff game was organized where the girls got "formal" training from coaches John Jeffries, Vic Collier, Troy Whitley, Greg Daily, and Bobby Milburn.

TIA Softball

TIA softball began with Alpha playing against Beta in the first round of play. Alpha led the way in the beginning but couldn't seem to stay on top as Beta went ahead to finish the game 5-3. Pitching for the Alpha team was Mike King. Glen Baum took the mound for Beta.

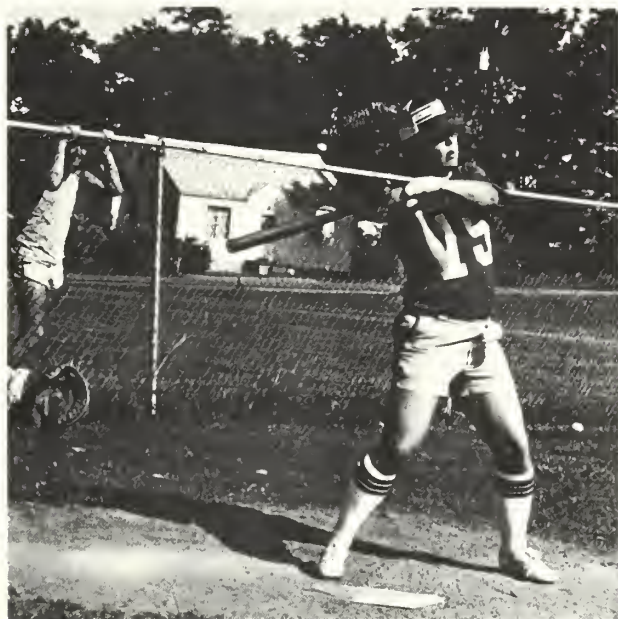

Gamma was up against Delta in the second game. Delta took a sound beating in the beginning of play as Gamma led 10-2 in the bottom of the fifth. Delta seemed to come alive a bit, but not enough to overcome Gamma's lead.

Above right: Randy Percy, a student who was involved in nearly all TIA activities, gives full attention to the pitch.

Lower right: Jerrell Harris gets ready to connect.

Bargatze's Alterations Have Excited Trevecca

Things will be a lot different for Trevecca Nazarene basketball coach Ron Bargatze, now that he has moved across town from Vanderbilt.

There will be no more crazed crowds of 15,000, no trips to majestic Rupp Arena, no chatting before games with fellow coaches like Denny Crum or C.M. Newton and no recruiting trips to find the likes of Leon Douglas or Jan van Breda Kolff.

Nevertheless, Bargatze's move to Trevecca has put new blood into a floundering program that produced a 4-21 team in 1977. The former Vanderbilt assistant has also put new uniforms (both players' and cheerleaders') into the program, a new sport information director, a new practice schedule, a new nickname, "The Nazarene Machine", and most importantly, a new team.

"There really is a lot of excitement here," Bargatze said, "They said Trevecca had good crowds last year, even with a bad year. This year, the way people are talking about the opener (November 10 vs. Lee College), we should draw even better."

Known as an outstanding recruiter at Vandy, Bargatze knows he may come under some heat if his Trojans improve too much.

"That won't bother me," he said. "There's no way they can call any of our players outlaws. They all have good grades and are eligible. As an NAIA school, we can recruit as many as our money permits, fortunately we have a lot of local players and some don't cost us much scholarship money."

Fred Harris, a member of McGavock's state title team and back-to-back MVP winner at Cumberland College, and freshman Mike Sanderson of Giles County are expected to do much of the scoring. Freshmen Greg Pemberton and Brad Whitlow and returnee Gary Vann Atta will help, too, along with 7'2" transfer Don "Dr Z" Zeiler.

Trevecca Falls to Lee In Bargatze's Debut

Visiting Lee College withstood two frantic come-back efforts by Trevecca last night to claim a 64-58 victory and spoil coach Ron Bargatze's debut with the Trojans.

It was a gutsy inside game and a poised Lee defensive effort that eventually ruined the evening for the homecoming crowd of over 1,400 in Trevecca's gym.

