TREVECCA SCHOOL SONG IS CHOSEN

Under the leadership of Miss Paschall and the music department, a school song writing contest was sponsored in which the deadline was April 17th.

The purpose of this contest was to make use of Trevecca's own talent as well as to select a school song. Through this contest surprising ability was recognized among the students.

Each song was voted on in chapel by the student body. The songs were read and then sung by the harmony class.

Miss Peggy Perry wrote the music and Miss Florence Nail the words of one of the winning songs. The other winning song, which tied the first mentioned, was written by Miss Paschall and the junior high school class.

Runners-up for the contest were A. D. Boone, Edrell Whitmon, Janie Lee Taylor, Florence Eden Morris, the Florida Club and Rosalyn Hendershot.

Words to the song by Miss Perry and Miss Nail are:

On a hill stands old Trevecca,
Lined against the sky,
Standing proud a Christian college,
As the years go by,
We will honor and will love her,
We will stand for right,
Always carry high her banner,
Hail to the purple and the white.

Dr. Mendell Taylor To Bring Commencement Address

Dr. Mendell Taylor, professor of Church History at the Nazarene Theological Seminary, will bring the commencement address, Tuesday, June 3, at 8:00 p.m. in the Alumni Auditorium.

MISS ROEDEL WINS NAZARENE STORY CONTEST

Last Monday in chapel Miss Person announced the winners and made the awards in the Nazarene story writing contest. This contest was open to students of all our Nazarene Colleges. Nine of our students entered. Bernice Roedel's story won first prize of twenty-five dollars. She is a senior from Indiana, who also won a prize in last year's contest. Thelma Street, sophomore, second place winner, was awarded ten dollars. The third best story was written by Elverda Northcutt, another sophomore, who is no longer at Trevecca.

Certificates of entry were given to the others who wrote stories. They were Florence Eden Morris, Iris Harris, Neva Gaye Mackey, Daisy Nelson, Grace Eby, and Genevieve McMackin.

Chorus:
Fellow students let us honor her,
May we always be,
Fellow students we'll be proud of,
Dear old T. N. - C.

The other winning song by Miss Madelyn Paschall and the junior class is as follows:
Hail to thee, our alma mater,
T. N. C.
To thy Christian standards
True and loyal we will be,
Forever.

Faithful to the God who gives us
Constant victory
Every day we pause to praise
Our God for T. N. C.

Grace Eby, next year's editor of Trev-Echoes, will be assisted by Harold Coats. Rosalyn Hendershot will be news editor and assign news stories to the reporters. The feature page will be under the supervision of Billie Edwards, feature editor. Since the staff feels as though a sports page would add to the paper's rating and also encourage campus subscriptions, Louie Jeter will be the staff's sport editor. John Childs as business manager, Brock Speer, advertising manager, and Joyce Merchant, circulation manager will work together in the business department. Paul Pierce has been chosen as art editor and Thelma Street as exchange editor. Florence Nail, Rosaleen Adkins, Neva Gay Mackey, Ed Phillips, Lou Ouida Carlton, Gladys Lane and Joyce Oliver make up the reporters. Professor D. H. Spencer is the faculty advisor.

On Tuesday evening, June 3, twenty-one seniors will be given degrees. The Bachelor of Theology Degree will be given to two of them, Bernice Roedel and Paul Blackmon.

The others who will receive the Bachelor of Arts Degree and their respective major and minor are:

Rev. C. B. Strang Baccalaureate Speaker

Rev. C. B. Strang, president of the General Board of the Church of the Nazarene, was special speaker for the baccalaureate service, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the Alumni Auditorium.

Rev. Strang, who is now pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in Bethany, Oklahoma, was born in Bellwood, Pennsylvania. He has held the following pastorates: Butler, Pa., Akron, Ohio., Alliance, Ohio, Lynn, Mass., Pittsburgh, Pa., and Columbus, Ohio. He has held the pastorate at Bethany for the past seven years.

Rev. Strang received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from Mt. Union College, Alliance, Ohio and his M. A. and S. T. B. from Boston University, Boston, Massachusetts. For the past seven years he has been a member of the Board of Trustees of Bethany-Peniel College.

