TREVECCA NAZARENE COLLEGE, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

JANUARY 17, 1952

REVIVAL TO BEGIN JANUARY 14

The Trevecca College Winter quarter revival, with Brother Sammy Martin for the evangelist, will be the most important feature of college activities during the week of January 14-18, for both faculty and student body.

These quarterly revivals are planned in order to enhance the spiritual tone which everyone feels should always characterize Trevecca College.

As an enrolled student of Trevecca, Brother Martin, has been honored by being chosen as the special worker for this important event, but the students will not be disappointed by his ministry. Although yet a young man, he has already had considerable experience as an evangelist and some as pastor, and is well qualified both spiritually and mentally for the task.

This revival will offer to everyone an opportunity to draw near to God and be co-workers with Him in leading some lost sheep to His fold. By the full co-operation of the entire student body great things can be expected from God. May we let the "showers of blessings" fall.

FACULTY MEMBERS ATTEND GENERAL BOARD MEETING

The General Board of the Church of the Nazarene met the 4th, 5th, and 7th of January at Kansas

MISSIONARY PRAYER BAND NEEDS YOUR HELP

Trevecca is proud of her former students that now serve the church and lost humanity on the various mission fields of the church.

Every Friday during the noon hour the Missionary Prayer Band meets to pray and fast for these and the other missionaries of our church and their work.

Who may be a member of the Missionary Prayer Band? YOU! The Band is not for called missionaries alone but for all students and faculty members interested in missions. What are the activities of the Missionary Prayer Band. During its weekly meeting the members give a special offering for missions; some give the price of a meal. At the Easter season each year the Missionary Prayer Band sponsors the Easter offering.

This year Douglas Hendon is

POINT SYSTEM IS REPORTED

The Student Council has submitted the following report for the classes during the first quarter:

The average attendance at class meetings was 71%. This is a good report, but let's see if we can't do better next time. This is the way the classes ranked:

1. Seniors
2. Sophomores and Juniors
3. High School
4. Freshmen

SATURDAY IS NIGHT FOR FUN LOVERS

Do you like to have fun? You don't? well don't read this. But in case some reader enjoys games, entertainment, and being with your friends each Saturday there are two hours of just this.

Each Saturday at 7 P.M. some class sponsors this get-together in the cafeteria. And the nice thing about it is you don't have to be on time or take part in the games or stay till it's over. But you do have to leave by 9 P.M.

Why don't you join in the fun?

FRESHMEN PRESENT WELCOME PROGRAM

Friday night, January 4, marked the beginning of the Friday night programs for this winter quarter of 1952. This first program given in the cafeteria was made possible by the freshmen class. Bob Middendorf served as master of ceremonies.

Upon entering the cafeteria, each person was handed a slip of paper on which he was asked to write the name of some person whom he wished to sing, play, read or perform in some other manner. This, of course, brought forth such talent as Mary Rose Merchant's singing and reading, Miss Cooner's reading, Dr. Gresham's jokes, Nadine Shortridge's playing and other vocal and musical numbers.

The highlight of the program was the welcoming of new members. They sat in an honored sec-

COLLEGE HILL WORK IS PROGRESSING

Under the leadership of Rev. Claude Galloway, work on the new auditorium of College Hill Church has made very definite progress in recent weeks. The walls were completed shortly before Christmas, and the sheathing will soon be in readiness for the roofing.

We are justly proud of the fine work Brother Galloway is doing; and we eagerly look forward to the day when we may worship in the new sanctuary. Let us continue our moral and financial support.

MISSIONARIES USE YOUR CHRISTMAS CARDS

A request is made for old Christmas cards. Anyone possessing cards which he does not desire to keep is urged to turn them in to the Trev-Echoes or to any member of the staff. They may also be left in the general office. These cards will be sent to the mission field to be used by workers, especially with children's activities.

These colored cards give joy to children who have almost no color

CHAPEL SERVICES ARE ANNOUNCED

The outline of the Winter quarter chapel services, planned for the benefit of the faculty and student body of Trevecca College, was made known, during the first chapel hour of the new year, by the college dean, Dr. L. P. Gresham.

January 7-11 was ladies' week. Ladies of the faculty capably discussed some phases of a student's life with such topics as: "Why Study and Learn," "Tools for Learning," "Etiquette," "Romance of Scholarship," and "Recreation and Extra-Curricular Activities."