"We used everything we had to come back," said Bargatze of the second-half rallies displayed by the struggling Trojans. "Being a young team, I guess we had a tendency to relax a little in some crucial situations."

Trevecca does have the rare opportunity to gain quick revenge for the loss however. The Trojans host Lee again this afternoon at 2:30 for a rematch. Lee, from Cleveland, Tenn., fell to a local school, David Lipscomb College, Thursday night in overtime.

"I told our team that we're fortunate to get the chance to make up for tonight so quickly," said Bargatze, who took the Trojan job last spring after serving as an assistant at Vanderbilt. "We need to concentrate on certain areas of our game, and especially work on shutting down their (Lee's) inside game."

The Vikings' inside game, manned by 6-8 David Lattimore and 6-5 Herb Parker, came up with several clutch rebounds and tip-ins down the stretch negating Trevecca's furious rally.

Lattimore led all scorers with 23 points and rebounders with 14. Parker chipped in 11 points, and Paul Cretton had 12.

Hampered by poor shooting in the first half, Trevecca fell behind early, by as many as 11 points, and trailed 37-30 at halftime.

A slam dunk by Mike Sanderson ignited the crowd with 16:48 left in the game, however, and a spirited defense helped Trevecca to the lead (47-46) at 10:48.

But the cool Vikings quickly regained the lead and streaked to another eight-point advantage in the closing minutes.

A rash of turnovers brought Trevecca back to a four-point deficit, but Lee held on for the win.

Sanderson, a freshman from Good Springs, Tenn., led Trevecca with 16 points. Teammates Fred Harris and Roosevelt Burrell each had 12.

Times Change for Trevecca

It didn't take long for Ron Bargatze and his Trevecca Nazarene Machine to discover the difference in winning and losing.

The coach and his squad returned to the Trevecca campus from Lipscomb's McQuiddy Gym Saturday night after a rousing 70-64 over the Bisons, and met an unexpected welcoming party.

They were greeted by a boisterous crowd of about 200 Trevecca students—and the flashing blue lights of the Metro Police.

The students were gathered to celebrate the Trojans' upset victory over Lipscomb, the first win ever over the city rivals. The police were on hand because some concerned residents of the nearby T. Towers mistakenly thought some trouble was brewing with the strange late-night congregation.

Celebrations did not use to come often at Trevecca.

"It's sort of an awakening," said Bargatze, whose squad lost its first four games this season, including one to Lipscomb last week. "The people at Trevecca have been starved for a team to do well. This really means a lot to them. They're really excited."

Bill Green, the Trevecca athletic director, called it the biggest win ever for a Trojan team.

The game lay mainly in the hands of freshman point guard Brad Whitlow, who hit 18 of 18 free throws and had a game-high 26 points.

But Bargatze pointed to the psychological edge of inserting senior Gary Van Atta into the starting lineup, creating an aggressive attitude for the young Trojans. Other standouts were Greg Pemberton, guard Fred Harris, and seven-footer Don (Dr. Z) Zeiler, who produced some key blocked shots.

Quick Starts By Trevecca Defeat

CBC

Trevecca Nazarene spoiled homecoming for Christian Brothers College February 4 in De LaSalle Gym before 1,600 with an easy 77-61 victory.

The Trojans, in their fifth season as a member of the Volunteer State Athletic Conference's Western Division, are making waves under new coach Ron Bargatze.

"We have a young ball club," said Bargatze, "But we're improving. I started four freshmen today." Trevecca has 9 freshmen on a 14-player roster.

The win kept the Trojans in fourth place in the West with a 5-4 record and only a game off .500 at 12-13 overall. CBC slipped to sixth in the league with a 4-6 record, 5-15 overall.

For a half CBC stayed in the game, trailing only 26-24 at intermission after Trevecca had jumped into an 8-0 lead.

The Trojans opened the second half with another 8-0 spurt and this time CBC had had enough. Everything was downhill after that.

"I told them and told them to move and pass the ball around," said CBC coach Joe Nadicksbernd. "I said they could get the ball inside and score, but they were content to do what they wanted to do."

