BAND DIRECTOR ARRIVED SATURDAY BOARD MEETS FEB. 2

CURRENT NEWS

The "boy" from Missouri, whose mother said could plow the straightest furrow in all the state, stood before an estimated 130,000 persons and with his right hand up-raised promised to do his duty "so help me God."

Television cameras, for the first time in history, picked this colorful scene and beamed it throughout the nation.

In his speech that followed, Mr. Truman set forth a four point program pledging the following:

1. Unflinching support to the United Nations.
2. continued aid for world economic recovery.
3. Support—including military aid—to bolster freedom loving nations against oppressors.
4. A "bold new program" to help the world needy areas.

Throughout his speech he lifted his voice in scorn whenever he mentioned communism. Russia's ambassador Panyushkin listened intently, but unemotionally to the President's bitter words.

Washington's business men were a disappointed lot when the crowds cleared away. The place where they ate and slept no one knows. Thousands of rooms went unrented and more thousands of hot dogs went uneaten. The one quarter of a million dollars spent to attract and comfort the visitors was scarcely returned.

According to Time, the President's take home pay netted him only eighty dollars ($80.00) weekly. Income taxes alone took a rather cool $30,000. from his salary. The new salary now is $100,000. with a $50,000. tax free expense to be spent as the President chooses.

Mr. Truman said as he turned to Vice President Barkley, "When I shake his hand I shake the hand of all of you." Thus he avoided the strenuous handshaking that has followed all inaugurations.

While one great nation watched her leader shoulder his responsibilities, another one watched hers slip quietly away for a "rest." Chiang left his command to another while he visits his ancestral home. His confusing message left no indication as to when he would return.

Dean G. Achenson's appointment to be secretary of state was approved by the senate with only six members objecting. Senator Vandenberg praised Achenson's service as a public official. He let it be known also that the Republicans did not underwrite his entire foreign policy.

Something short of pandemonium was raised when some one tried to slip a last-minute-bill through the senate, removing the amusement tax from tickets to various uninaugural festivities. Many who sold tickets without the tax were left holding the

It is a pleasure to welcome Rev. William H. Howick as a new member of the faculty of Trevecca. Bro. Howick was born in Ontario, Canada. His father was a minister and also Major in the Salvation Army. They came to the United States where his father preached all through the Central states. He then returned to Canada and retired.

Upon their return to Canada Bro. Howick attended the Canadian Nazarene College and completed study for the Bachelor of Theology degree. He worked for the college as Advertising Manager. He organized and directed a band at the Canadian College and also taught all band instruments.

Bro. Howick is not only a teacher but he is also a minister. He was ordained in 1943 and he has been pastoring since that time.

Bro. Howick is to offer instruction in all band instruments. Plans for building of the band are progressing nicely. Enthusiasm is at an all time high. Interest was shown by the good attendance at the first of the meetings which was held January 24, 1949.

DARDA STAFF ENTERTAINED

The Darda Staff was entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. P. Gresham on January 18. They were given a steak dinner. The evening was thoroughly by everyone and the Darda Staff wish to express their thanks to Dr. Gresham, the sponsor, and to Mrs. Gresham for this occasion.

GIFT FROM MISSISSIPPI

The young people on the Mississippi District have recently bought a $3.75.00 water cooler for the cafeteria. The pastor of the church in Magnolia, Mississippi, president of the Mississippi District N.Y.P.S., promises to boost Trevecca throughout the entire state of Mississippi.

Students, if you miss the program this Friday evening you will be the looser.

SOPHOMORE CAMPAIGN

The chapel program Friday January 21, was given over to the College Sophomores. Spontaneous reports were given from students about the progress that was made on the Booster Campaign, during and after the holidays. There was a good response from the students on what they had done. Many told what they did and their response. Those that participated were—

- Herman Slonecker
- Hubert Bankston
- M. H. Stocks
- Fluffy Calkins
- LaVerne Case
- Ruth Burnette
- Freddie Sweeney
- Colein Long
- Lovie Pennycoff
- Don Conrad
- Walter Moore
- Samuel Martin
- David Patton
- Don Hale
- Jack Myers
- Verlin Archer
- Carl Gray

This chapel program presented by the College Sophomore class reflected much of their enthusiasm. This project should not only concern the sophomores, but should make all of us more aware of doing something for our school.

