IN DEDICATION

TO THE ONE WHOSE SPIRIT-LED MINISTRY meets the tremendous challenge of college and community;

WHOSE REGAL DIGNITY wins the admiration of all who know him;

WHOSE WILY WIT is the spice of each sermon and lecture;

WHOSE GRACES GRAND are as sure
as the mid-day sun;

WHOSE GODLY INFLUENCE will live forever in the immortal souls of the thousands he has humbly served, we respectfully dedicate
our NAUTILUS for 1952:

DR. J. GLENN GOULD

"And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars forever and ever."

P R O

Into life's treasure chest of memories,
Our hearts hide quietly away
Such gems as these:

Sparkling moments, jewel bright,
Made more precious by His light;
Shining hours — now memories,
Happy days at E. N. C.

But, swiftly time has spent our stay;
The call has come to rise, obey;
We leave to live where faith is dim,
And lead a darkened world to Him.

The Living Word our lives repeat;
Known and read of all we meet;
The power of God — this is our might;
Our motto, a charge: "Ye shine as lights."

Our prayer: so bright may be the flame,
Benighted men may glorify His name.

LOGUE

"A man's wisdom maketh his face to shine"

OUR PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Those of you who are students at Eastern Nazarene College can say with the Psalmist, "The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage." You are the recipients of the labor, the faith, and the traditions of other days. The sacrifices of faculty members, administrative officers, and thousands of loyal constituents are yours. The vision, zeal, and accomplishments of former students are yours. The message of truth, for which your Alma Mater was founded, is yours.

You have a goodly heritage, and also a tremendous responsibility! It is yours to uphold the glorious standards which have been realized in the past. It is yours to determine whether the labors and sacrifices of your predecessors were in vain. It is only through you that the splendid traditions which you have inherited can be passed down to another generation of college students. And it is through your lips and your lives that the precious message of truth must be channeled to a world in confusion and darkness, among whom "ye shine as lights."

Edward J. Mann

OUR TRUSTEES

Sharing in the administration of E. N. C. and backing her with their prayers are the trustees, who meet semi-annually to formulate plans for the progress of the college.

At their fall meeting, the trustees re-elected President Mann for a three-year term and authorized the erection of a library extension to the administration building. The annual faculty-trustee banquet was in honor of Dr. Shields, professor emeritus.

During their visits to the campus, these consecrated men challenge the students with their chapel greetings and inspiring testimonies.

GUIDING

"For Thou wilt

Guiding signals like unfailing beacons to mark the way . . . luminous flares, burning with the challenge of the times; . . . incandescent sparks of wisdom, truth, and humility illuminating our lives; . . . radiant candles that to us give light and learning— together to form a brighter flame of human understanding and divine service.

*Your wisdom the path we follow;
Your truth resplendent our creed;
Your faith in Him a guiding light
To point the way . . . and lead.*

ght my candle"

BERTHA MUNRO
A.M.
Dean of the College
Literature

"The righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father."

Honor is such slight reward for one we love so much. Teaching truth from experience, vicarious or personal, is the beauty of her life.

As dean of the college, professor of literature, author, and personal counselor, our Dean lives for her students, to see in them the fulfillment of her devotion to the Master.

Sparkling smile, brilliant mind, and saintly service have endeared her to us as one of the truly great in the kingdom of light.

ADMINISTRATIVE

MADELINE N. NEASE
A.B.
Registrar

"Truly the light is sweet and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun."

Thanks to our registrar for her inestimable service to E. N. C. It takes a great servant to be faithful to the endless little tasks that are her lot.

Throughout the year she is peaceful in the perplexity of a flood of applications; calm in the continual conflicts of schedules; gracious in the groanings at grades — always sympathetic and untiring. The glow of her devotion is warm in our hearts.

KENNETH H. PEARSALL

A.B.
Executive Field Secretary

"The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid."

Praise to whom praise is due. With the sincere admiration of students and full confidence of the administration, our field representative travels thousands of miles yearly spreading the good will of E. N. C. and the gospel of Christ.

Stalwart and energetic, he inspires us with challenging chapel messages, and finds many opportunities for us in active Christian service. To the Class of '52 he and his wife have been tops as pals. To all he is a shining light.