Only two Bucs managed to hit double figures as Jeff Sanders and Scott Santoro dropped in 27 and 10 points. Sanders was named the game's most valuable player.

"One man just can't carry the load," said Bargatze about Sanders. "You can't depend on Sanders to do it all."

The Trojans' Fred Harris wrecked the Bucs with 31 points, 23 coming in the second half.

"He's tough when it comes to one-on-one," said Bargatze of Harris. "That's why we put him down low the second half." Most of Harris' scores came from the baseline, or at the free throw line.

Brad Whitlow and Mike Sanderson each had 14 points as Trevecca shot a blistering 56.3 percent compared to CBC's 44.4 percentage.

Trevecca Claims Historic Win

The sign outside the Trevecca dressing room read: 'Our record against Belmont is 0-17'.

But the sign came down one memorable night.

The Trojans' Nazarene Machine spilled the city rival Rebels 73-70 that night in a fast and furious contest at the cramped Trevecca Gym. It was an historic win for coach Ron Bargatze's squad, marking the first victory over Belmont since the two schools started playing each other 10 years ago.

But it wasn't easy.

Trevecca found itself in a nip-and-tuck affair with the sharp-shooting Rebels and had to display a brilliant bit of marksmanship of their own. Trevecca hit a sizzling 63 percent from the field for the game, topping a 52 percent effort by the disappointed Rebels.

Trevecca hit 60 percent in the first half, but still trailed by one (41-40).

The win avenged an earlier loss to Belmont this season and matched the first win over another city rival, Lipscomb, early this season.

The Trojans got a balanced effort from its offensive performers. Junior guard Fred Harris led the team with 16 points. Freshman Mike Sanderson added 15, Greg Pemberton 14, Brad Whitlow 12, and Calvin Holmes 10.

Greg Pemberton takes to the air to claim a jump ball against Belmont's Harrison Crabtree. Pemberton's 11 points were a vital factor in Trevecca's first-ever win over the Rebels, a 73-70 decision.

To get .500 Mark

First-year Coach Ron Bargatze and his Trevecca Trojans waited 28 games to get back to the point they started at (same number of wins and losses), so a little thing like four overtimes didn't bother them.

It took FOUR overtimes before Trevecca's Calvin Holmes canned a jump shot with two seconds left to defeat intra-city rival Belmont 76-74.

8 p.m.—Ball game starts.

8:32—Sanderson, the game's leading scorer with 28, hits his 14th point of the first half and starts Trevecca on a six-point spurt that pushes it ahead 29-27.

8:36—Half ends 29-28.

8:59—Second half starts.

9:18—Harris, 21 points despite a sleepless night because of father's death, hits a jumper to put Trevecca up 40-38.

9:19—Trevecca goes to the four-corner to protect lead and responds by scoring 11 of the next 17 points to lead 51-44 with 5:39 left.

