

TREV - ECHOES

VOLUME VI NO. 4

TREVECCA NAZARENE COLLEGE, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

NOVEMBER 6, 1950

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN EVERYONE

It annually falls the lot of the Junior class to entertain the rest of the school with a Halloween party, and this year being no exception, a group of Juniors left the campus early Friday morning, and returned late in the evening with a smug looks on their faces.

Everyone was eager to see what was in store for them, so they hurriedly ate their supper and gathered in front of the McClurkan Memorial Building about 6:00. Soon two U-Drive-It trucks came into view and a crowd boarded these vehicles for parts unknown.

They travelled out Murfreesboro Road about so far, then they got out and walked for a while down a spooky trail. Along this trail was a ghost or two, a skeleton, weird signs, jack-o-lanterns, and other things indicative of "ghost-night".

When they arrived at the banks of Mill Creek, they found four large bon fires burning merrily. Also there was a "witch" with her caldron boiling and fortunes galore were told.

When the entire party had arrived, they were divided into three groups to play games. Each group then picked a member to dress with newspaper, the best of the three to get a prize.

The first group dressed Miss Betty Meggs as a darling bride, with little Millie Salle as attendant and Curtis Spraker as the colored preacher. Seemingly Trevecca's mind runs in matrimonial channels as all three groups used the bride idea.

Everyone seemed to like the climax of the party better than any other part. Food! Donuts, apples, and cold drinks for all. The walk really must have stimulated their appetite, or maybe they had nothing to eat before they came, anyway, all there was left for the poor, weary juniors was the empty pop bottles and donut boxes to clean up.

Juniors, you did a fine job, making Halloween a pleasant memory for us!

(continued on page 4)

HONOR SOCIETY OFFICERS ANNOUNCED

There comes to my mind an old adage which leaves the impression that men are superior to women, but according to our Trevecca Nazarene College Honor Society of 1950-51, we can vouch for the standing of the girls, at least as far as the recently elected officers are concerned. Although we have thirteen boys (or men) in our society and nine girls, the boys have proven that they at least trust the "fairer sex" by electing all girl officers. Following is the new officers for this year and we each promise to do our part to uphold the standards of the society as well as the standards of our school and calling in life. We sincerely trust that this, the fifteth anniversary of our school will prove to be the best year thus far, and may each year be better than the one before.

Pres. ----- Betty Barnett
Vice Pres. ----- Frances Taylor
Sec. Trea. ----- Janris McManus
Reporter ----- Barbara Wall
* * * *

PRIVILEGE CHARACTER-- FOR A WEEK !!

Recognized! Recognized! Does recognized and long early morning trips go together? Each individual freshmen will be a distinguished person on the Trevecca campus from Tuesday, November 7 to Friday, November 10. Just nothing will be too good for them as long as it is for their benefit.

It has become the tradition of our school to have a recognition week instead of initiation week. This years' college freshmen class is the largest in the history of the school. And the best . . . if you do not believe it, ask them.

Notice

Who gets the credit for these "nifty" posters about keeping the campus clean??? The art class, of course. Let's all take the hint from these "works of art" and keep it clean.

3 SENIORS, 1 JUNIOR RECEIVE WHO'S WHO HONORS

FOUNDER'S DAY SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED

In commemoration of Trevecca's Golden Anniversary Founders Day this year will hold special significance to all of the school's constituency. The morning Convocation in observance of this day will begin at 10:00 o'clock Monday, November 13th. Following an anniversary march and procession accompanied by Professor H. F. Hammond, pianist, Dr. A. B. Mackey will preside and Professor William H. Howick will conduct the congregational singing. Special musical selections will be rendered by an Alumni Quartet and the College Choir under the direction of Mrs. Edward K. Hardy. Mrs. J. O. McClurkan, wife of the founder of TNC, will be the special speaker for the occasion.