EXECUTIVES

CLAUDE C. SCHLOSSER

A.B.
Business Manager

"A light that shineth in a dark place."

Tribute as pay and as praise we give to our business manager. Systematic in financial affairs and practical in Christian living, he is wholeheartedly devoted to E. N. C. and her high ideals.

Although bearing continually the concern of the material burdens of our college, his greater ministry and deeper burden is for the spiritual welfare of the students.

In volleyball, softball, or any contest, he is skillful and admired as a grand sport. Whatever the enterprise may be, his light is steady and strong.

IN NEW ENGLAND

Sparkling in natural beauty, stately in historical tradition, supreme in cultural setting — NEW ENGLAND, preeminent in progress from the landing of the Mayflower till our own day.

We chuckle at its "Boston Tea Party"; praise its Paul Revere; delight in its Hawthorne and Longfellow; honor its Bunker Hill; laud the learning of its great colleges and universities; thrill at its music and art; love the sturdy character of its citizens — the fiber of American liberty. Proudly we sing:

"In New England stands a college,
Near blue Quincy bay;
E. N. C. our Alma Mater,
Glorious for aye."

GRADUATES IN THEOLOGY

Desiring to be vessels "meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work," seven members of the class of '51 returned to E. N. C. for post-graduate studies. The Bachelor of Theology degree will be conferred upon four of these this year.

By taking thirty hours of advanced theology and philosophy, these young men have become better grounded in theological doctrines. They have received a clearer vision of the work involved in the salvation of the souls of men.

To be consecrated and intelligent servants of Christ carrying forth the glorious light of the gospel is the utmost desire of the E. N. C. graduates in theology.

Enthusiastically we plunged into the traditional senior activities: prayer meetings, the winter escapade, "comps," senior privileges, the big banquet, and commencement exercises. But we knew this year was different; we couldn't escape the nostalgia that went with doing many of these things for the last time together. It was then that we realized how we had changed in just four years. Our thinking has been broadened and our ideals have been grounded.

E. N. C. has changed, too. We've seen the dedication of Memorial Hall, the opening of the new Dugout and bookstore. Then, ours was the first class to hold the Thanksgiving chapel program in the new church.

Freshmen . . . seniors all too soon . . . and now alumni . . . but always E. N. C.-ers.

SENIOR RECITALISTS

PAUL S. LICK

In a very delightful speech recital this spring, Marian Dollinger interpreted several enchanting portraits of our Lord taken from Kahlil Gibran's Jesus, the Son of Man. She also read selections from Gibran's Tears and Laughter and The Prophet. Assisting Marion were Paul Rundlett and Doris Rylander, pianists, and Grace Jessop, violinist.

Climaxing their intensive training in the Department of Fine Arts, the senior recitalists this year presented inspiring programs of musical or literary works of art.

Representing the Department of Music, Paul Lick gave a piano concert of modern and classical music. The audience was captivated by his zestful rendition of MacDowell's Rigaudon. Favorites by Bach, Mozart, and Chopin completed the skillful performance. Paul was assisted by Joe Parker with the trumpet.

In his interpretive reading of The Jester's Sword, Roy Hutcheon vividly portrayed the great truth that one may be victorious in spirit despite bitter misfortune. Assisting in the recital were Barclay Wood, organ; Paul Rundlett, piano; and John Wahtera, clarinet.

(Tune: "Winter Wonderland")

Here we come from Jabbabee,
Tired and sore, but oh so happy,
We had lots of fun,
Too bad you couldn't come.
To the Elms our Winter Wonderland.

Oh such food and plenty of it,
Needless to say, how we loved it;
We ate all we could,
Much more than we should,
At the Elms our Winter Wonderland.

You should have seen how Nick could handle that toboggan;
Hilyard, Rice, and Harris on their skis;
Or when Pauli fell upon her noggan,
And Winget even skated on his knees.

Who'll go first? —always Andy,
On his skates, Jim was dandy,
The Pearsalls were grand,
Let's give them a hand,
For taking us to our Winter Wonderland.

Front Row (kneeling): D. Young, S. C. Rep.; I. Laird, Treas.
Second Row (standing): R. Hedden, Chap.; J. Miller, Sec.; H. Young, Pres.; E. Esselstyn, V. Pres.; Prof Smith, Advisor.