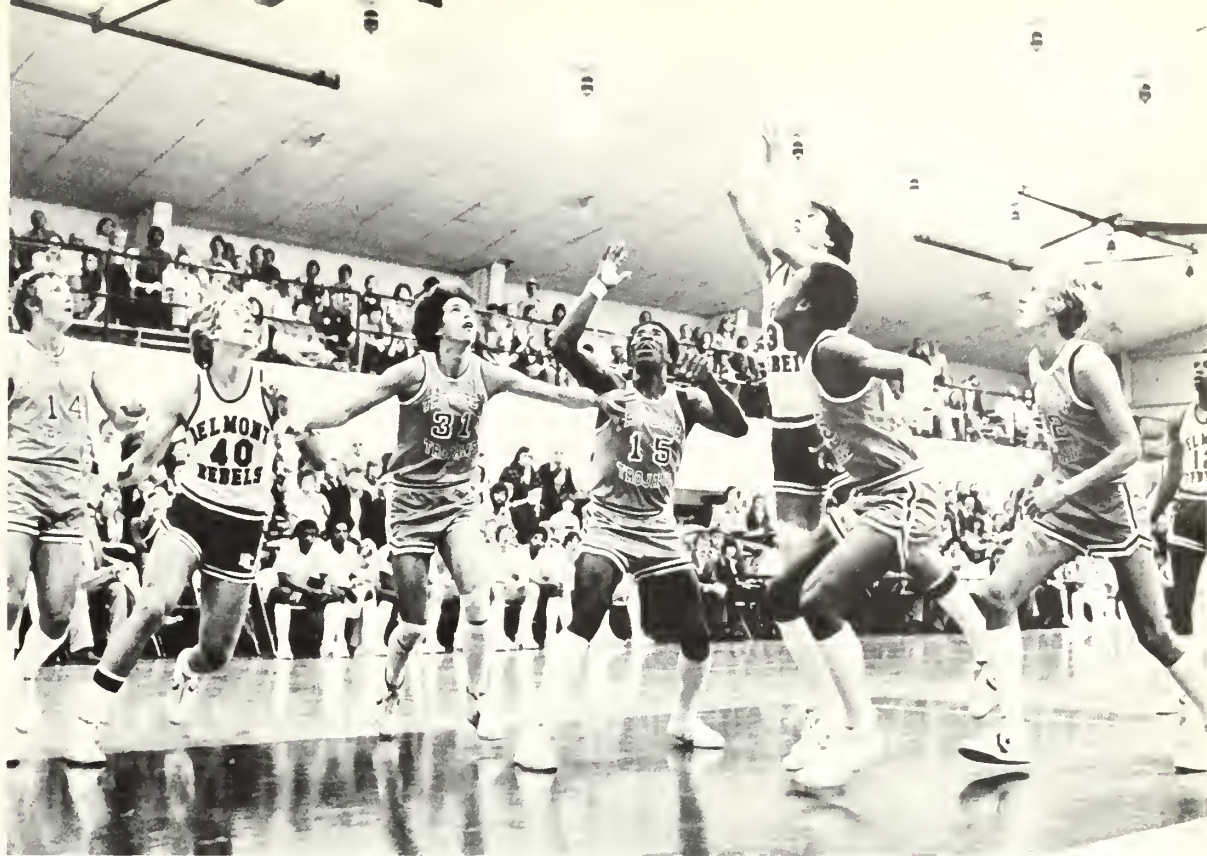

9:28—Belmont's Jay Stapp, 15 points and 11 rebounds, scores and the Rebels press full court.

9:35—Belmont down 52-50 with ball and 58 seconds left. Time out.

9:37—Ricardo Patton, 17 points, follows up his missed shot and scores to tie it at 52 and game goes into overtime.

9:41—Patton makes it 58-52 and the Rebs appear to have it but three straight misses on one-and-one (BC hit 10 of 18 from the line) gives Trevecca a chance.

9:45—Roosevelt Burrell hits two free shots to tie it at 58 with 42 seconds left and Belmont's last-ditch effort fails. No. 2.

If there's safety in numbers, then Trevecca's safe under the board with Brad Whitlow (14), Greg Pemberton (31), Fred Harris (15), Johnny Reynolds (25), and Mike Sanderson (22).

9:55—Randy Salyers hits two free throws and Belmont leads 62-59 with 1:50 left. But Trevecca ties it on Steve Thompson's crib shot as Bargatze's lapel carnation wilts. No. 3.

10:13—Salyers drops in a short jumper to make it 68-66 and Trevecca calls time with five seconds left.

10:15—Brad Whitlow trips, but lunges to tap ball to Harris who throws up a 40-footer. BINGO. No. 4.

10:27—Sanderson breaks 72-72 tie with a tip-in, but Stapp answers with a lay-up and TNC takes time with 10 seconds left.

10:29—Holmes drives to the middle and drops in the 10-foot winner that sends Trevecca fans into jubilation.

Season Ends 14-18

"Those kids came a long way in a short time."

That's how first year head coach Ron Bargatze summarized the 14-18 record of his youthful Trevecca Trojans.

Nine of the fourteen players on the Trojan roster were freshmen with senior Gary Van Atta being the ranking member of the unit. Transfer Fred Harris supplied the spark and leadership for Bargatze's crew.