The evening convocation will start at 7:30 o'clock with John T. Benson in charge of the congregational singing. The Jernigan Sisters will present a special musical selection and again the College Choir will sing. A time for testimony (continued on page 2)

* * * *

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR SUPERLATIVES

Most Handsome Boy—Tom Collier
Prettiest Girl—Ruby Geiger
Wittiest Girl—Beverly Howard
Wittiest Boy—Glenn Keys
The Most Studious Girl—Billie Ann Apperson
The Most Studious Boy—Paul Fenske
Most Likely To Succeed—Billie Toney
Most Likely To Succeed—Roel Nabors
Most Athletic Girl—Barbara Price
Most Athletic Boy—J. R. Brown, Jr.
Best All-Around Girl—Eunice Love Wachtel
Best All-Around Boy—Paul Taylor
Cutest Boy—Austin Brogan
Cutest Girl—Peggie Siler

BASED ON SCHOLARSHIP, LEADERSHIP

Recognition by WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES means that the student was, first officially recommended from the university or college he attends and, then, accepted by the organization. Nominations may be submitted annually by four-year degree-granting institutions. College juniors, seniors and students enrolled in graduate courses are eligible for nomination. Selection of nominees is conducted by campus committees and usually involves student-faculty-administrative participation. Nominating committees are requested to consider the student's scholarship, his leadership, cooperation in educational and extracurricular activities, his general citizenship, and his promise of future usefulness.

In the light of this plan set up by the publishers of WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES, the administrative committee submitted a list of eight eligible students to the student body, four of which were to be elected to this honor.

Those elected were as follows:

George Privett, president of the student council. George "hails" from Mobile, Alabama and is an outstanding member of the senior class. He is a member of the honor society, and is a leader in many extra curricular activities.

Lottie Phillips, also from Alabama, was a favorite. Lottie is a friend who has characterized herself as a leader. She has charge of the snack shop and is assistant dean of women.

Rob Staples, a popular senior from Kirksey, Kentucky is among the chosen few. He is president of the senior class and a member of the honor society.

Julia Ann Sullivan was the only junior to have the honor of being (continued on page 4)

TREVECCA RISES FROM OBSCURITY

In viewing Trevecca's campus and in realizing the many possibilities that lie in the future for such an institution, one often fails to think of those early days of beginning when mere survival was an "up-hill" struggle. Yet in glancing over the preceding fifty years it is evident that they have been to TNC—Fifty Years of Progress.

It was in the year 1901 that Reverend J. O. McClurkan, out of a desire to provide an institute of learning for young people wishing to enter Christian service, founded a Bible Training School in affiliation with the Pentecostal Mission which he had previously founded. Mr. McClurkan with his broad vision felt that in addition to the Bible training activities, academic instructions should be added to the school's curriculum. Therefore in 1901 the school was reorganized under the name of Trevecca College, the name being derived from a similar organization of that name in Wales. In addition to the class work students gained practical experience by engaging in Christian work among the neglected areas of Nashville where the school was then located.

In 1914 the college began its more pronounced rise from obscurity. It was in this year that Trevecca was moved to Gallatin Road. After the death of Mr. McClurkan, Dr. C. E. Hardy became president. The college soon became affiliated with the Pentecostal Church of the Nazarene. From this union the school became an institution of the Church of the Nazarene operating in the southeastern educational zone as Trevecca Nazarene College.

The present president, Dr. A. B. Mackey, assumed his presidential duties in 1937. His capable leadership guided the college through a period of great hardships which prevailed in and around this time.

Under what has proven to be the definite leadings of God the school then became established at its present site on Murfreesboro Road which is now fast becoming one of the most desirable locations in Nashville for an institute of learning.

In this the Golden Anniversary year of Trevecca Nazarene College one needs only to look at the enlarged student body, examine the present buildings and the plans which are underway for the others, and then glance toward the fields of service where Trevecca's students have gone; then they can realize that Trevecca is able to sing with the song writer:

"Through many dangers, toils and snares,
I have already come,
'Tis Grace that's brought me safe thus far,
And Grace will lead me on."

Official Publication, Trevecca Nazarene College, Nashville, Tennessee, published bi-weekly by the students of Trevecca Nazarene College under the sponsorship of the Journalism Class.

Subscription price: Campus, 10c per copy or $1.25 per school year; Mailing, 75c per quarter or $1.75 per year.

