SPEECH CLUB TO PRESENT "THE TINKER"

On Friday evening, May 23, 1952, the Speech Club will present The Tinker, a play in three acts by Fred Eastman. It will be given in the Alumni Auditorium.

Donn Morrow will play the title role in The Tinker. Other members of the cast will include: John Watkins as David Whitney; Bill Bridges as Jack Whitney, his son; Betty Meggs as Ethel Whitney, his wife; Frances Nichols as Marjorie Whitney, his daughter; George Ferguson as Jeremy Whitney, his brother; and Billie Toney as Jane Seymour, a guest.

The play takes place in the living room of the Whitney home in Southern New England.

The story centers on a lonely man of wealth who decides to rid himself of his possessions and devote the remainder of his life to service.

The drama is brightened with flashes of real humor, and the action moves swiftly to a strong climax.

The play is under the direction of Miss Mabel Cooner.

SHOWERS OF BLESSING REVIVALS BEGIN

A vision of a lost world and the desire to help the spiritual destitutes of the Nashville area have prompted the local congregations of the Church of the Nazarene to launch the simultaneous "Showers of Blessings" revivals now in progress in our city.

Some of the outstanding evangelists of our denomination are the special speakers at the various churches, and encouraging news of high spiritual tides are already being reported.

The following churches are participating in this advance for the Kingdom:

Belle Road—Rev. Verlin Archer as the evangelist.

Bethel—Rev. D. D. Lewis, evangelist.

Blakemore—Rev. J. D. Reid, evangelist.

Bordeaux—Rev. Harold Graves, evangelist.

DR. A. B. MACKEY IS RE-ELECTED

Wednesday, April 30, is a day long to be remembered in the Halls of old T. N. C. It was on that day that Dr. Mackey was re-elected to continue the progress and prosperity of Trevecca. When Dr. Wells, chairman of the Board of Trustees, announced the new president, students and faculty reacted with shouts and praises as have never been demonstrated at Trevecca at an occasion of this kind.

Dr. Mackey's acceptance of the election was a stirring speech. He said he felt as he never had before. And again the students and faculty witnessed the humility and devotion that makes such a large part of Dr. Mackey.

After the election was announced the Student Council presented the school with a portrait of Dr. Mackey for the students and faculty.

The presentation of the portrait and the new frame for Brother McClurkan's picture was sponsored by the Clio Society. The cape was donated to the school by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Martin.

Dr. A. K. Bracken accepted the picture for the school with a word of Tribute for Dr. Mackey and his place among the great men of all times.

W. L. ELKINS TO FURNISH MCKAY HALL HAS

RECEPTION HALL

Mr. W. L. Elkins, member of the Trevecca Board of Trustees from Knoxville, Tennessee, is to furnish the Reception Hall of McKay Hall.

The furniture will be of the newest plastic material in pale yellow and chartreuse. There will be three sofas, eight chairs, six end tables, six table lamps, two floor lamps and two coffee tables.

Mr. Elkins said that he would try to have them here by June first for the last week of school. Students and faculty are indeed grateful to Mr. Elkins for this generous act.

NEW KITCHENETTE

At the suggestion of the dean of women, Mrs. Kennedy, a small kitchenette has been put in on first floor in McKay Hall. It is furnished with a table and chairs, kitchen cabinets, a kitchen sink and a small electric stove.

The kitchenette should be ready for use in a week or so. It will be used by the girls for fixing snacks, picnic lunches, and food for special occasions.

The girls of McKay Hall wish to express their appreciation to Mrs. Kennedy and to the school for this added convenience.

CHAPEL SPEAKERS ARE GREAT BLESSING

Last Week, the week of the N. Y. P. S. Conference and Board Meeting, the Chapel speakers were a blessing to the students and faculty in more ways than one.

Dr. L. J. DuBois, the executive secretary of the N. Y. P. S., was the speaker for Monday and Tuesday, April 28, and 29.

Wednesday's message was by Dr. L. T. Wells, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Dr. Wells made what was to most of the student body the best announcement of the year, Dr. Mackey's re-election.

There was no special speaker for the Chapel hour on Thursday but just to hear the College Choir sing some of the old and new arrangements was an inspiration.

Friday morning was the first time since Dr. Mackey's re-election that he was the speaker. Dr. Mackey never fails to give his listeners words of life and Friday was no exception.

HISTORY OF MAY DAY

Few Americans know why children march around a pole decked with ribbons on May 1. Actually, traditional celebrations date so far back that the actual beginning of most of them is not known.

It is known that the Romans celebrated the day with flower-decked parades since it came at a time sacred to their goddess of flowers.

In 1887 the Socialist Party set May 1 as a day for working people to march and hold demonstrations. It is an important day in the Soviet Union.