January 14-18 will be the period of special spiritual emphasis for the quarter. Revival services will be conducted during chapel hour with Brother Sammy Martin for the evangelist.

January 21-25. A series of topics to stress the practical application of theology. "The Master Dreamer," "Thyself Approved," "Shepherds Crowned," "Heralds of Passion," and "Our Foreign Ambassadors" will be the interesting subjects propounded.

January 28-February 1. The Benson Lectures. Dr. Basil Miller, well known author and lecturer, will be the special speaker on the theme, "Christian Journalism."

February 4-8. A series of addresses about John Wesley as, "The Knight of the Burning Heart."

February 11 - 15. Fine Arts Week.

February 18 - 21. President's Week. Dr. A. B. Mackey will address the student body.

February 22. Washington's Day Program.

February 25-29. Student's Week. Students of the graduating class of 1952 will be the chapel speakers.

March 3-7. Local Pastor's Week. Students will have the privilege to hear some of the Nashville pastors.

The programs for the final week of the quarter have not yet been planned, but everyone may be confident that they will be a profitable climax if they compare in interest with those already announced.

LET'S GET TREVECCA FULLY ACCREDITED

Would you like to graduate from a fully accredited college? If we all cooperate, it may be possible for Trevecca students to do just that in the near future.

What would it mean to you as a student for Trevecca to be accredited? It would mean that your credits could be accepted anywhere for graduate work. It would also mean that it would be much easier for you to get a job.

Our president and dean recently returned from a meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in St. Petersburg, Florida. They were favorably received and information was given them on what the school needed to become accredited.

The endowment fund is, of course, the biggest hurdle. The library and the science laboratories also need some more equipment.

In recent class meetings the classes voted to buy materials for the library for their projects this year. This will certainly help a great deal. But what can you as an individual student do?

You can talk Trevecca up everywhere you go, to anybody you meet. You never know to whom you may be talking. You can also tell about the possibilities of accreditation and what we need to make it come to pass. In every letter you write and on every visit home you can make people Trevecca conscious.

PERSONALITY PARADE

ELAINE RICHARDSON

Elaine is a pretty little "red-head" (auburn, she says) who hails from Jasper, Alabama. She is a college junior majoring in science and minoring in Psychology and Education.

Elaine is the very efficient treasurer (My, how they need it!) of the Junior Class. She is also vice-president of the Science Club. Most any time you wander into the Darda office you will find her busily at work because she is the Associate Editor of the 1951-52 Darda.

Besides all these extra-curricular activities and her studies, Elaine still finds time to put in several hours a week working in the Bookkeeper's office.

She is a very attractive girl with an easy-going disposition, well-liked by all the students. After graduation she plans to be a teacher in an elementary school. In case you boys haven't heard her nickname is "Honey" (from the color of her hair, maybe??)

BRUCE CROSBY

Bruce is a tall college junior who claims Moultrie, Georgia, as his hometown. This year he is serving as President of the Georgia Club. He is an active member of the Speech Club and is the Reporter of the Junior Class. Some of the girls have accused him of being one of those "Junior Bachelors." (What about it, Bruce?)

Help the people in your home churches to realize that Trevecca is their school and their responsibility. When you go home for a week-end visit ask your N.Y.P.S. president to let you sponsor a Trevecca program to interest the people and let them know about Trevecca. Most N.Y.P.S. presidents are relieved to have somebody take the responsibility of a Sunday evening program. Did you know that $48.00 was brought in from the Christmas holidays from only two or three services? Think what it would mean if every student did this!

Then, of course, every Nashville church should have a program of this type. What do you say students? Let's put this thing over, and make membership in Southern Association in '53 our goal!

It's good to be back at old Trevecca again, meeting friends, taking part in the pleasant social life, isn't it? I'm sure the new students are also beginning to appreciate Trevecca. No, I'm not just saying that because I'm a student here, but because Trevecca has really come to mean much to me.

No, even from my tower I could not see what all of you were doing over the holidays. You see, I couldn't keep my eyes focused on Bob in Kentucky, Mary Ethel in Florida, and Ruby in Missouri all at the same time. But when everyone got back on the campus, I really did hear the news. Chatter, chatter, chatter from morning until night. My, everyone must have had a wonderful holiday season.

The new quarter brought back some of our old students for which we're truly thankful. Eugene Simpson hailing us from Concord, North Carolina, finally made it back to school after a visit in the (according to his version) jungles of Alabama. To Mary Ann Spencer, LaVeda Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hilkert, and Sammy Martin we also extend a friendly greeting.