MISSIONARY PROJECT

Dr. Bracken returned from the General Board meeting with very serious news. Contrary to prevalent opinions our foreign missionary staff has been suffering from over expansion, necessitating a larger maintenance fund than the Board possesses. Worse than this, the Church has not increased its giving per capita, forcing the Church to draw from its reserve fund to the amount of two hundred thousand dollars. A responsible source has stated that some of our missionaries have been compelled to sell some of their own furniture in order to maintain a livelihood and remain on the field.

The Ministerial Association is endeavoring to help meet this situation by organizing the W.F.M.S. pledge system among the students, beginning February 27 and ending at Easter.

The Ministerial Association has recently chosen committees for various phases of work. They are as follows:

- Chapel
 - Don Ballard—chairman
 - Lottie Phillips
 - George Privette

- Newspaper
 - Clayton Smith—chairman
 - Carl Gray
 - Nelson Goodlet

- Pledge
 - Carlos Roby—chairman
 - Malcolm McNeer
 - Christine Jenkins
 - Walter Moore

He has been pastor of churches as Denver, Colorado, Bresee Ave. Church in Pasadena, and Walla Walla, Washington. For twelve years he was pastor on North West Pacific district. He has two sons in the ministry.

Dr. Vanderpool has been on the General Board for four years. He has had extensive experience in the evangelistic field. It speaks very highly of him that he being a District Superintendent, was elected by the District Superintendents.

MUSIC CLUB PROGRAM

The annual meeting of our Board of Trustees is always one of interest to both students and constituency since the progress of our college is involved. However, since of our students are new and several are not members of our church and numerous questions concerning procedure in the Board meeting have arisen.

The major duties of a college Board of Trustees as we understand it are as follows:

Since the Board meets only one day out of the year it would of necessity only be concerned with broad policies and general principles connected with the administration. By such, we mean the election of a President, approval of the faculty members on recommendation of the president, planning the type and location for new buildings, advising as to general spending of monies, and hearing reports of the progress of the school for the year, etc.

Details of administration and organization, planning and erecting buildings, and minute technicalities connected with the carrying out of broad policies in the operation of the school are left in the hands of the president and his faculty, which, by reason of their election to a responsible position, is indication of their ability to do the job.

As students we appreciate the work of the Board of Trustees, but we realize that the heavy load of the burden of the school rests on the president and his staff members and we want both Board

AS THE FACULTY SEES IT

"Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields for they are white already to harvest." John 4:35.

"The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest." Matthew 9:38

Soul winning is the main business of a Christian. Students in Trevecca are to learn to become efficient soulwinners. God's way of soul winning is stated in Psalms 126:6, "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

There is no substitute for the word "go" in soul winning. Just living a godly life or reading the Bible will not win sinners. We have to get up and go after them.

"Be instant in season, and out of season." II Timothy 4:2.

"He that observeth the wind shall not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap." Eccl. 11:4.

Learn John 3:16 and then go forth. The Apostle Paul told as recorded in Acts 20:31, "I cease not to warn everyone night and day with tears."

Are we concerned over the lost? Dr. Beverly M.D., Children's Hospital, Chicago, has written a book entitled, "In Defense of Children". He predicts the future of children under fifteen in the United States. He states that one million children will go to institutions for mental cases and one million will go to the penitentiary. Also that several million will have serious emotional disturbances which will incapacitate them for months or years. A large number will become alcoholic and neurotic. Most of them will marry, and 80% of marriages are unsuccessful.

A late number of the American Holiness Journal gives the following statistics on money spent in the United States during 1948:

- 9 billion dollars for alcohol
- 5 billion dollars for tobacco
- 15 billion dollars for crime
- 12 billion dollars for gambling
- 7 billion dollars for milk
- 5 billion dollars for education
- 1 billion dollars for religion

In the face of these recent facts, can we remain passive Christians? Someone stated, in the above named Journal, that out of ten million deaths per year or 76 per minute, 2/3 of those people never heard of Jesus.