Ours will be the best junior class yet," we boasted last September.

Now we have a year's memories instead of a goal. "Cornucopia," "Calling Dr. Kildare for senior surgery," "What a surprise for the seniors!" — words that bring us a smile of satisfaction as we remember the hard work put into our Thanksgiving chapel program, the reception for the seniors after their trip, and the junior-senior banquet.

The "grown-up" feeling that came with the title of "upperclassmen" soon disappeared as we faced new and trying situations. How thankful we were for our class prayer meetings where we committed our problems to the Lord and shared one another's burdens and victories.

How could we climax freshman initiation? Everything had been going tops, but we wanted something novel. Then came the idea of a miniature Niagara! Half the sophomore class joined the bucket brigade. What fun, from beginning to end!

In September we liked to say, "We're the sophomores!" with just the slightest boastfulness, as if the meaning of that title were not actually "wise fool." But we look back and chuckle for now, "We're the juniors!"

Yet pranks and studies were not all. Each Monday evening found us in our class prayer meeting. Our goal was set: "The Class of '54 one hundred per cent for Christ."

What a wet start! — not only on initiation day, but also every Saturday that we tried to have a breakfast outing.

Learning the “ins” and “outs” of college was a little difficult at first, but by January we considered ourselves veterans, ready to welcome the new second-semester students. We entertained them with a party and judiciously warned them not to pay any attention to sophomores.

Entrance exams, the Green Book, rhetoric themes, and western civilization assignments are all finished now. We may sigh with relief, but we must admit that we enjoyed every minute of it.

BIBLE CERTIFICATE COURSE

A new Bible Certificate Course was added to E. N. C.'s program of study this year. Designed to assist those who wish to prepare for Christian Service, the program has been arranged to meet the requirements of the course of study for ministers.

New opportunity has thus been opened to provide the means for serious preparation to more who feel upon them the constraint of the Master's service.

A C A D E M Y

After a year of fellowship and good times, we are convinced that this year's academy is "Not the biggest, but one of the best."

What fun we had last autumn at our breakfast at Faxon Park! The morning air certainly does something for a person's appetite. Quantities of eggs, bacon, apples, doughnuts, and coffee disappeared in no time.

"Exciting" best describes the North Quincy-Arlington football game we attended in the fall.

The Christmas party at Mrs. Nease's home was another highlight of the year. Exchanging of gifts, carol singing, games, and refreshments made the evening complete.

We had our serious moments, too. Our Monday night prayer meetings were forty-minutes of blessing that enriched our daily living.

REFLECTING

"Reflecting as a mirror"

Flashing flares that give to life its sparkle of fun; . . . energetic enthusiasts learning responsibility, fairness and courage, self-control and self-expression — to live in harmony with others; . . . keen candles that search for the best in every sphere of activity; . . . molded models of the majestic Creator that mirror His glory.

Part of a great design . . .
A reflection of our lives,
Spreading endlessly,
. . . Encircling an eternity.*

FALL PARTY

CHRISTMAS CANTATA

BOB HEDDEN, MRS. MANN, DR. MANN

ERNO BALOGH

College life — tops in every way this year!

The haunted house with Gwendolyn and Marmadrake chilled us at Halloween. Christmas brought a beautiful presentation of the story, "To Them Who Sit in Darkness," and a cantata by candlelight. Cupid was busy at the delightful Valentine's party, but not overworked even in leap year.

Revision of the society point system, the distribution of Campus Cameras to the community, and the framing of a Wollaston map for the office of Munro Hall were several of the council projects. A joint student-faculty committee revised the "Red and White" handbook.

Erno Balogh, famed pianist, was presented in a benefit concert to raise funds for a new Steinway grand piano for the College Auditorium.

We often chuckled at the amusing after-dinner announcements of our council prexy, but serious and capable leadership were his highest qualities. His chapel messages inspired us to deeper and more humble devotion to the Master.

Dear Students:

The NAUTILUS is for you — this has been our guiding star from the first to the last step in its creation. Flashing bulbs, chattering typewriters, sticky fingers, tired eyes — all are symbols of our constant aim: to bring to you a book that would make enduring cheerful memories and inspire you to look ahead in faith.