The college mixed chorus will sing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Gloria" at the service. Mrs. Bennett will direct them.

"FROM THE TOWER"

This is Dr. "Go Get 'Em," and I have been examining cases and giving advice for nearly a year now. In all kinds of weather I have withstood; and I feel that I have aged tremendously. I am now an old man and it is a good thing for there is just one week of my journey to be completed. I have a few jobs to do yet, such as: X-Ray patients; write a load of prescriptions and give a few hyperdermics to awaken people and get them in good shape for vacation.

One patient just came by to inquire about a Ford automobile. Do you suppose she has aged so much she needs a car to get home in. We'll let you find out. The patient is Lottie Phillips.

Do you suppose Genevieve McMackin needs to be under a physician's care? ? ? Eldo Lang asked her about Saturday night for a date and she replied, "Nothin doin, I've got to listen to Gang Busters." Speaking of Genevieve, she went to sleep the other day while Dr. Bracken was praying and dreamed that Robert Gray was dating someone. Do dreams mean anything? ? ? ?

Irene Sutton doesn't like to go to the doctor, she likes to go to the dentist. At least that was her excuse for not being in Trigonometry Class last Monday. She is to be married June 4, 1947. Do you suppose she had her false teeth plastered in? ? ?

Wonder if Addison Warren has been trying all year to muster up courage to be with Iris Harris? ? He succeeded this past Friday night. Incidentally, they make a cute couple.

A "Jewell" has "Cross" ed a "Man." (Doris Jewell and Jimmy Crossman).

Wonder if Homer Adams ever gets any iced tea at home. We say that he doesn't, for he drank thirteen glasses at the Florida outing the other night.

Paul Gomer reached defeat, (de-feet) the other day in Trigonometry Class. Someone hid his shoe—He had to reach (de-feet) to put it back on.

Robert Gray must be well acquainted with the pictures of famous men at Dr. Bracken's house. He mistook Dr. McConnell for Woodrow Wilson. But then I guess everyone is dumb sometimes for Sarah Spruill thought a picture of Abraham Lincoln was one of Dr. Bracken's grandfather's. They say that it pays to be ignorant.

Marie Peery is living up to her name, "Trio", for she knocked a tree down Sunday while driving. So now it is the "Glad Tidings Treo."

As we turn back the pages of time, we see an outstanding character, namely William Peach, who became a popular athlete when he made two touch-downs on a muddy field. Willie is an excellent sport in football, but he does not have too much interest in softball.

This is all my cases for this year and I hope that my advice has been satisfactory. "I declare, this is the last week of school, without a doubt;

The time has come for us to get out. Some go to the seashore and some to the bay, Some go home and others stay. Whether you take a bath or whether a shower, Please think of us and think of the TOWER. Think of Trevecca and many a good time,

And the bells of memory will begin to chime. Think too, of coming back, And I'm sure you'll be thinking on the right track.

So until next year I'll say Adieu, And as for the TOWER, I'll leave it with you.

I have really enjoyed writing the article this year and wish to say, "Thanks for the gossip, thrills, laughs, sorrows and all kinds of propoganda. Have a good vacation and hurry back." —Ed. Phillips

As the Faculty Sees It

Trevecca's greatest need at the present time is books for the library. There is a drive on now which will last throughout the summer to get 4000 books and it is the duty of every student to do his or her part to get these books. All students are here to get an education but no education is complete with just material received from text books. It must be supplemented with other books on the subject.

Then there is the question of our accreditation. A larger library is necessary before we can hope to be fully accredited. This is our great goal right now and we must all do our part to get more than just the 4000 required books.

INTRODUCING OUR SENIORS

RUBY McCURLEY PLANS TO BE LIBRARIAN

Ruby McCurley plans to be a librarian after graduating. She will receive her Bachelor of Arts Degree in June with a major in English and a minor in Education and Psychology. In the near future she hopes to attend Peabody College and get her Master of Arts Degree in Library Science. She has worked in connection with the library every year that she has been here and she has stayed here two summers to do library work.