"Stir me, O stir me, Lord, I care not how, But stir my heart in passion for the world; Stir me to give, to go, but most to pray, Stir till the blood-red banner be unfurled O'er lands that still in darkness lie, O'er deserts where no cross is lifted high, Stir me to give myself so back to Thee That Thou canst give Thyself again through me."

Watch the morning watch. Do not see the face of man until you have seen the face of God. Before you enter on the day with its temptations look up into His face and hide His word in your heart.

Begin each new day humbly in prayer.

Senior Sketches

CHRISTINE JENKINS

On June 30, 1927 quite an addition was made to the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Jenkins of Cleveland, Mississippi. A little blue-eyed, dark complexioned, black headed, baby daughter came to live with them. They didn't have a chance to get very lonesome, I guess, for my older sister says that I had the seven years colic and that means that I entertained them by exercising my vocal cords day and night.

Most of my life was spent on a cotton farm near Cleveland. There were seven of us children, four boys and three girls, and each of us learned early in life to swing a hoe and to drag a cotton sack.

My parents have taken us to church and Sunday School since I can remember. Mother always made the preachers welcomed guests in our home and taught us to respect them as ministers of the Gospel. As a result of this training I can't remember a time in my life when I didn't want to be a Christian and live for Christ. It seems that I am one of those people that it took a long time to grow up (Have I yet?) and I never did really know what it was to be a Christian until I was about sixteen years of age. One Sunday morning in a regular service I bowed at an altar of prayer and gave my life to Jesus. Later on, the Lord sanctified my heart and now all that I have belongs to Him.

Trevecca has meant more to me than I could ever be able to tell. I am thankful that the Lord led me here and has made it possible for me to receive a beginning end of a Christian education for I feel that I have only begun. The Lord has called me to preach and I want to do His will always. The only plan that I have in life is to follow and obey the Lord wherever He sees fit to lead me. Following Him I can't go wrong.

CARLOS ROBY

On April 13, 1921, I was born into the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Roby who lived on a farm near a village by the name of Thomastown, Mississippi.

My parents were members of the Methodist church near our home and this was where I attended services regularly.

I graduated from high school in 1941 and in August of 1942 was married to Wylodean Dickerson of Sallis, Mississippi.

In October, 1942, I was inducted into the army. I served a year in the states and just before I walked up the gang plank to leave for Africa, I received news that a little daughter had been born into our home. The next two years were spent in Africa, India and China and on November 13, 1945, I arrived back at home and for the first time saw my little brown-eyed daughter, Brenda Dean.

I entered Holmes Junior College at Goodman, Mississippi in January, 1946 and my plan was to major in agriculture.

In August of 1946, I attended an old fashioned revival at the Methodist Church and was saved and the following week I was sanctified and called to preach. I finished the term at Holmes Junior College and we joined the Nazarene at Durant, Mississippi, which was near there. I immediately made plans to enter Trevecca to prepare myself for the work the Lord had called me to do. I might mention the fact that my wife became a Christian while I was in service and was associated with the Nazarene people.

In March, 1947, I entered Trevecca. I hope to graduate in June, after which I plan to take up a pastorate. My life is wholly consecrated to the will of God.

"A 'genius' is a gentleman who can take a jawtooth that was discovered in Egypt and a jawbone that was discovered in England, a shinbone that was discovered in Italy, a shoulder blade found in western Canada, the joint out of a backbone seen down in Brazil, and with some clay and putty so arrange these bones as to build a jointed man, who lived ten million years ago. This same gentleman can then trace his blood relationship back to this made animal. Gentlemen, I tell you, the man who performs that miracle is a genius of the first magnitude!"

-Bud Robinson

"I am convinced, do what we will, oppose it as we may, it is the Christian Bible that will work out the regeneration of our land."

COOPERATION

For some time I have been confronted, from various sources among the student body, with the question, why don't you write on cooperation? There seems to be a growing feeling that we need to be awakened to this need that prevails among us. Entwined among my previous articles were hints toward a better cooperative spirit, but possibly they were just too vague.