Oh, yes, you know what I heard when I first got back on the campus. I heard that Joe Kirkus got married over the holidays. I'd like to inform you, however, that this is just a gossiper's tale. For he is not married. Just ask him, girls.

We were very glad to welcome Mrs. Clifford Keys, Jr., to our campus last week. Seems as though some of the students found her organ playing very inspirational.

Well, I suppose I'd better sign off again. I could think of lots of interesting things to tell you but maybe—yes, maybe—I should keep mum.

CHRISTMAS CARDS

in their lives other than that slipped in by a kind missionary. In a Mexican Sunday school the children have learned that they can get "Jesus pictures" from their teacher. The missionary most often has to resort to cards sent to her. They may be found tacked on the walls of many cheerless native homes.

This is such a simple way to do so much for those who have so little.

INTRODUCING FACULTY

If you happen to be in the library during the day and need help, you will be greeted at the librarian's desk with a smile. Mrs. Mackey will listen to your problem carefully, whether it be to find a poem of which you know the last two lines of the second verse or to help you think of a topic for a theme.

Mrs. Mackey was reared in Kentucky. After finishing high school in Albany she came to Trevecca for junior college. Edmond Oklahoma State Teachers College gave her a bachelor's degree. Besides this, Mrs. Mackey has her M. A. and B. L. S. from Peabody College.

It was in her beloved state of Kentucky that Mrs. Mackey had her first teaching experiences. After teaching there for four years she became a member of the faculty of Trevecca and has taught in both high school and college here.

In reference to Dr. Mackey, Mrs. Mackey says, "Everyone wishes to know where I met my husband. Well, I didn't meet him. We grew up in the same community." By coincidence—or perhaps the hand of fate—she entered Trevecca as a student the same year Dr. Mackey came as a teacher. While attending Trevecca she had the privilege of being in some of his classes. Mrs. Mackey says, "I don't remember the grades I made from him. He says he gave me an A in French but I don't remember it."

Mrs. Mackey became librarian at Trevecca in 1943. She has done a splendid job in making our library what it is today.

In judging others, a man labors to no purpose, commonly errs, and easily sins; but in examining and judging himself, he is always wisely and usefully employed.

—Thomas A. Kempis.

LETTER FROM STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT

Jan. 1, 1952
Trev-Echoes

Hello there,

Here's hoping that you and yours had a very merry Christmas and a happy New Year, and we trust that you are set for a great winter quarter.

Now that we are back on the job, I would like to tell you a few things that have been running through my mind. As president of your student concil, naturally the burden of you students has been on me; as a result, there is a desire from me and the entire council to serve you in the most efficient way.

Many times in my past college days, I looked at the student leaders as rulers, when in reality they were not. Perhaps you have experienced the same feelings, but we want to make it known that all of us are workers together for Him. We want you to feel free to come to us with suggestions and problems because it is our privilege and duty to try to help you, the faculty, and the "purple and white" to be the best possible forceful influence for God.

One student said. "I love every brick, rock, and every piece of dirt on the campus. In fact, I love everything about TNC." Surely, this expresses the inmost feelings of everyone of us students: if so, we cannot fail to do our best.

"On To Accreditation" is the theme that is in our minds now, and we all are appreciative of the wonderful response to this cause just before Christmas, but now we face the reality. The job is before us, so let us work till day is done to perform the task given to us. You are the important part! You are the key to the entire situation! If you succeed in doing your job, Trevecca will succeed in her task. As we stand on the threshold of this new challenge, let us unite our forces, putting forth all that God has given us to magnify dear old T.N.C. and her task for God.

Why don't you attend the Missionary Prayer Band next Tuesday?

ZEPERNICK PRESENTS CONCERTS

On Friday night, January 11, 1952, Trevecca welcomed Werner Zepernick in concert. Mr. Zepernick, who is a German pianist, holds the position as associate director of music at Peabody College.

Mr. Zepernick began the program with some of the works of early composers and ended it with those of the more modern composers. He played selections by Bach, Chopin, Paganini, Prokoieff, Schumann, Mozart, Phillips, and Griffes. One of the outstanding numbers was "Carnaval", op. 9 by Schumann, which is a group of twenty short selections.

This program was sponsored by the Senior Class.