Her home is in Mobile, Alabama, and she says that she has the most wonderful parents in the world. She was brought up in a Christian home and her parents influenced her to come to Trevecca. Her brother will receive his Bachelor of Divinity Degree from Southern Methodist University this year. He attended Asbury College before going there.

Ruby's hobbies are boating and reading. Before coming to Trevecca she went to Twentieth Century Business College in Mobile and she was supervisor of the stock room for S. H. Kress and Company.

During her four years here she has been secretary of the Sophomore Class, secretary and vice-president of the Alabama Club, business manager of Trev-Echoes, and co-editor of the 1946 Darda.

When asked what she thought of Trevecca she said, "Trevecca has made a definite contribution to my life and I shall always be her debtor. Whatever success I shall attain will be a result of what she has done for me.

Frank Abston, who sings baritone in the college quartet, will receive his A. B. degree in June with a major in history and a minor in education and psychology. He came to Trevecca in 1938 and after being in the Army Air Forces for two years, he returned here at the beginning of the second quarter to finish his college work.

His wife, the former Eleanor Calihan, also attended Trevecca. They have two children, a boy and a girl.

Upon graduating, Frank plans to teach history.

Homer J. Adams, college senior, from Fort Lauderdale, Florida, was reared in a Nazarene home and converted at the age of seven. He entered Trevecca in 1939, joined the United States Navy in September 1942, and was commissioned Ensign in 1944. After spending 14 months in the South Pacific as a gunnery officer and executive officer on a sub-chaser, he served as operations officer for Gulf Sea Frontier. Homer re-entered Trevecca in September of 1946 to complete his senior year. Upon graduating he plans to teach, preferably in a Nazarene school. His major subject is history and his minor is economics.

An outstanding Pamona College graduate, a history major, informed college buddies that he had failed. For awhile he had planned to work part time and attend graduate school, his aspirations seemed doomed. He had failed to pass the Painters, Paperers and Decorators union exam, disqualifying him for the part-time employment. But on second thought, that isn't so tragic. 'Twould be better if historians stayed historians and paperhangers stayed just paperhangers.—Associated Collegiate Press.

At a northern university, a professor apologizing for not knowing how long the class had run, said, "My watch has stopped and the hall clock is not running."

A voice in the back quipped, "There's a calendar right behind you."—Associated Collegiate Press.

MOMENTS OF MEDITATION

WHEN GOD LOOKED DOWN
By Florence Nail

When God looked down upon the earth
I think He created the "new birth".
With His magic wand He touched the trees;
With His lips He kissed the rose
He gave the violet color from His eyes
And dressed the ground up in new clothes.

He saw how weary man would be
With nothing beautiful to see,
So He painted the sunset with His brush
And later sprinkled stars about.
The moon He put there in the sky
To help the weary wanderer out.

Just so, when God looked down on earth
He saw I needed the "new birth"
With His compassion He touched my heart
And from my low estate I rose.
He filled my heart with His great love
And dressed my soul up in new clothes.

"WHICH DO YOU LIKE BEST?"
By Rosaleen Adkins

"Which do you like?" asked the fairy of the two
"I love the autumn leaves of brown
When they come tumbling down
And everything is hushed and still
Until the wind carries the sound of whip-poor-will Floating over the red, brown and yellow of earth."
Thus answered the Dryad.

"I love the winter of white snow flakes.
Like the sparkling dew they fall
Upon the evergreens short and tall.
The wind plays as master magician rare
Who whisks Jack Frost into a snare.
The wind may blow but there is Mirth
That's what I like best whispered the Dwarf.

"The summer's sweet peace of soul
Seems to melt me with her boldness:
She flirts with her bowers of flowers
So many I could not name.
Their beauty entralls and haunts for shame
As the sea and sky show their loveliness.
Her beauties are untold" said the Fairy.

I was not noticed as I stood by
Did they not notice my sigh?
I love the spring season best of all,
For love and lovers is her call.
Among the daisies and grass so green
Merry and lighthearted souls are seen.
Oh, but the thrill is beyond control.

When a robin smoothes her breast and behold!
She sings from her heart a melody
As all the other lovely birds join her spree
The shadows fall on shore and hill
As the wind plays with the daffodill.
Spring is sung by everyone
But none can tell her loveliness—not one!