In Europe, especially in England, May Day was celebrated extensively. A Maypole was set up in the village square. The villagers marched around it holding the ends of bright ribbons, which hung from the top. They marched in such a way that the ribbons were woven back and forth until the Maypole was covered with the bright colors. Large groups went into the woods to gather wild flowers. At times the royal family would go out first while the dew was still on the ground. They were then followed by their subjects. The highlight of the day was the choosing of a queen of the May, usually the prettiest girl present, who was crowned with flowers.

Since the Puritans frowned on frivolity, the day was celebrated in America very little. However, it is gaining in popularity, and most parks have a Maypole and games. A pleasant tradition in

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS VARNER RECITAL

Friday night, May 2, Malcolm Varner, one of Trevecca's most respected Seniors, gave his junior music recital in the Alumni Auditorium.

In spite of the fact that the musical program was an hour earlier than is customary, a large crowd attended and gathered afterward to congratulate Mr. Varner.

Mr. Varner played eight pieces on the clarinet. Miss Betty Barnett was his able accompanist.

During the first intermission Miss Martha Watts sang Fantasia I by Mozart. Miss Watts and Miss Barnett entertained with a duet on one piano during the second intermission.

Ushers for the evening were Miss Ruby Murrell, Miss Glenna Varney, Merlin Provance, and Charles Duckett.

BROWNING CALLS FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS

Mr. John R. Browning of Mann, West Virginia, is seeking teachers for primary grades and high school. He is eager for any Trevecca students, girls or boys, who wish to teach to help fill positions.

At present there are nine Nazarene girls on the faculty.

some sections of the United States is that of hanging a basket of wild flowers on someone's door-knob early in the morning.

Pictures were made at the banquet also. Betty Barnett and June Campbell had their picture made with Governor Browning.

Note: Last year Elaine Richardson and Arthur Jackson served at the Junior-Senior Banquet. This year they attended together. Better watch, Janris and Bill served together this year. Do you suppose . . . ? ? ? ? ?

What's this I heard John Pope say about the beautiful afternoons under the campus trees? Could it be that Edith Harris is helping to make these afternoons more enjoyable?

Ruth Thrasher, a former Trevecca student, was here over the week end visiting her aunt, Mrs. Mackey, and several of her friends.

Why are all the high school juniors observing the seniors so close these days? Could it be that they are interested in Senior Skip Day?

The college sophomores are in for a big fight toward their accreditation fund. They have divided into two sides, reds and blues. The losing side is to give the winning side a party or picnic.

Seems like the boys are doing one good deed around here. They are getting the girls to come to breakfast—just that spring fever spell, I suppose.

Want a G.I. haircut, boys? Go to Louise Hall. She's an excellent barber.

Why are all the college seniors going around with such long faces and such happy ones these days? The long faces? They haven't taken their comprehensives yet. The happy ones? They have. I heard Erma Chenoweth say those two hours were the most wonderful in her life.

We have quite a few bakers around here these days, or at least we did have. Garth Klepfer and Sam Pickenpugh, among other Trevecca students, have been working at the Holsum bakery.

Did you see all the visitors here during the N. Y. P. S. Conference and the Board Meeting? We were glad to have such men walking our Trevecca Campus. Let us so live that ten years from now when we revisit the Trevecca Campus, the students will be glad to have us around.

Orchids, roses, carnations decorated the pretty lassies who attended the Junior-Senior Banquet. Yes, Betty Barnett even received two corsages.

INTRODUCING FACULTY

This issue of Trev-Echoes wishes to present Professor Koy W. Phillips. Bro. Phillips is faculty adviser of the Junior Theological Department. He also teaches in the Religion and Geography Departments.

A native Tennessean, Mr. Phillips was born near Shelbyville and was graduated from public high school in 1932 as Salutatorian of his class. He was graduated from Trevecca Junior College in 1938 as Salutatorian of that class. He received his Th.B. the following year. While attending school here he traveled with the school quartet.

From 1940 to '45 he pastored at Murfreesboro and received his B.S. degree from Middle Tennessee State College in 1941. Also while at this pastorate Bro. Phillips built the present church building and taught school at Trevecca in the high school department.

In 1945 Professor Phillips went to our Nazarene Seminary and received his B.D. degree in 1949. His major was in Biblical Literature. Besides his studies Mr. Phillips pastored for nearly three years near Kansas City.

After finishing the work at the Seminary, Rev. and Mrs. Phillips were recalled to Trevecca where they have been active ever since. Last summer Bro. Phillips finished his work at Peabody College for a Master's degree in Social Science. He is continuing graduate study in his chosen field.

Rev. and Mrs. Phillips both arrived at Trevecca at the same year that Trevecca moved to her present location, but it was not until 1945 that they were married. They have one daughter, Sara Ellen.

Professor Phillips is chairman of the Orders and Relations Committee on the East Tennessee District where he is pastor. Besides the responsibilities at Trevecca already mentioned, he is sponsor of the Christian Worker's Associa-

SCIENCE CLUB VISITS REELFOOT LAKE

At 4:15 Friday morning, May 2, thirty-two members and guests of the Science Club began rolling out in anticipation of a big weekend, and they had one.