WEDDING BELLS RING

Miss Betty Murphy and Mr. Eugene Williams were united in marriage December 28, 1951, 8:00 P. M., at Richmond, Kentucky, in the Church of the Nazarene, the Reverend Asa Sparks officiating.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of many friends and relatives of both young people. The church was beautifully decorated in an embankment of white lilies corded with green fern. The bride wore a lovely white satin dress and finger tip veil and carried a white orchid and prayer book. Her attendants dressed in pastel shades of green, blue, pink, and yellow were: Miss Ethelene Biggs, Miss Dorothy Darnell, Miss Wanda Crews, and Miss Joyce Murray. Mrs. Donna Brannum, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, while the groom chose as best man his brother, Mr. Leon Williams. Ushers for the ceremony were: Mr. Garth Klepfer, Mr. Bill Anderson, Mr. James Rogers, and Mr. Charles Brannum.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony after which the young couple left for a short wedding trip to Lexington, Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are now making their home at 919 McClurkan Avenue, Nashville.

Have patience, and the mulberry leaf will become satin.

SPORTS

GREEN HORNETS

TIE EAGLES

The last football game before the holidays was the game that topped all games. The Freshman "Green Hornets" and the Upperclassman "Eagles" tangled for the championship of Trevecca College football teams.

The game started off with plenty of excitement. Both teams tried to defeat the other mostly with passes. Everyone seemed to have "butter" on their fingers, except for Bill Harris who finally caught the ball thrown by Eugene Williams for the first touchdown. This made the "Green Hornets" try harder than ever throughout the first half to reach the goal but they never reached it.

The "Eagles" came back at the half determined to hold the score 6-0 in their favor. But the "Green Hornets" knew that was not the way to win a championship. After fighting fiercely through the third quarter and almost through the fourth, Edwin Deese came through the "Eagles" line and ran for the "Green Hornets" touchdown. This tied the game 6-6.

Time was running out, both teams were fighting like mad. Then a familiar sound rang over the field. The game was over. Thus the game for the championship was tied. The total score was Freshman "Green Hornets" 6, the Upperclassman "Eagles", 6. Thus, we still have no champion but we will. Another game will be played this quarter to determine the top team of the campus. The time will be announced later.

JUNIOR THEOLOGICAL STUDENTS ENTERTAIN

The Junior Theological students had a social gathering at Mr. Lucions' house in Woodbine. This is just one of others which are to follow in the near future. Everyone brought a covered dish and the food was very delicious.

Everyone that missed this wonderful fellowship, sure missed a splendid Christian gathering.

We had a special planned program, which everyone enjoyed. We closed by an old fashioned testimony meeting.

he enjoys all kinds of Christian Work and, oh yes, he is one of Trevecca's preacher boys.

A typical boy, Bruce says he likes all sports. He has proven himself to be a valuable member of the Upperclassmen football team, the "Eagles", this fall.

Since he has been at Trevecca Bruce has been known for his consistent Christian life and he is a student T.N.C. can well be proud of.

HARDWOOD NEWS

Basketball season is here and everyone has the fever. The first game was played last night at Red Shield Gym. This game pitted the Freshman "Green Hornets" against the favored High School "Blue Jays" but the outcome is questionable at this writing. The other scheduled game between the Sophomores and Upperclassmen was postponed because neither class was able to floor a team. This is just a glimpse at the beginning of the 1952 basketball season here at Trevecca.

City, Missouri. Dr. Mackey and Dr. Bracken attended as two of the twenty-four representatives to the general meetings.

Two days earlier Dr. Bracken attended the meetings of the Foreign Missions Department, of which he is chairman. Dr. Mackey is a member of the Departments of Education and Church Schools.

The Foreign Missions group appropriated money for over one hundred buildings and appointed forty-three missionaries to active work on the field. Among these was a former Trevecca student, Adrian Rosa, and his wife, a former resident of Old Hickory, who were appointed to the Philippines. Two other former Trevecca students were present but received no appointment at this time. However, one, now a minister, is being considered for work among the Indians a little later in the year.

The General Board carries on the work of the church between quadrennial meetings of the General Assembly. Regular operations of Sunday schools, home missions, foreign missions, publications, and education were taken care of at the meeting. Of interest to many may be the fact that plans for ministers' pensions and retirement are being formulated.

TREV-ECHOES BUYS NEW CAMERA

Trev-Echoes is happy to announce that we are the owners of a new camera. It is the first one we have ever owned and we are indeed delighted. It is a very good one which we can use for all types of action shots and we plan to share it with the Darda staff.