Christened the "Nehi Grape" by one sportswriter in Nashville, the Trojans won a place in the hearts of their fans as well as the local sports pages with their hustle and never-failing desire.

After a rocky 0-4 start, the former Vandy assistant got his first win as college head coach by downing arch-rival David Lipscomb 70-64 on the Bison's home court.

The win, Trevecca's first ever over D.L.C., touched off a mass student celebration in front of the Phys. Ed. Center.

Others firsts for the year included whipping cross-town rival Belmont not just once, but twice during the season, breaking a long losing streak to the Rebels. Bargatze's troops broke even in the Volunteers State Athletic Conference with a 7-7 mark.

Probably the highlight of the season came February 12, as Trevecca and Belmont slugged it out through regulation time and four overtimes before the "miracle Trojans" pulled out a 76-74 heart-stopping win, on Calvin Holmes basket.

Harris, who was a questionable starter because of the death of his father the night before, made the miracle possible with a 55 foot jumper at the end of the first overtime to tie the game. Harris ended the marathon night with 21 points, trailing only teammate Mike Sanderson's 28.

The Trojans lost their next four games, including loss to Belmont in the first round of the V.S.A.C. tournament to wind up at 14-18.

Bargatze built his team with mostly Nashville-area players as only two, Brad Whitlow and Don Zeiler were from outside the state of Tennessee.

No less than eight players on the 78-79 team were from the immediate Nashville area, making the team a real drawing card at home. Record-breaking crowds jammed into the tiny T.N.C. gym time and time again to yell for their Trojans.

Senior Gary Van Atta summed it up best by saying, "The crowd support was out of this world all season long. We had bigger crowds at Lipscomb and at Belmont than they had. It was a real pleasure to play for fans like that."

At times, Bargatze would start a lineup of three and sometimes four Freshmen, with Harris as the only upperclassman in the lineup. Roosevelt Burrell played exceptionally well in a variety of roles, both as a small forward and a big guard.

Point guards Brad Whitlow and Calvin Holmes made for a run-and-gun pair. The lightning quick guards often ran opposing teams ragged on the full-court press and fast break offense.

Big men Greg Pemberton, Mike Sanderson and Johnny Reynolds along with Harris supplied the bulk of the rebounding and scoring load throughout the 32 game season.

Steve Thompson, a 6-7 post player made great strides throughout the season in a substitute role.

Trevecca had several people play big behind-the-scenes roles in their success story.

Assistant coaches Kevin Smith and Terry Compton offered their services free of charge and were big helps to Bargatze.

James Dyke was a constant friend to the basketball program, offering advice and counsel to his long-time pal, Bargatze.

Marilu White, John Carpo and Brenda Brodien kept up with all the seasonal statistics and helped form a game night crew second to none for schools our size.

Trainer Mike Vollman and manager Claude Sturgill were invaluable members of the staff. The non-starters, Lester "Cream" Morris, Lance Smith, Kelly Harned, Larry Smith and Don Zeiler were always hustling in practice and in their court appearances.

Bargatze, who since season's end has accepted the head coaching job at Austin Peay State University in Clarksville, will long be remembered on the Trevecca campus for his outstanding qualities, not only as a coach but as a man.

Trevecca basketball grew out of the cellar of the V.S.A.C. under the leadership of Ron Bargatze and for that, the new respect Trevecca has earned, we'll always be grateful.

The "Nehi Grape" are no longer the rookies of Ron Bargatze, but with nine freshmen coming back for next year, the program has been left in great shape.

Trevecca Women Claim VSAC Tennis Crown

Jackson—Winning one singles and two doubles titles yesterday, the women's tennis team of Nashville's Trevecca College won the 1979 Volunteer State Athletic Conference women's tennis tournament.

Trevecca scored 26 team points while crosstown rival Belmont College of Nashville was the runnerup with 23 points.

Kim Anderson of Trevecca won the No. 2 singles title by besting Karen McWhirter of Union 2-6, 6-2, 6-1. Anderson then teamed with Lil Fortner for the No. 1 double crown and the duo of Carol Ernest and Patti Carroll won the No. 2 title.