To us the NAUTILUS is more than design and composition. It is the tangible embodiment of a great ideal. An ideal that pounds in the hearts of our president and each professor; an ideal that has gripped the thousands who have sacrificed to provide an E. N. C. for students and students for E. N. C.; an ideal that has inspired our theme, each line and word; an ideal that we have learned to live while at college — “TO SERVE THE PRESENT AGE.”

If our annual serves to bring enjoyment to those who gaze within its pages, and is a faithful ambassador of our E. N. C., we shall ever be happy that we have been the staff of the NAUTILUS for 1952.

Thinking editors, roving reporters, clicking typewriters — early September indications that the 1951-52 “Campus Camera” was in the making.

In their endeavor to portray a complete picture of college life, the staff urged students to share their opinions by writing “Letters to the Editor.”

Prof. Cove’s trip to Europe, Canterbury panorama, pie testing, “craminations” — these were a few of the varied subjects featured in the “Camera” this year in harmony with the editor’s purpose to publish a newspaper with greater reader appeal.

“What do you think constitutes an ‘ideal man?’” Several student polls were conducted by staff members to investigate and reveal student ideas, opinions, and reactions.

Vital deadlines had to be met. But those with a “nose for news” were right on the job. Their conscientious work and co-operation produced this year’s “Student Voice of Eastern Nazarene College.”

“And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to every man according to his several ability . . .”

Realizing and using the talents that God has lent them, the members of the Honor Society have accepted the responsibility that is theirs to get the best that E. N. C. can offer them scholastically. They are a credit to the college in that they help to maintain its high educational standards. But more than that, they are a credit to the Kingdom of Christ, for they have “given of their best to the Master to join in the battle for truth.”

Fifteen per cent of those graduated each year may be elected to membership in the Phi Delta Lambda, national honor society of the colleges of the Church of the Nazarene.

ASTRONOMY CLUB

"Andromeda will be seen at 10:18 tonight."

Announcements like this prompted the "star-gazers" to leave their studies in order to observe a constellation through the telescope.

Besides visiting the planetarium at Science Park in Boston, the group toured Harvard University at the spring Open House and made telescopic observations of different celestial bodies. February sky maps obtained at the planetarium provided interesting material for study.

BIOLOGY ASSOCIATION

Outdoor life? We love it!

Biting cold, snapping twigs, and ever-ascending slopes were no obstacles to these nature lovers.

Clad in sporting togs, members of the club went to the Blue Hills for their annual dinner cooked in aluminum foil over fiery hot coals.

Charts, terrariums, plaster models, and Delineascope slides were done by the members in project work or as hobbies.

BOWNE PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY

Think, think — philosophers must, and this year the problems of minority groups were investigated in thought-provoking sessions.

Several speakers were sponsored by the club to present their philosophies. Prof. William Cousins, a Negro sociologist from Wellesley College, lectured to the students on "The Race Problem." A Catholic priest and a Jewish rabbi lectured to the group on modern human relations.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Programs sponsored by the Chemistry Club this year ranged from discussion of T. N. T. to demonstration of delicate contact lenses.

The cyclotron at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the basic heavy chemicals at the Monsanto Chemical Company were studied by the group. Members also visited the State Food Laboratories and Medical Research Centers, and attended meetings of the Northeast Chemical Association and the Inter-collegiate Chemistry Club.

C. C. U. N.

Which way to world peace? Purposing to investigate and discuss contemporary world events, the Collegiate Council for the United Nations was organized this year. Students representing 11 countries were challenged to present new ideas on world affairs.

Mr. Hans J. Schultz of the Danish Embassy lectured to the group. Through the work of the Council, foreign students were helped to adjust to the American way of life.

FINE ARTS CLUB

Lovers of Mozart and Michelangelo pooled their talents and interests to form the newly-organized Fine Arts Club.

Regular meetings alternated with music and art. However, a combination resulted when two students sketched their impressions in pastels while listening to one of Handel's water suites.

A concert by the New England Conservatory orchestra and Miss Cove's 23 "ha ha's" are among our favorite memories.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

To be friendly or stern — which is better for the beginning teacher? Questions and problems encountered by former F. T. A. members now teaching were presented to the club. These E. N. C. graduates corresponded with the association by means of edited bulletins.

Colored slides of her recent trip to Great Britain and Europe were shown by Professor Cove. A member of the New England Dairy and Food Council presented educational materials on health.