MEMBER ASSOCIATED COLLEGIATE PRESS

EDITORIAL STAFF

- Editor Patricia Willey
- Associate Editor Frances Taylor
- Faculty Advisors Mrs. A. B. Mackey, Mrs. Koy Phillips
- Reporters Rosalyn Appleby, Donn Morrow, Cecil Porter, Rob Staples
- Sports Editor Herman Slonecker, Eugene Williams
- Business Mgr. Champ Traylor
- Associate Business Mgr. Betty Barnett
- Advertising Mgr. Roy Nix
- Circulating Mgr. Barbara Wall
- Typist Ruth Thrasher, Billie Jean Reedy

TIPS TO TREVECCANS

In accordance with Article V, Clause 3 of the Student Constitution, the presidents of classes and clubs met on Oct. 19 with the Faculty Committee on calendar and programs and outlined the following Friday night literary programs:

- Nov. 10—College Fine Arts Program
- Nov. 17—College Speech Department Recital
- Nov. 24—Thanksgiving Holidays
- Dec. 1—Progressive Party (to faculty homes)
- Dec. 8—College Choir Concert
- Dec. 15—Christmas Tree and Program (college sophomore class)
- Dec. 22 and 29—Christmas Holidays
- Jan. 5—Welcome to New Students (college freshmen class)
- Jan. 12—State Clubs Program
- Jan. 19—Student Council Lectures
- Jan. 26—Music Club
- Feb. 2—College Speech Department Recital
- Feb. 9—Valentine Banquet

Just because Jack and Jill have dated once, or maybe two or three times, they are not necessarily going steady. And when they have gone steady for a few weeks, they may not be engaged. And if they have gone together the whole semester, they just might not be secretly married. Avoid such stupid conclusions!

Just because a girl is friendly and talks to the boys, she may not be a flirt. There is such a thing as good, wholesome friendship without any romantic sentiments. For a well-rounded college life, cultivate friendships with both girls and fellows.

FOUNDER'S DAY

(continued from page 1)

monies and praise will be given with Rev. E. K. Hardy presiding. Dr. C. E. Hardy, a former president of Trevecca, will deliver the evening message.

The preceding fifty years have been years of progress for Trevecca. This Founders Day is to be a day in which to thank God for His blessings and guidance. The fervent prayer of the school should be that by God's help Trevecca will in future years remain not just an educational institution, but also a "light house" for Christ and Holiness.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

To leave Trevecca without wanting to, would be tragic . . . but that is exactly what will happen to several students if the school discontinues its student labor program. Realizing that Trevecca itself provides the open door through which students, without income, may work and pay for their education, we have our eyes open to another great accomplishment of "the thinkers" of T. N. C.

Only the ones that are associated with this plan regularly are the ones that appreciate it most. So to the question of the value or importance of school labor let us hear what those who know, have to say:

Lovie Pennycuff: It makes you appreciate your education more whether you are totally dependent or only partially. It is your job and nobody else can do it just like you. As a student I have enjoyed my work. It has made me more self-dependent and given me experience, too. It is a great help in meeting students and becoming acquainted with them whether it is in the cafeteria, library, bookstore, general office or in the snack shop.

Mr. Neil Richardson, our business manager, gives us the inside view that most of us do not think of. "The intentions of the school is not for mere employment, but making it available for more students to attend and pay for their schooling. From the stand-point of economy, it would be better to buy for instance, prepared potatoes in a can for ten cents a pound instead of regular potatoes at four cents a pound. But from the stand-point of the school's plan, buying the regular potatoes gives several hours work to working students, in order that they might pay their way. Our business is to keep students going through school."

Lottie Phillips: Working builds character, gives self-dependence and self-support. There is an experience that you find in working that gives you a knowledge that otherwise you would not have had. Working teaches responsibility.

Betty Barnett: I definitely think a student should work. With a normal schedule it completes an eight hour day. It makes it a necessity to get your lessons during study hours thus giving a regularity of time that is satisfying to a student.

Dr. Mackey complies with a few thoughts that put a different slant (continued on page 4)

Hello everyone! This is the first time during this year that I have appeared in Trev-Echoes, although I have been here all the time. I watch as you go to and from classes and I listen as you worship and study. The purpose of my being here is to tell you things about each other that you like to know and maybe mention a thought which might give you inspiration.

Did you know Margarite Schrope spent last week-end at Bowling Green, Ky.? She told someone she studied and relaxed every minute she was gone. She enjoyed her short vacation. Bill Bridges had relatives from Chattanooga visit him last Sunday; his father Rev. R. V. Bridges and Bill's sister, and Mrs. Doris Rowe, who is a former student of Trevecca.