We not only meet our professors in the classroom, but also a church in Sunday School, the choir, and etc. And here on the gym the teacher relates to the student in a competitive way (then the students hear complaints of sore muscles in class). The top picture has Niel Nielson, Philosophy professor; John Stark of Career Planning, and Jim Quiggins, Chairman of Communications. The lower photograph captures the tough competition between Niel Nielson and Odean Baker.

The Trevecca Trojans of Coach Bill Green proudly pose with their second straight V.S.A.C. Championship Banner. The Trojans who finished 20-20 overall also posted a second-place district mark, behind eventual National Champion David Lipscomb. Left to right are Coach Green, Dave McGuire, Jimmy Mason, Rob Irwin, Greg Gunnells, Mike Vollman, Rick Brenner, Bob Amity, Jay Patrick, Tab Taylor, Kevin Sanderson, Terry Johnson, Mike McAdams, David Masencup, Roosevelt Burrell, Mike Rohlmeier, Jim Williams, Randy Burgett, Troy Whitley, Dennis Otto, Billy Miles, Tommy Bryan, and Rick Gladhill.

Emotions Peaked As NAIA Came Near

"Three-cornered emotion" is how one of the coaches in the NAIA district baseball tournament sized up the college event at Lipscomb.

The three corners—Belmont, Lipscomb and Trevecca—had plenty of reasons for excitement as the double-elimination event opened Wednesday. The trio of city rivals have all made the District 24 showdown, along with a formidable outside foe, Carson-Newman.

"It's going to be an emotional week," said Trevecca Nazarene coach Bill Green. "Anytime you have three teams from the city in the same tournament like we have, you know it's going to be interesting. It'll be three-cornered emotion."

Green and his Trojans have been busy convincing folks they didn't "back into" the tournament despite their overall losing record (17-18). Trevecca was declared co-champions of the Volunteer State Athletic Conference when rains washed out the final two rounds, leaving the Trojans and Carson-Newman as automatic qualifiers for the district event.

"We played under the same conditions as everyone else in the playoffs," said Green. "We were ready to play. We had already beaten the No. 1 team from the Eastern Division."

"All I know is our team has won 11 of its last 15 ballgames. We certainly don't think we backed up to the pay window."

Trevecca Wins In VSAC Meet

Trevecca, defending tournament champion, outscored Tennessee Wesleyan 17-8 in its opening game. Tennessee Wesleyan was eliminated from the tournament by Belmont 9-8 in a 13 inning game.

Rick Gladhill, Trevecca catcher, belted two homers and drove in four runs as the Trojans pounded out 18 hits. Rob Irwin, Tab Taylor and Greg Gunnells also smashed home runs. Irwin went 4-for-6 and Gunnells had three hits.

Randy Burgett coasted to the victory, allowing 14 hits as he improved his record to 5-3.

Trevecca Stays Alive, Belmont Out In NAIA

Trevecca and Belmont made the first day of the NAIA District 24 baseball tournament look like exactly what it was—survival of the fittest.

When the last out was made after 27 innings of play at Lipscomb's Onion Dell, three teams were left standing. Belmont was eliminated from the three-day event.

Carson-Newman opened the proceedings with a dramatic 6-5 win over Belmont, a harrowing affair which saw a three-run ninth inning rally by the Rebels end abruptly with the bases loaded.

Lipscomb humbled Trevecca 8-0 in the second game, displaying a home run barrage that included a towering grand slam by Mike Cunningham.