Reelfoot Lake, 20,222 acres of water located two hundred miles from Nashville in the northwest corner of Tennessee, was the destination. The group traveled on a special bus driven by Mr. Thomas from Rockwood, Tennessee. Bill Slonecker was the copilot in charge of the rear end of the bus.

The Treveccans stayed in the former state clubhouse located right on the lake. In fact, Mrs. Gresham, Mrs. Hassell, and Mrs. Redford fished from their bedroom window using a broom, string with a crooked pin, and a dipper for a sinker with a weiner for bait. They just got a few nibbles.

Soon after they arrived the game warden led the visitors on a tour of the high spots of different sections around the lake. They visited a camp of squatters, but ask Mrs. Gresham if she is yet sure whether they were Dunders, setters, or squatters.

Club members did not know that Dr. Gresham was such a whiz at volleyball. He and Ralph Hudson sparked the boys' team. However, the girls won.

Friday evening a scavenger hunt was initiated. Objects of the search were various biological specimens. Was Peggy Trundle looking for the snake that jumped at her from the brush? Anyway, she still seems nervous.

The most memorable event was a campfire after the scavenger hunt. Theme of the many beautiful testimonies was how wonderful it is to be with a Christian group at such an outing.

At 4 o'clock Saturday morning a group of boys went fishing. For those who wanted to rise early again, there was a bird hike at 5 o'clock with Dr. and Mrs. Gresham. Until lunch another group went boat riding. Several sunburns are noted on the campus.

A visit was made to the State of Tennessee Biological Experiment Station where there were labeled specimens of fish, birds, snakes, and other wild life. There experiments are made such as those attempting to exterminate insect pests which abound in this area. At present a collection of mosquitoes is being made.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN SENIORS AT BANQUET

On Thursday evening, May 1, 1952, the Junior Class of Trevecca Nazarene College entertained the Senior Class with a banquet in the College Cafeteria.

The cafeteria was beautifully decorated with giant baskets of gladiolas and with candles. On the platform was a beautiful white archway with a large bouquet of gladiolas in the center. The place-cards were decorated with miniature diplomas and caps.

A delicious dinner of Swiss steak, cherry salad, potatoes au gratin, and asparagus was served. The unusual dessert consisted of ice cream and frosted cakes with "Seniors 1952" written on them.

The very efficient toastmaster for the occasion was Eugene Williams. Dr. L. P. Gresham, Senior Class Sponsor, gave the invocation. Lowell Foster, Junior Class President, gave the Welcome to the Seniors and Julia Ann Sullivan gave the Response.

Betty Meggs played a violin solo and Bill Harbison sang. Esther Saxon, former member of the student body, played a piano solo. Mrs. Madelyn Hertenstein, former member of the Trevecca faculty, furnished dinner music for the occasion.

The Juniors felt that they were indeed fortunate to have for their speaker Governor Gordon Browning.

After the address both Juniors and Seniors sang together "T. N. C. Alma Mater." Mrs. A. B. Mackey, Junior Class Sponsor, pronounced the benediction.

STUDENT WIVES ENJOY PARTIES

Recently about thirty members of the Student Wives Club with their families enjoyed a party at Holsum Bread Company on Murfreesboro Road. During the evening games were played by the adults while their children gathered to watch or engage in their own games. Truck races were instituted into the youthful games when a representative of the company presented each child with a miniature Holsum Bread truck.

Refreshments of cakes and coffee were provided by the Holsum Company after the games.

Before the merriment Marvin Donaldson led the assemblage in singing several choruses. Rev. Sammy Martin gave a short devotional talk.

At the close of the social the group made a tour of the bakery, learning new facts about commercial baking as they sniffed the aroma of fresh, hot bread.

Last Tuesday a shower was given for Mrs. Robert Manor. She received many useful gifts. Activities were led by Mrs. Jo Lolly and Mrs. Polly Latham. Mrs. Lolly and Mrs. R. Merriman served refreshments of cola, ice cream, and dainty cookies cut into unusual shapes. Decorations included red roses and white peonies.

The club has had several novel meetings, and special entertainments are planned for the closing weeks of school. An invitation is given to all wives who have not yet attended to take this opportunity to come and get acquainted with the organization.

Miss Amy L. Person is sponsor of this group.

KEFAUVER WINS ELECTION

Last Friday night at the High School program Estes Kefauver was elected President of the United States at the mock elections sponsored by the high school students.

The National Convention of the Republican Party nominated Robert A. Taft to run for the highest office of the land. Estes Kefauver, however, was nominated for the race by the National Convention of the Democratic party. After the Republican and Democratic Conventions had adjourned, all voters filed into the vestibule of McClurkan Hall to cast their votes.

The ballot box was not opened until Monday after a few straggling voters had voted. When the box was finally opened the following results were shown:

Kefauver	-----	67
Taft	-----	34
Hamblin	-----	9
Total	-----	110