If Verlie Campbell appeared to be quite distressed last week, you may be interested to know the reason for his difficulty. He was held up by a character coming out of Dr. Gresham's office. The "masked out-law" pointed a small pistol at Verlie's face, but fortunately did Verlie no harm. I think Mrs. Gresham can identify the character if seen in the vicinity hereafter.

The "Evangelaires" might have still been in Louisville if Bob Frank's mother had not done some quick thinking. The quartet attended the home-coming of Louisville First Church last week where Rev. Frank is pastor. They had planned to leave after their last song to make the return trip to Trevecca, but Rev. Frank forgot the last song and began introducing the evening speaker. Mrs. Frank realizing the situation, began waving her arm and after a long period of silence, Rev. Frank remembered the song. The quartet arrived in Nashville about midnight.

Many of the students went home last week. June Miller and Monrie Cross went to their home in Albany, Kentucky, and Kenneth Luttrell visited friends there, also. John Stovall went to his home in Highway, Ky. Eugene Simpson and Bill Robinson went to N. C. Eugene visited with his family in Concord.

Verlin and Jack Archer were very glad to have their parents here from Brazil, Ind. Bob came with Mr. and Mrs. Archer. Verlin has been discouraged since he learned that some of the girls

(continued on page 4)

OLD GLORY OR "ICHABOD"?

Have you seen that rust, gray, and black monstrosity hanging atop the flagpole in the center campus? Someone said it was supposed to be the red, white, and blue flag of the United States but one would never know by looking at it. It's name is Old Glory but it looks more like "Ichabod" (the glory is departed). Besides being faded and dirty it is ragged and torn until it looks like the shredded rigging of a storm-ridden ship. I wonder what Betsy Ross would say if she could see it, or George Washington, or Francis Scott Key.

Trevecca College proposes to be Christian. Good Christians will also be good citizens. And a good citizen will honor and respect his country's flag. Public Law number 829, adopted by Congress to govern the display and use of the flag of the United States, reads: "Sec. 4. (e) The flag should never be torn, soiled, or damaged in any way. (j) The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably burning." Certainly it takes very little perception to see that Trevecca's flag is in such a condition.

Rumors are that the Kentucky Club is making plans to buy a new flag for our campus. Some people think Kentuckians are hillbillies but at any rate they're good citizens and they really love Old Glory up there in "them thar hills." More power to you, Kentucky Club, but hurry up and do it before Ichabod loses any more glory.

Rob L. Staples

* * * *

Mother: "You must never, never do anything you would be ashamed to have the whole world watch you do."

Small Boy: "Whoopee! I'll never get in the tub again; it's no more baths for me."

* * * *

Mother: "Bobby, when that naughty boy threw rocks at you, why didn't you come and tell me instead of throwing them back at him?"

Bobby: "What good would it do to tell you? You can't hit the broad side of a barn."

* * * *

Margie: "You're kidding! How could your brother play hookey from a correspondence school?"

Sally: "That's easy for my brother: he just mails them empty envelopes."

FRIDAY NIGHT PROGRAM

Things out of the ordinary really do happen at Trevecca. Let us remember that all things that are not ordinary are not good. We are all amazed to see what wonderful talent and ability the students of the School for the Blind have. We, at Trevecca, were privileged to have their band and other musicians present a well prepared program last Friday, November 3, 1950. It was not only the special program we noticed, but the assurance that even even though a young person may be lacking in eyesight or another deficiency, it does not deprive him of a radiant personality and the ability to enjoy the important things of life.

Mr. Rice, the band master who is sincerely loved by all his students, expressed his pleasure as he informed us that the band consisted of students from the second having helped present the program grade to the senior class. He orders special braille music for the band and since he is totally blind, his wife familiarizes him with the individual selections.

The principal of the high school, Mr. Farrar, who made this program possible for us, voiced his desire to have the Trevecca band or orchestra give their school a program some evening.

* * * *

H. S. OUTING

On Oct. 31, 1950, the high school senior class entertained the juniors, at an outing on Dr. Mackey's farm. They left the school together and arrived at the gate of the farm just in time to hear Beverly Howard relate her experience with a dead friend. Along the path to the bonfires several parts of the body were found by the juniors.

After everyone had settled themselves around the fire, games were played that were enjoyed by all and later several seniors entertained. There was a "barber-shop" quartet composed of Ray Ihrig, Billy Byrd, Roel Nabors, and Austin Brogan, an accordion solo by Jeannie Griggs, and a duet by Rachel Rushing and Ruby Geiger.