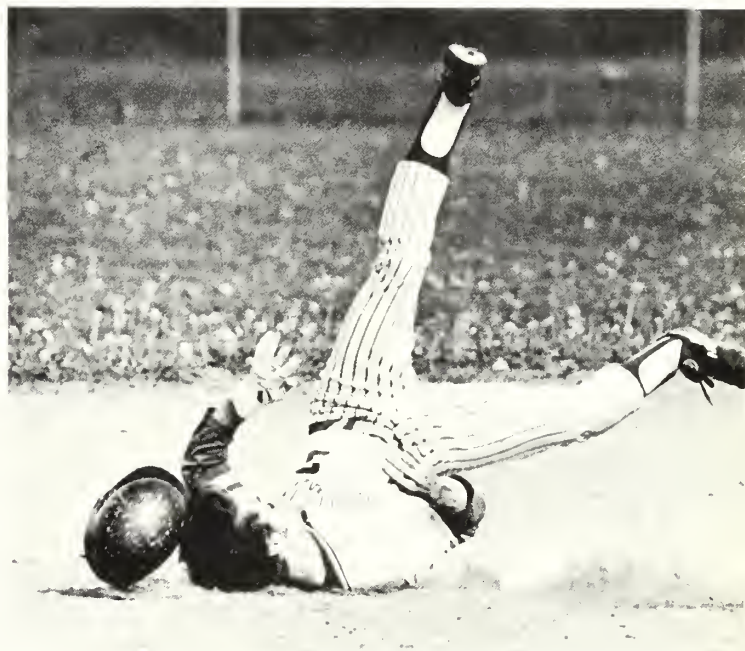

Then Trevecca bounced back with a 6-1 victory over Belmont behind the seven-hit pitching of right-hander Billy Miles, ending the season of Coach Dave Whitten's Rebels.

Lipscomb, looking to repeat as champion of the district playoff it has owned throughout the past decade, rang its bats the loudest.

The Bisons made the most of eight hits, ripping three home runs off Trevecca hurler Randy Burgett as Lipscomb lefthander Tim Pardue went the distance in an 11-strikeout performance.

Little Terry Moore, a 5-7 freshman infielder, belted the game's first round-tripper over the 330-foot mark of the temporary picket fence stretched around left field. Cunningham highlighted a five-run fifth-inning rally with his first grand slam as a Bison, sending the ball high over the 360-foot mark in rightcenter. Designated hitter Steve Baertschi capped the long ball derby with a solo shot down the right field line in the sixth.

Trevecca's Miles was no more obliging to the Rebels than Pagula. He went all the way, raising his record to 5-3, and struck out eight Rebel batters.

Above: Four year man Terry Johnson takes a spill on the base path against Belmont. Johnson overcame a shoulder separation mid-way through the season to regain his starting position at second base.

Right: Coach Green takes a break during practice to show off an interesting sidelight, his yo-yo talent. Above right: Trojan Kevin (Chinco) Sanderson, Jay Patrick, Tab Taylor and Troy Whitley make up the bullpen. All are pitchers with the exception of Taylor, who designated himself "pitching coach" during the V.S.A.C. Tournament. Tab also supplied a monster homer to brighten the faces of the Trojan pitching staff.

Below: Senior Mike McAdams gets himself together before stepping to the plate against Belmont. McAdams, a junior college transfer, split time between first base and designated hitter after spending his junior season at third base. Right: Rob Irwin manages a stolen base against David Lipscomb in the Trojans first-ever win over the Bisons in the semi-finals of the District Tournament.

Two in One

When people look back on Trevecca baseball years from now, they'll look at that deceiving 20-20 record and say, "An average year."

Not so folks.

According to Bill Green, coach of the Trojans and founder of the baseball program, "We really had two seasons."

"We started off at 4-16 and in some terrible shape. But the guys reached down and pulled themselves up by their bootstraps to finish the last 20 games of the season in fine fashion with a 16-4 mark."

Trevecca also accomplished several firsts in the 1979 season. The Trojans defeated David Lipscomb for the first time ever, who by the way, went on to win the National Championship.

Trevecca placed second in the District Tournament, their highest finish in the school's history.

Green's bunch brought home their second straight turned to school to post the team's lowest earned run average, and Mike Rhlmier came to Trevecca from Bethany College to help out in the outfield.

Junior hurlers Randy Burgett and Billy Miles led the team in most wins (five each) Volunteer State Athletic Conference Championship after finishing second to Belmont in the always-tough V.S.A.C. Western Division.

Other notable achievements include defeating three nationally ranked teams on three straight days in the District Tournament. After losing the opening game to host Lipscomb, the Trojans reeled off impressive wins over Belmont, Carson-Newman and Lipscomb before bowing to Lipscomb in the finals of the double-elimination tournament.