Front Row: A. Chandler, E. Hicks, M. F. Williams, E. Hilyard, M. Wallace, M. Munsug, E. Henck, V. Eshleman, Pres., Prof. Parsons, Dr. Groves, I. Montgomery, V. Pres., A. Finch, Sec., V. Masters, M. HOUSE COUNCIL

Social etiquette at E. N. C.? For a new project this year, the House Council sponsored a series of lectures dealing with proper social etiquette for girls. Mrs. G. B. Williamson's talk was outstanding.

New drapes? Bedspreads? Candy? These were popular questions last September when plans for Open House were being made. In the fall, three cackling witches scared all girls to the spooky parlor for a Halloween party. The Council also planned for prayer meetings.

LAS ESTRELLAS

Senioritas and seniors enjoyed their siestas after the early morning breakfast at Squantum Point.

To better acquaint the members with our neighbors south of the border, a film on Mexico was shown.

Singing carols in Spanish and Paul Rothwell's reading of his piece were special features of the Christmas party. This year the club purchased new records of Spanish songs for the language department.

LITERATURE CLUB

"Lit." enthusiasts enjoyed groping their way through the secret passage in the House of Seven Gables and wandering through Whittierland when they toured literary shrines near Boston last fall.

Club members also circled the globe vicariously as they met each month to discuss European, Oriental, Negro, and contemporary literature. For a project this year, the club purchased a record player and several Shakespearean records.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

A catatonic schizophrenic or a senile psychotic? Various types of abnormal individuals were observed by the students who made the annual trip to the state mental institution at Danvers.

"Psychology in Religion" was the topic of the lecture given by Prof. Henry J. Knowles to the club.

Two films illustrating child psychology were observed by the members — "The Quiet One" and "The Angry Boy."

ROVER CREW

Campfires . . . straw ticks . . . meals cooked in aluminum foil.

These words epitomize memories for the "Rovers" who liked "roughing it" in E. N. C.'s Blue Hills Camp. Building an igloo in the White Mountains was their winter's escapade for these outdoor men. In contrast to this cold job was a yacht cruise in the spring.

Several members, advised by Dr. Gould, worked to attain the "God and Country Award."

SPEECH CLUB

MacArthur's four-point program . . . Faust . . . Dickens' Christmas Carol — these words reveal the varied activities of the Speech Club. Debates, skits, informal discussions, and discussions on parliamentary procedure were participated in by members.

A study of children with defective speech habits was made by the group. As a project for this year, the students recorded and analyzed different types of voices.

A record library was started this year for the immediate betterment of W. E. N. C. and for the use of music students.

Balogh . . . Farnsworth . . . Wilfinger . . . and the magic of music. A deeper love for great art inspired us as we listened to the prominent Boston soprano, the world-renowned composer and concert pianist, and the accomplished violinist, youngest member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Then, how delighted we were when "Maestro" Greg Larkin directed E. N. C.'s orchestra in its fourth annual concert. The Warsaw Concerto with Professor Olive Marple pianist was the featured work and thrilled all who listened.

In the spring, the college presented Mrs. G. B. Williamson in an interpretive reading recital which will be fondly remembered as a truly fascinating rendition of The White Cliffs.

The Bible-reading contest, senior recitalists, society programs, and student council parties brought inspiration and fun for all, filling out a year in which "date nights" were wonderfully enjoyable and relaxing for the students.

With disregard for the usual ballyhoo of Rush Day, President Chuck Young substituted for harangue a hearty invitation to join the Deltas, "the friendly society." Thirty-nine new members, signing up at "Ye Olde Fellowship Inn," were warmed immediately by coffee and doughnuts.

In the society program, in ball games, and in prayer meetings, the unity of fellowship was the keynote of all activities. The month of May crowned Delta activity for the year with the traditional Delta-Zeta boat trip.

DELTA SPORTS

Deltas showed a determined spirit throughout the year. The football team won two games and lost six, tying the record of the Kappas. Cheered by Paul Lick's megaphone squad, the boys' basketball team thrilled the crowd by edging out the Zetas in the last minutes of a close game.

In volleyball the Delta girls worked to a second place tie with the Sigmas. Their basketball team, strengthened by newcomers, boasted a fast-passing, high-scoring offense.