Everyone appreciated and enjoyed the entertainment very much. The food committee did a great job; the food was wonderful and there was plenty of it.

* * * *

A lady wearing a off-the-face hat she had just bought asked her colored cook how she liked it.

"It's a right pretty hat," the cook gave judgement. "But it suah do make yo' face public."

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

Another vile attempt has been made to assassinate a United States President. Two firey Puerto Rican revolutionists shot their way to President Truman's doorsteps last Wednesday but were mowed down in a gun battle with White House guards before they could carry out their plot to murder the President. One of the gunmen was killed, the other seriously wounded. Mr. Truman was taking a nap at the time the assassins stormed his home. The shots awakened him but he was unhurt. The gun battle took place on the very doorsteps of the Blair House. One gunman went down stretched out across the bottom of the mansion steps. The other fell amid shrubbery nearby.

The hectic developement stemmed apparently from the abortive uprising in Puerto Rico by fanatical nationalists who want their country's independence from the United States.

Three Presidents of the United States have died at the hands of assassins — Abraham Lincoln, James A. Garfield, and William McKinley. Prior to attempt on President Truman's life in Washington, the last chief executive to escape an assassin's bullet was Franklin D. Roosevelt, on February 15, 1933 in Miami, Florida.

* * * *

As the 1952 political campaign gets under way, the political prognosticators seem to think that the Democrats will keep controls of Congress, but with some losses in sight in both houses. No great political landslide toward either the Republicans and Democrats is visible to politicians. They see no great areas of discontent, no great issues exciting voters on a national scale. This is throwing the election into a normal pattern for mid-term elections. The party in power usually loses ground in Congress but does not often lose control.

* * * *

WEDDING BELLS

In a ceremony marked with simplicity and dignity, Miss Vivian Graves became the bride of Mr. Bob Wells at Third Church of the Nazarene, Nashville, with the Rev. M. L. Turney, officiating, on Friday night, November 3.

Mr. Wells is a student here at Trevecca.

* * * *

A man who really knows himself loses interest in reforming his neighbors.

—Herbert V. Prochnow

SPORTS

FRESHMEN WIN OVER HIGH SCHOOL

The high school and the college freshmen played on even terms until Wesnett intercepted one of the high school passes and raced for a Touchdown. This seemed to spark the freshmen team because, soon after that, P. J. Fitch played sleeper and took one of Heaberlin's passes for another 6 points.

The high school showed considerable power in "Shorty" Brogan, "Red" Schockley, and H. Spruill. This team has plenty of reserve, so watch out for a good ball club from them.

Freshmen 12	High School 0
Wesnett	E Collier
B. Slonecker	C B. Spruill
Murray	E Shockley
Ward	B Shelton
Heaberlin	B Brogan
Woolins	B H. Spruill
	Subs
Fitch	Schults
	J. R. Browning
	Summons
	Meredith

WHO'S WHO'S

(continued from page 1)

on the list. She makes her home here in Nashville with her family, with whom she does evangelistic singing. Along with her other duties, she is the very busy editor of the Darda, and member of the honor society.

INQUIRING REPORTER

(continued from page 1)

on the whole program. "Although I do have a lot to do, the school student labor program is one of great interest to me. Any labor on the campus that can be done by the students is given to them, rather than outside workers. The competent workers that work diligently at the tasks here at Trevecca result in specialized workers when they leave. Many successful carpenters, masons, painters, cafeteria supervisors, menu experts, dietitians, printers, etc. have gone out from Trevecca with only the experience they received while here. Students do not realize the significance of school labor. Some students don't like their fellow-student's work and yet their own work is being criticized. My future hope is that Nashville will continue, as they are, building around Trevecca and some day we will be in the heart of the city with sufficient labor and opportunities for every student."

The dormitories had a few "trick or treat" visitors, also. These were among the younger set and we all enjoyed "treating" them very much.

The small daughter of an advertising executive came home from Sunday school last Sunday with a beautiful picture text card. "What do you have there, dear?" her mother asked. "Oh, just an ad about Heaven", the little girl replied.

FRESHMEN LOSE TO UPPERCLASSMEN

The upperclassmen scored fast on a double pass which went from Stocks to Sites to H. Slonecker to take an early 6-0 lead. The upperclassmen continued to do a lot of passing, all of their points coming by air. Touchdowns were scored by H. Slonecker (2), and Spruill. The extra points were added by Sites and Shelton.