Seniors Rob Irwin, Rick Brenner, Jay Patrick, Terry Johnson, Mike McAdams, and Troy Whitley supplied the nucleus of the team that surprised all the "experts" and in the words of one local sportswriter "became the most exciting college baseball team in Nashville."

Transfers had a large part in the team's success as former junior college players Greg Gunnells, Dennis Otto, Jim Williams, and Rick Gladhill earned starting berths. Kevin (Chinco) Sanderson straightened out his eligibility and reand were 1-2 in strikeouts.

Sophomores Roosevelt Burrell and Bob Amity made vital contributions to the team as Burrell became a golden glove outfielder and Amity led the team in hitting and runs batted in until an ankle injury sidelined him.

Tab Taylor filled in at first base and as designated hitter for the Trojans led the club in game winning hits.

Freshmen Dave Maencup, Brad Whitlow, and Jim Mason kept the team loose while gaining valuable experience.

Team trainer Mike Vollman and Manager David McGuire helped tie all the loose ends together on what turned out to be the most successful season in Trevecca Baseball history, all things considered.

After 10 years, the baseball program is on a par with any team in Nashville and the V.S.A.C. The traditional groundwork has been laid for continued baseball success at Trevecca Nazarene College.

Adams; and in congratulations to President Adams, the Gallatin Church of the Nazarene pledges its continuing prayers and support to the administration, faculty and student body of TNC.

And in turn we ask the Administration to train carefully our scholars, to spend conservatively our dollars, and to mold consistently Christ's followers in the "faith once delivered to the saints, as taught in the Bible and outlined in the Manual of the Church of the Nazarene."

East Campus

The third floor of the Tennessee Hospital Association Building is now occupied by Trevecca Nazarene College East Campus. The space is fully covered in plush, deep pile, gold carpet. The walls are covered in a rich, mellow combination of wood paneling and vinyl and the windows are fully draped. The building is ideally located between the center of Nashville and the Airport.

Nashville East Campus exists to meet the needs of adult learners in the community who, because of work or other scheduling conflicts, are unable to attend the day scheduled classes at the central campus. Most academic programs described in the Trevecca Nazarene College catalog are available. Faculty members have either full-time, part-time, or adjunct relationship to the college which provides an educational opportunity for all who desire post-secondary education in the tradition of the Liberal Arts within a Christian context. Trevecca's Liberal Arts tradition is perceived to involve total personal development and life preparation, including career and professional education. The Christian context is interpreted in the Wesleyan tradition as emphasizing Christian love as the norm of all human relations. The community attempts to foster a climate where development and integration of these areas can occur through a Christian perspective on faith and living. This mission is guided by the educational philosophy, doctrinal convictions, ethical commitments and social sensitivity of the Church of the Nazarene as the sponsoring denomination. Most East Campus classes are held during the evening or week-end hours.

Concluding Remarks

I am so-o-o thankful for the help I received from my parents, brother, and sister when every-thing had to get to Montgomery.

Jadonna and Kat pose with me below. I was feeling about as old as I looked in that picture. They were there to listen to me when I had good or bad things to share. (Actually, Robbie Little had just finished getting me ready for a role in "The Phantom of McClurkan.")

The three men who were most instrumental in the completion of this yearbook were: Dr. J.J. Wheelbarger, Advisor; Carl Eby, Photography Advisor (who came up with solutions to continually changing photography problems); and John T. Benson, Jr., who assisted in the contractual arrangements with the yearbook company. I am grateful for their help.

Thanks to Don, Gary, and Andral who took care of shots even if I forgot. They would run and grab film and camera with just a moment's notice.

These are the last pages of a year-book which required a lot of creat-ivity, but that is only in design -- the real challenge was to re-cord -- record as many faces, groups, and happenings as possible. The goal for the 1979 Darda was to fulfill its purpose -- to be a year book from the beginning with Freshman Orientation to Graduation. Enjoy this book, the DARDA (I Kings 4:31, meaning "a wise man") it at-tempts to show the Trevecca of '78-79.