As I've thought of the various sources from which interested parties voiced feeling, I began to wonder just what all they could have meant when they said cooperation. But I believe I might easily guess some of the sentiments.

A few weeks ago a campaign was launched to try to clean up the campus, but look, in the classrooms, the postoffice, the restrooms, the book store, the halls, the entrances, and the window sills, and what do you see? I hardly need to answer it, for I think every one knows what I mean. Yes, the candy wrappers, the gum wrappers, the ends off the newly received letters and any scrap of paper that becomes valueless to its owner becomes the object of easiest disposal, which is either to drop it or give it a sling. I have hung my head in shame many times. As our Sunday School teacher has often stated that the child reflects his home training, it always makes me wonder, each time I see this happen. We have placed large and unsightly garbage containers at the very doorstep of the buildings for convenience sake, but your answer is as good as mine when we ask what good has it done? Students! do we not love or honor our school? It is equally as much your responsibility and mine to care for, to protect, to guard, and to reverence these buildings and campus. They are dedicated to God's work just as well as the sanctuary of worship.

I have never seen the idea carried through, but it might have a bit of bearing if we would each be a committee of one to be willing to shame each other at sight of such thoughtlessness.

Some have asked, what is wrong about our Friday night programs? Nobody seems to feel that they wouldn't dare to miss them. Well, we've had some very interesting programs and the only losers are those who stayed away. As I understand, some wonderful programs are to be presented during the coming weeks, and our cooperation will not only please the ones participating, but those responsible for the programs, the heads of our school, and also will bless your own heart in years to come as you reminisce over the school years of your life.

Then too, I have heard a number of times of how carelessly concerned we are about the chapel hour. Last Friday it was fifteen minutes past eleven o'clock when the first song was announced and in thirty minutes the bell would ring and all would be over. By the time the songs, prayer and announcements were over, no more than fifteen minutes could be spared the speaker. You say it embarrasses you. Well then, start shaming yourselves and resolve that we shall do something about it. Dr. Mackey once related to me that the chapel services were the cream of the day's activities and I'm sure we all agree. None of us would think of picking up a pitcher of cream and literally pouring it out, but that's exactly what we do when at least ten minutes of the forty-five minute chapel period are piddled away. If a short chapel service is a feast, why isn't a longer one to be desired?

When I write on cooperation it is only to remind us of the facts and if we will hearken, it will make us better and stronger, and build in us those things that can strengthen and give grace to our character. Therefore, let us set forth some goals in cooperation and each one determine to be better examples.

TAKE TIME TO PRAY

There are so many people who seem to have difficulty in finding time for their daily devotions and prayer. Students are a majority of this group. It is true that we have a full schedule each day, and there are so many small, personal things, such as laundering clothes, to do each day; but even with all this and whatever there might be to take up the twenty-four hours, we all need to take time to pray.

An early morning prayer is effectual and gives you a good start for a new day. There would not be so much back-sliding if we would all pray more and commune with God regularly. If those who are roommates would pray together more often, there would be a closer fellowship among them. So many roommates do not understand each other, but if they would pray together, they would have a clear understanding of each other's problems and burdens, and dormitory life would be much more pleasant.

One way of working our devotions without any interference with our classes and other tasks is to time ourselves. Set aside a certain length of time for our devotions, homework, and study; then distribute the remaining time among the smaller things that may arise. As we begin to lay out our schedule for the day, be sure to have a sufficient period set aside for prayer.

Have you been letting up on your prayer life lately? If we will become more concerned about prayer our spiritual life will grow sweeter. If we pray each day the days will be brighter.

-Jack M. Myers

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

Since this is still the month of January the idea of New Year's resolutions has not yet left our minds. It is always interesting to know just how near like ours the other fellows' resolutions are so here are a few from some of the students.