An Indiana coed left a list with her roommate—
to avoid confusion, she claimed. It read like this:
"If I get a call from:
Mort—I have a guest for the weekend.
Bob—I've gone to Naptown.
Squeezy—Gone home. Don't ever expect to be back.
Richard—I'm in the library. Come on over."
—Associated Collegiate Press.

According to the Daily Texan, the prof was asking the names of students in his class.
"And your name, son?"
"Jule, sir."
"You shouldn't abbreviate. Your name is Julius."
The prof went on to the next student. "And your name is. . ."
"Billious, sir," replied the scared freshman.
—Associated Collegiate Press.

An AD Pi freshman, Pat Barnum, became fussed during a pop quiz in English comp recently at the University of Oregon. Scrounging around in her brain frantically for a last minute fact or two, she was interrupted by the professor's, "Write your name on the back of your paper, please, and turn it in."

She gazed ceilingward, scratched hurriedly, and turned it in. Only too late, and horror-stricken, did she realize that she had written—"English Comp. Love, Pat."

The height of conceit is the person who works crossword puzzles with a fountain pen.

HEADLINE CHEATER

By Jeter

To keep from cheating the headlines, let's give them a clue. The high school's great undefeated team drew the curtains shut on this year's softball league finale. In doing this, they proved their ability by shutting out the second place upperclassmen. By winning the softball championship and runners-up in football, I think the High School should be classified as the outstanding team in this year of athletics. I also think that the freshmen deserve second place consideration with the upperclassmen a close third.

This year has marked the close of the most successful season of athletics at Trevecca. Most of this credit is due to the fine job that Prof. Spencer has done as sponsor of the Athletic Association. My thanks go also to Jimmy Thrasher for his splendid job as sports editor. One of my keenest desires is to see a well rounded athletic program at Trevecca. Through our efforts put forth this year and the years to come I think that Trevecca will become a place where good Christian men may participate in clean, wholesome games of activity.

Predictions for next year are that the strongest teams will be the Freshmen and the Sophomores and that the most hotly contested ball game will be between the Redbirds and the grammar school.

Let's everyone boost Trevecca's athletics this summer and may next year find Trevecca's school spirit the greatest.

skimp sketch

I have for you today an interview with a high school senior who was born in Green Cave Springs, Florida, on a sunny day in October. As to the year—, I'll let you secure that bit of information. This youngster (??) correction—this young man loves potato salad, ham and pecan pie (who doesn't?). He was saved in 1946 and was sanctified at College Hill this year. This gentleman is called to the ministry and plans to attend the cemetery—I mean Seminary after his college education. This individual likes all sports and likes to play them barefooted. Out of all the months—June is his favorite. Tlier Ejuoe

UNDEFEATED HIGH SCHOOL WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Sparked by the timely hitting of Bob Benson, the high school clinched the league championship and their sixth straight win. Their win, which was a 6-0 shut-out over the upperclassmen, was the first of its kind in the league this year.

The High School started scoring early in the first inning. This was the result of Chamber's miscue on Benson's bunt. Benson then tallied the first marker on Shearer's sacrifice. The second inning also showed their poweress when Olie McCaskell opened with a triple and was followed by Benson's and Cain's base hits. After this the outcome was certain and also reassured in the high school's favor as player Coach Spencer and Jeter knocked successive home runs in the sixth inning.

Benson's three hits in four times at bat and upperclassmen's Thrasher with two for three times at bat led the batting order for the day.

COLLEGE SENIORS HONORED

The College Senior Class have accepted an invitation to a breakfast given by Dr. and Mrs. Mackey, Friday, May 30 at 7:30 A. M. Mrs. Mackey is the class sponsor.

Friday evening following their class night program, the college senior class is being honored by a reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gresham.

CUPID'S CAPERS

Cupid has been on the job this school year. How do I know? Just ask the seven couples who have agreed to spend their lives together—each couple, that is.

Irene Sutton and George Pitzer will be married June 4, at Old Hickory Church of the Nazarene at 8 p.m. Is Irene excited! She thought everyone knew. How should I know? Everyone is invited, by the way.