The freshmen team made one serious threat. The ball going over to the upperclassmen on downs at the 2 yard line. The fine defensive play of Murray and Wesnett kept the upperclassmen in constant danger all afternoon. Several times they were not able to get their pass off. Elmer Heaberlin and Grant Browning were the top offensive stars for the Freshmen.

As for the upperclassmen it was a team victory with almost everyone sharing in the scoring. Stock's passes were good for 14 points.

Upperclassmen 20	Freshmen 0
Harris	E Fitch
H. Spruill	C Wesnett
Shelton	E G. Browning
Sites	B Heaberlin
Stocks	B Ward
H. Slonecker	B Woolens
	Subs
	Murray
	B. Slonecker
	Dillon
	Donaldson
	Grand
	Lyon

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN EVERYONE

(continued from page 1)

Spooking around school was not ended with the school party, however. Almost all the students were invited to some church gathering and from all reports had wonderful times.

The dormitories had a few "trick or treat" visitors, also. These were among the younger set and we all enjoyed "treating" them very much.

The small daughter of an advertising executive came home from Sunday school last Sunday with a beautiful picture text card. "What do you have there, dear?" her mother asked. "Oh, just an ad about Heaven", the little girl replied.

SOPHOMORES CRASH WIN COLUMN

In what was the outstanding game of the season thus far, the college sophomores beat the high school 6 to 0. It was a tight game all the way. Only once did either team really threaten, it came late in the first half when the high schools backed the Sophs up to their goal. Then a pass to Shorty Brogan in the end-zone was nullified by a penalty. This was the last serious threat.

The Sophs had numerous passes intercepted by an alert high school secondary. After failing to connect on three long passes, Roy Nix dropped back and threw a long, high 50 yard pass to Eugene Williams down the field. Williams outran J. R. Browning for the touchdown. The try for extra point was not good.

You should have seen: Roy Nix place a kick 45 yards barefooted! It's hard on your toes; or Eugene Williams punt 35 yards barefooted!

Are all of the Sophs from the hills????

LINE UPS

Sophomores	High School
Martin	E. Browning
Holbrook	C. Summerland
Crosby	E. Meredith
Harris	B. Brogan
Williams	B. Spruill
Nix	B. Shockey

HOW THEY STAND

	Won	Lost
Upperclassmen	2	0
Sophomores	1	1
Freshmen	1	1
High School	0	2

SKIMP SKETCH

There is a girl at Trevecca, when she receives her Ph. D. degree, will be presented with a car from her father. That would be a nice gift and a hint to some of you preachers who might be looking for a wife with a Ph. D. and a car! This girl has a very clever name. It is taken from her mother's name Jane and her father's name Aris. She is a bundle of activities and never tiring energy. A graduate of Trevecca High School and she is enrolled in Trevecca College as a freshman. Among her lessons in school she manages to be very efficient President of Kitamura Missionary Society, pianist for N. Y. P. S. and secretary of the Sunday School in her church.

She has a happy spirit about her all the time and is friendly to everyone. If you have troubles and feel blue, talk to this young lady and she will make you forget all your troubles. You will go away feeling that a joyful attitude can be taken toward life. She is saved and sanctified and looking forward to spending her college years in a Christian college.

Phone 5-9418

NAJAR'S RESTAURANT

"Mothers Only Competitor"

610 Murfreesboro Rd.

NASHVILLE, TENN.

SUNVWVM SIRNVT

WHITSETT'S TEXACO

Lubrication - Washing

Batteries - Tires & Accessories

Anti-freeze Heater Service

BAR - B - CUTIE

Come One Come All

Enjoy our super fine food

CURB SERVICE

BLAIRS SERVICE

STATION

609 Murfreesboro Road

Buy your gas & oil from us

We Treat You Right

COLLEGE GRILL

Where all the students meet

and Enjoy what they Eat

JACOBS BARBER SHOP

Best hair cuts for the best

price

Trevecca student employed

there

FROM THE TOWER

(continued from page 3)

think Bob is the most handsome of the Archers. Well, my opinion is . . . No, I won't say that. Why kick a fellow after he is already down.

Before I go, remember: "Do not be afraid to imitate what is good." Clipping