- Christine Jenkins: "To be a better girl."
- Nelson Goodlet: "I resolve to learn four years work in two quarters."
- Madeline Howe: "To have a more consistent prayer life and to study to be quiet."
- Herman Slonecker: "I resolve to make a resolution not to make a resolution so I won't have to break a resolution."
- Alvina Friederich: "To loose myself and find it in others."
- Rayburn York: "To charm Bill Dillon."
- Jimmy Hokado: "Since I was called to go back to my home in Hawaii to preach the gospel to my people, I am determined to do all I can for Him."
- Lovie Pennyuff: "I resolve to do more work for the Lord and be a better Christian in 1949 than in 1948."
- Patricia Willey: "To take lessons from Mary Joyce Hanson on how to get a man."
- Ruth Burnett: "To make 'Happy,' happy."

She was born in Jenkin Jones, West Virginia, on January 24, 1931 but later she moved to Arlington, Virginia where she attended Hume Grammar School. She graduated from Washington and Lee High School.

Trevecca was her next goal because she wanted to get a good Christian College Education and knew no place she would rather go than to Trevecca. Her major is religion and her minor is music. She wants above everything to be in the Lord's will and be a soul winner for Him.

She likes nothing better than driving in the country, banging the piano, going shopping, and eating hamburgers and french fries.

She is a cute, short, little girl, five feet, one and one half inches tall, green eyes and brown hair. Oh, Yes! She is a college Freshman.

Here is her name.

Concerning a minister who had recently gone home these words were said: "He left the church better than he found it, and in every community in which he ministered there are sweet memories of a beautiful life of service." What better could a minister of Jesus Christ desire?

For your information this is a picture of the code that the College Sophomores gave to the Freshman Class. It has become a tradition each year for the Sophomore class to do this. If the Freshmen decipher the code before the deadline the Sophomores give them a picnic; if the Freshmen do not decipher the code before the dead-line it is left up to them to provide a picnic for the Sophomores.

DARDA NEWS

The photographer was the main attraction on the campus a few days ago. More of the pictures for the Darda were taken. These pictures included individual pictures of the new students, pictures of the chorus, choir, music club, music club officers, a missionary picture and also individual pictures of interest. The Darda for this year is going to be the best yet. We are all looking forward to the publication of the Darda of 1949.

CAMPUS CHATTER

It has been said that the days at Trevecca are always exciting-never a dull moment. For the last few days there has been plenty of rain but that has not hindered everyone from having a good time.

June Swinford, a student of Trevecca last quarter has been a recent visitor on the campus. She came to attend the wedding of John T. Benson Jr. and Miss Jane Cartwright.

There have been changes in some of our groups when it comes to singing. The Sunshine quartet has acquired a new member by the name of David Eby. The Harmony Four quartet also has a new member named Jimmy Smith. Here is wishing these fellows good luck.

Sunday, January 23, 1949 Dr. Mackey and Prof. Richardson attended a zone rally in Macon, Georgia.

Next week in the paper we are going to interview some of the new students. When you get your paper look for this information about the new students.

"The leg you use must be very tired," remarked an on-looker to a potter working at his wheel. "No, it is the leg that does nothing all the time that gets tired," was the reply.

Good luck, Freshmen. It is now your job to untangle these letters and give them a meaning. Keep in mind that the Sophomores have been the most clever for the last two years.

Among the Ancient Greeks, the runner that won the race was not the man who crossed the line in the shortest time but the man who crossed it in the least time with his torch still burning. We are often so busy with life's activities that we are in danger of allowing our torch of our spiritual life to become extinguished. It was when Moses paused in his going that he heard the voice of God.

STUDENT OF THE MONTH

The Student of the Month for January was chosen from the College Sophomore class. He is Rob Lyndal Staples of Kirksey, Kentucky which is a little crossroad town. Rob is a graduate of High School at Trevecca. His ambition is to go to the Seminary and be a pastor.

When Rob was asked what his favorite subject was he very quickly replied that it was History under Dr. Gresham. His answer was just as quick when he told what his most dis-liked subject was. It was Chemistry. Dr. Gresham is also the teacher of that subject but really that has nothing to do with his feelings about it.

Eats? It is no problem for him to tell what is his favorite food. It is food, especially fried chicken.

Rob is now Business Manager of the Trev-Echoes and a member of the Student Council. He is ready and willing to do the job that is given to him.