Brother H. H. Wise will tie the knot June 5 when Ray Gullett and Vernetta Rouse say "I will" at the First Church of the Nazarene here in Nashville. Vernetta will not have to go hungry because with the man there is a restaurant. Sounds good.

Betty Sue Patton and John Hamby haven't decided exactly when they'll wed, but it will be this summer in Alabama. Is she excited? What do you think?

Frances Hamilton will have her cereal September 4 when she says "I do" at Lexington, Ky. When I asked her what she was thrilled about, she said seriously, "Are you kidding?" The groom is the honorable Cyril Palmer.

Frieda Brown's big day will occur on June 5 at Blakemore Church of the Nazarene when she will take Bob Buchanan to be her "loyal wedded husband". She said glibly, "People don't know what they're missing."

Next year is your chance, girls; to come it's leap year. Who'll be the first to leap ?? ?

A CHAT WITH LOTTIE PHILLIPS

I quote, "I was born March 21, 19?? (you guess the rest) in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. I was converted July 5, 1944, at 8:55 on Friday night and sanctified July 6th at the same hour. Six months later I was called to preach, and have been preaching and enjoying it for two years.

"I enjoy any good sport, especially softball and basket ball.

"My favorite, as far as eats are concerned, is fried chicken along with French fried potatoes. But, better than anything, I like ONIONS.

TREV-ECHOES GAL 7 BARROW

"After completing my college career, I plan to be in full-time work in the field of evangelism. I have no other desire but to serve God and to be completely resigned to his will. I am satisfied completely serving Him. My motto has been for several years, "Others, Lord, yes, Others." As long as I can serve others I'm happy.

"Trevecca can be terminated as the "vestibule of heaven," for truly it's that to me. Trevecca and its faculty have never failed me and the inspiration that I've received here has excelled any that I could have found anywhere else.

"My desire is to spread throughout this country the high standards of Trevecca, and encourage others to attend this wonderful institution and to enjoy all that I've enjoyed.

"Truly it is wonderful to serve Jesus."

FINE ARTS PROGRAM

The music and speech departments presented a very splendid fine arts program Friday, May 23, in the Alumni Auditorium. The music and speech departments have grown this year and we have some very good talent among our students. Piano solos were given by Glenn Ellen Cassell, Naomi Morgan, Caroline Hall and Peggy Perry. Soloists were Rosalyn Hendershot, Josephine McKeenan, Clayton Langford, Homer Adams, Marian Edwards, Peggy Perry, and Homer Bensen. Trumpet solo by Harry Carpenter, violin solo by Florence Eden Morris, piano duet by Ouida Alford and Juanita Eby. Jimmy Tate represented the speech department.

The program was enjoyed very much by all who heard it. We feel that Trevecca is growing more and more in the two fields of music and speech.

Clubs and Classes

Florida Club members slated their last outing of the year for the evening of May 22. Twenty-seven attended the social on Thorn Hill where flying Dutchman, electricity, dodge ball, and volley ball were played.

For supper they had sandwiches, baked beans, potato salad and plenty of ice tea. Even though there was an enormous amount of food and the committee thought perhaps much would be left over, it had nearly all disappeared by the time John Chambers had finished eating.

Homer Adams made the remark anyone who drank more than thirteen glasses of tea would be considered a hog. Homer's conscience must have bothered him after that for three gallons of iced tea was brought back and sold at the girl's dormitory. Frank Tuggle groaned in the library that evening, "Never again!"

The members unanimously agreed that it was about the best outing of the entire year.

The High School Junior Class decided, since we had no outings this year, to start a new event in school life—Junior Day. Saturday morning about 4:30, we left our cozy beds, dressed, and drove 40 miles to Ruskin Cave where we had bacon, eggs, doughnuts, and coffee for breakfast.

After eating we began to explore a little. We discovered that climbing peaks is not good for John Chambers. He has a tendency, somehow, to slide down to level ground whether he wants to or not. Wilma Lobb must be "tops" because she came down head first.

After Miss Paschall called her sheep together, we walked to Jewel Cave where we saw many interesting and historic sights. Upon opening the door of the cave, we were faced with an unwelcome sight—it was raining. This did not stop our good time. It only added to our fun. Slick concrete and Omer Hamilton do not mix together well.

We cooked hamburgers inside Ruskin Cave. We had all we could eat along with strawberry shortcake, R. C. Cola's and Evelyn Fitzwater's special potato salad.

After a day of real fun, we arrived back at school. The greatest surprise came when we saw Juanita Eby, Jack Williams, Andy Benson, and Omer Hamilton down at supper. We look forward to lots of fun again next year when we will be dignified (???) seniors.—Gladys Lane, Reporter.

"The biggest room in the world is the room for improvement."

Georgians, believing that to be true, have accomplished something for one of these rooms. The Georgia Club has felt a need of "outing utensils". Money has been raised and these utensils have already been purchased. Any club, class or group may enjoy using them provided they use them according to regulations. We hope to add to this project as finances permit. Many thanks for all contributions. All members of the club are anxiously looking forward to a grand outing early Saturday morning when they can use the utensils.

The Tennesseans and their guests walked to Mill Creek for their last outing this year. The crowd was rather small but they all had a wonderful time.

Walking and then playing ball gives most people a huge appetite—Tennesseans are not exceptions. Robert Gray fried several hamburgers and there were all the trimmings too—onions and pickles and also potato chips and pork-and-beans. Pepsi's were on the menu, along with plenty of ice cream.

We Tennesseans always have a good time so we were not surprised when everyone agreed that the evening was well spent. Here's hoping the outings of the Tennessee Club will always be a happy memory for those who attend them.

KENTUCKY CLUB OUTING

At 4 o'clock Monday, the Kentuckians, along with their visitors started out for Shelby Park, where we spent a very enjoyable evening.

Our Alabamian visitors, John Hamby, Smitty Ferguson, and Douglas Harmon did not learn that we "Hill Billies" were civilized until they saw that we all wore shoes.

The evening was spent boat riding, taking pictures. Of course the most important thing was eating, weiners and marshmallows being the main attraction.

During the course of the evening, Sonny Crawford was the cause of Mabel Carr's falling down in the mud. They were not dating each other either. I wonder what his motive was.

Can you imagine Delores Lobb and Frances Hamilton eating only two weiners each. Ask Wilma Lobb and Miss Hooper how many R. C.'s they drank.

Janice Engle helped the vice-president prepare the food.

After most of the fun was over, we started back to school. Ask Rob and Marcella how they enjoyed their ride in a rumble seat.

Take it from me—we had fun.

Well, we found out who call themselves the Humble Servants of the Senior Class. It was none other than Howard Wall and Paul Hocutt—the two hardest working members of our class. They took us to Percy Warner Park after keeping us guessing as to whether we were going to the moon or just to Pickett State Park again. John Chambers drove the truck.

In spite of the fact that it had rained most of the day we had fun on the playground. Dr. Mackey and Miss Paschall proved to us that they enjoy playing too.

The important part of most outings is the eats and the boys certainly didn't leave anything out. We had all the hot dogs we wanted—with onions and slaw too—and the best punch I've ever drunk and marshmallows. We had such a good time on our last outing as students of T. N. C.

Dr. Mackey, Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Thrasher and daughters, Miss Helen Neisler, Miss Madelyn Paschall, Mrs. Frank Abston and son, Gary, Mrs. Paul Blackmon and Mr. Walton Hurt were guests other than the seniors.

Thanks Paul and Howard for a wonderful time of fun. We shall not forget it.

DARDA CONTEST WINNERS ENTERTAINED

Winners of the Darda contest, were entertained by the blue eyes in the school dining hall Monday evening, May 19.

Ed Phillips and Marie Peery led the group in a couple rounds of "Row, row, row your boat," (with the assistance of Pauline Bumpus). "Every Day with Jesus", "Got any Rivers," "I Know the Lord Will Make a Way For Me," "I will Not Be Afraid," and Trevecca's new theme songs were also sung.

After Professor D. H. Spencer said grace, the brown eyes quickly devoured the hamburgers, doughnuts, potato chips, and cold drinks and returned to the line behind the blue eyes for seconds and even thirds.