The College Sophomores are glad to have Rob as a member of their class. He is a very likable fellow (in particular to one certain young lady). Scholastically, religiously, and in every other way he was chosen as the outstanding member of the Sophomore class for the month of January.

"ORIENTAL PILGRIM"

By Alice Spangenberg

Shiro Kano was born in 1911 into an honorable Japanese home. From the time he was able to walk, he was known as "Typhoon Boy" because he was always into mischief. As he grew older, everything seemed to stick to his fingers. He just could not resist the temptation of stealing.

When he was fifteen, he decided that he wanted to stop stealing. He went with his mother to the Buddhist temple and sought the help of the gods. Getting no relief there, he went to other temples. But the gods could not help him. One evening he saw the Kamigo Church of the Nazarene. There, after hearing only one sermon about the True and Living God, he yielded himself to God's will and he was converted. He said, "Something wonderful has happened to me. Jesus has taken my sins and put His new life into my heart."

Shiro felt the call to preach and yielded to it. His ministry was interrupted by compulsory service in the Japanese army, but after two years he was again preaching to his people.

A Nazarene missionary was the one who influenced Shiro to come to America to continue his education. He entered Eastern Nazarene College. His brother was paying his way through college but soon the Japanese government stopped the flow of gold into the United States. Shiro decided to work his way through college.

He won the respect and admiration of students and faculty. He never carried less than eighteen college hours.

He was always optimistic, cheerful, and smiling. With the handicap of an unfamiliar language, he did five years' work in four and was salutatorian of his class.

He was taking a graduate course at Boston University when the United States officials told him that he would have his choice of staying in America as a prisoner or being repatriated. He chose repatriation rather than discount in any degree his chance to preach the message to Japan.

Shiro Kano returned to his country very quietly in September, 1942. He felt that he could not and would not fight the Americans. So before being inducted into service, he volunteered as an interpreter.

Early in the morning of January 19, 1944, somewhere in the South Seas, Shiro Kano was hit by shrapnel from an air battle.

bag. Six college students from other countries in a Watkins Institute forum tossed both onions and orchids at the Americans. The American movies, soldiers, and tourist abroad give one an entirely wrong picture of the true America. They praised the missionary efforts and the good neighbor policy. The land yacht has begun to appear on the highways of the United States. This luxurious "craft" built on the chassis of a standard 29-passenger bus, sleeps eight people, carries its own light and water supply, ship to shore radio telephone, and in some cases a motor scooter to go shopping around town. The well known smoke-spouting steam locomotive is doomed. After one hundred years of success (the first steam locomotive built by an organized company was in 1848) the steam engine is to bow out to its oil-fed rival. Nearly all of the worn out steam locomotives are now being replaced by diesels. Have you given to the March of Dimes? Funds in many states have already been exhausted. Let's help them to walk again.

TREVECCA DIRECTORY

Have you already begun to make your plans to get your Trevecca Directory for this year? This is going to be a directory that you will not want to be without. Who can tell, maybe it will be the means of your getting better acquainted with some of your classmates. They say that letters can do strange things at times. How can you write if you don't know the address? Start today with the idea in your mind of saving your pennies for the Trevecca Directory. Hugh Ferguson is the editor.

He who is to break his neck, finds the stairs in the dark. The more a man knows, the more he forgives. Words and deeds are not weighed in the same balance. Good is recognized when it goes, and evil when it comes. Beware of him who has nothing to lose. Take a friend for what he does, a wife for what she has, and good for what they are worth. -Italian Proverbs

PATIENCE

Patience is waiting Without any fuss For a dime or a dollar, A bike or a bus, A train or a boat, Or a book or a friend; A day or a month To begin or to end; A horse or a sow Or a dish of oatmeal, A headache to go Or a heartache to heal. Patience is teaching Yourself to be glad When others are shouting Or hopelessly sad.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING

Monday night January 17, the College Junior Class met at Reservoir Park for a special business meeting. As soon as the food was prepared, everyone sat down to enjoy a delicious meal. Thanks to those who were in charge for providing the class with such good food and cold drinks. Immediately following the food, the class assembled upstairs to discuss the business. From all reports, a great deal was accomplished in spite of the fact that all were all too comfortable to be disturbed with a "round-table discussion." Certainly no one went to sleep because Frank Tuggle kept the crowd aroused by saying, "Remember, we always meet on every Wednesday at 12:40!!" After the business had been settled, the meeting was dismissed. As the members of the Junior class came down the steps they were served cookies, oranges and more cold drinks. Everyone had a pleasant and profitable evening at the College Junior meeting. -Ann Plessinger

In the year 1930 in the state of Tennessee a boy was born who was destined to later become a part of Trevecca. Before he came here, he attended Grammar School and one year of high school in Cookeville, Tennessee. He has been here at Trevecca ever since he was a sophomore in high school and now he is a college freshman, majoring in religion and mirmoring in speech. It is a big surprise to us but he simply loves to study! To some day become a millionaire is his ambition-hope he makes it! He likes sports of all kinds, but especially softball. His diet is made up chiefly of cheeseburgers and french fries. As a little more help on who this young gentleman is, he is five feet, six inches tall, has coal black hair and brown eyes. If you have not guessed his name here it is. Bin Mob Clac

WHAT'S WHAT

Many times the ones of us who have been in Trevecca for some time fail to welcome the new students as we should and they wander around trying to find out just what can be done at Trevecca. Many of the new students are going to be ministers and they want to find their place with students interested in the same thing. Each morning at 7:30 the students gather in the Alumni Auditorium for a few moments of prayer. These prayer meetings are open to any who wish to attend. Why not go? If you have not found out about the Christian Worker's prayer meeting you have missed a great blessing. Each Monday evening at 6:00 in the Auditorium you will find this band of young people. Also if you so desire you can be included in with the students who go on Christian work each Sunday if you contact these people. Under the porch of the administration building is the location of the prayer chapel. It is open at all hours of the day for quiet meditation and prayer.

QUOTABLE SAYINGS

The Church is not a museum for the exhibition of eminent saints, but a workshop for the production of useful Christians. Do not become too much concerned about what you cannot help. When you can remedy a situation, do something about it while you can. It is detrimental to become concerned and then fail to take action.

This College Sophomore was born on April 13, 1930, in Floyd, Virginia. She received her early schooling in the Floyd Grammar schools and was graduated from Floyd High School in 1947.

When asked her reason for coming to Trevecca, she said she wanted to attend a holiness school. Her major is English and she hopes some day to teach (maybe). At the present she is the secretary of the Sophomore Class.

Someone who has gained special favor in her sight is Bill. Her current hobby is filling her "hope" chest. She is five feet, five inches tall and has brown hair and eyes. Here is her name.

February 11, 1949 is the next date for a Student-Faculty banquet. The theme is to be patriotic. These banquets are planned just for the faculty and students to become better acquainted. You will be hearing more of this banquet and the plans for it later, but begin to make your plans now to attend.

NOTE

In the last issue of the paper there were some mistakes in the printing. Instead of Sophomore Boaster Campaign, as it was written last time, it should have been Sophomore Booster Campaign. Also in last week's paper the article "As the Faculty Sees It" was written by Dr. Gresham.

A small boy was holding a child who was almost as big as himself. A sympathetic man asked, "Isn't that child heavy?" The lad replied, "No, he isn't heavy, he is my brother."

I once saw Parlett demonstrate with a glass jar full of walnuts and beans how impossible it is for one to keep on top unless he grows big. He demonstrated that in the shaking process the walnuts shake up while the beans rattle down. Are you shaking up or rattling down?

CAROLYN LEWIS BADLY BURNED

Little Carolyn Lewis, the daughter of Bro. Lewis who is a student in Trevecca was seriously burned Wednesday evening, January 19, when she accidentally fell back into some scalding water. Life is like a voyage at sea: there is a port of embarkation, a wide expanse of the sea where we experience sun and storm, and a "land ahead" to which we travel. It is well to remember that in a voyage at sea, "nothing lasts long enough to make much difference." It is a safe voyage and a happy landing that count. -J. B. Chapman

Each Monday evening at 6:00 the Christian Workers prayer meeting is held in the Auditorium. You should attend this prayer meeting.