New fads appeared at the social. Marie Peery and Rosalyn Hendershot went back to their grammar school days and came adorned in pigtaails.

Robert Gray, in his apron, helped Mrs. Howard and others in preparing the food. Pauline Taylor, Annabelle Ward, Christine Miller, Daniel McNutt, Rosaleen Adkins, Irene Sutton, David Hail and George Pitzer were the kitchen help.

Hop! hop! hop! In an attempt to imitate a rabbit, Marvin Appleby fell over backwards in his chair when he sat down to rest. The other participants in the sack race, brought loud laughter from the spectators. LaVerne Case lost his shoe in the sack somewhere between the starting point and the finish. Peggy Perry was left holding the bag.

LIQUOR ADS

As a Christian and church member, are you interested in helping to stop liquor advertising? Miss Person is encouraging her students to cut out newspaper and magazine advertisements, place stickers on them stating that they did not like its appearance, and send it to the publisher. The same can be done about radio advertisements. By sending to Liquor Ad. Crusade, Box 44, Rolla, Missouri, a supply of such stickers may be obtained.

"If the church people of America would cooperate we could prevent liquor advertisements. Everyone go home and talk it up. Not only can harmful advertisements be stopped by many persons writing in, but good advertisements may continue if people are interested enough to write publishers and radios stating their approval," Miss Person urged.

CLEAN-UP

What a day! What a day was Wednesday, May 28th! Clean-up day! But we can't complain—after all the faculty members were nice enough to let us have our choice—either clean the school and all nearby property thereby adjoining it or go to class and have a test. (Did I say choice?) Tests being mental labor and work physical, most of us took to the physical with the glimmer of a hope that maybe we'd get something not too tiring. I hope no one slides down on that chapel auditorium floor. The College Juniors certainly used the wax on it. And those Kemtone walls in the Administration Building are much lovelier than they were before. Robert Gray and the High School Senior boys did that. And for all those students who washed windows and swept floors and worked on the campus, and did various and sundry jobs we thank you for your cooperation.

The college seniors was given the duty of cleaning the front lawn; college sophomores, the north end of McClurkan Building; outside of windows, junior theological students; high school senior girls, offices in Ad Building; high school juniors and freshmen, rest rooms; and high school sophomores, the cleaning of doors in all buildings.

We were repaid wonderfully well for our work—sandwiches, lemonade, pork-and-beans, potato salad, and cookies made a most tempting supper. (And was I hungry!) Alma Teeple and Rosalyn Hendershot made cute little beans and potato servers; Lesper Heflin thought she could advertise the sandwiches, and Paul Hocutt and Clarence Barrows had a dipping good time with the lemonade. Seemingly, everyone enjoyed himself, especially Bill Elkins.

But the most beautiful scene of all was the prayermeeting. Ed Phillips led the singing and Willa Dean McPherson played the accompaniment on her accordeon. We sang some songs and a chorus or two; then Kenneth Slifer read the

FLORIDA CLUB PRESENTS MAJOR PROJECT

In chapel Thursday, May 29, the Florida Club presented their major project of the year—a trophy case to be placed in the vestibule of the McClurkan Building. Individual trophies for the members of the winning teams in football and softball were also presented. These went to the off-campus freshmen team and the high school team, respectively.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

The high school seniors were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Taylor at the beautiful home of the Taylor's on 27 May. We had a very nice time. We played badminton, ping pong, horse shoes, chinese checkers, and many other games.

Don't you wish you had some home made ice cream? It surely was good and so was Claphre Spencer's birthday cake.

Thanks for the grand time.

Scripture reading found in Psalms 19:7 and 95:1-6. Professor Spencer led us in prayer after which Willa Dean sang "The Old Rugged Cross."

Five students were called on to say a few words as to what Trevecca meant to them. Howard Wall, Marvin Appleby, Richard Steele, Ford Boone, and Bernice Roedel were the chosen ones.

Following that Betty and Clarine Hall sang "He'll Never Forget to Keep Me." The close of the service consisted of testimonies which were given in a spirit of love for Trevecca and for God. Dr. Gresham pronounced the benediction.