CHARLES BRODHEAD, Pres.

The honor society for E. N. C. athletes organized this year with nineteen outstanding players selected from the four societies. In football, softball, tennis, ping pong, volleyball, and basketball, they have proved to be tops in sportsmanship and athletic ability.

To serve the school sports program by improving gymnasium equipment, the club initiated the "W-W" program — wood for rebuilt backboards, and water, or a drinking fountain, for the players.

The sale of season tickets was successful enough to finance both projects as well as pay for the regular appearance of Harold Wallace, our favorite "ref."

Outings, sports, and weekly prayer meetings rounded out society activity.

Never to be forgotten was the Kappa program, The Korean Letter, which reflected clever planning and outstanding co-operation.

KAPPA SPORTS

Kappa sports this year showed a spirit which refused to be beaten as the football team tied the record of the Deltas. The boys' basketball team, well balanced and polished, entered zestfully into the fight for first place.

Although they were in fourth place in volleyball and were slow starting in basketball, the Kappa lassies gave all opponents a taste of their aggressive playing.

Lusty lungs and the perennial cowbell faithfully supported blue and white games.

ALL STAR BASKETBALL

From the first blast of the whistle our boys in red played determined, aggressive ball, but they were unable to achieve their goal of two wins over Gordon College. Coaches Nease and Naylor were able to start first-class basketball talent, and they had on hand plenty of capable reserves, but lack of game experience together robbed E. N. C. of the split-second timing and co-ordination necessary to beat decisively a winning Gordon team in the middle of its successful season.

The girls' team was decidedly improved this year. New additions to the squad from the freshman class produced the passing and scoring attack necessary to crack the rival defense and match their offense.

At both games there was the best in sportsmanship and enthusiastic cheering from the loyal supporters of the All-Stars.

"Climb with the Sigmas!" On Rush Day this slogan was symbolized by a red and black rocket. Forty-eight initiates secured for the Sigmas second place in the scramble for new members.

Enthusiasm in society activities characterized the red and black. There were outings, the usual games, meetings, the Sigma program, and well-attended prayer meetings.

President Chuck Brodhead's recruiting speech shows the Sigma spirit: "You can be happy with any society, but if you want pure bliss, join the Sigmas."

SIGMA SPORTS

Strength in reserves and a determined offense won for the Sigmas a tie with the Zetas for first place in football competition. Lacking tall boys, the basketball team was forced to rely on speed and traditional plucky playing to be constantly dangerous.

Teamwork and faithful practice gave the Sigma girls a second place tie with the Deltas in volleyball and a successful basketball season.

In the far right-hand corner of the gym stood the Arch of Triumph on Rush Day, symbol of leadership in society activities. Twenty-nine new students marched through it to sign with the Zeta society.

Fielding the team to beat in sports, the green and gold maintained a reputation for being tops.

The Zeta program and the Friday after-dinner prayer meeting reflected the spirit of the society.

A boat trip with the Deltas capped the Zetas' activities for the year.

ZETA SPORTS

The green and gold again was able to produce talent which made the Zetas the team to beat in every sport. A powerful football squad clicked off scores to tie for first place, and a big accurate basketball team gave every opponent forty minutes of trouble.

Zeta girls' teams were every bit as good as the boys'; they produced the outstanding scorer of the campus in Mabel Brown and won first place in volleyball competition.

GLORIFYING

"Let your light so shine . . . and glorify"

Iowering torches for spiritual freedom, feeding the fires of revival . . . blazing beacons in a day of moral gloom, leading men from the perils of confused thinking and chaotic living; . . . glowing candles glorifying the Father, burning sacrificially upon the altar of life.

*Lift high thy light;
Send out thy beam
Above a world grown dim;
That men may see,
Where falls its gleam,
. . . A path to Him.*

our Father which is in heaven"

REV. J. GLENN GOULD, D.D.

OUR PASTOR SPEAKS

The theme of this book, "Ye Shine as Lights," echoes one of the most daring of St. Paul's inspired insights. In exhorting the Christians at Philippi to constancy in their devotion, he likens them to the very stars in their courses. These heavenly bodies are so predictable in their movements that mariners may safely steer by them through the trackless sea. And in the midst of a sinning world, veiled by deepening shadows, we who know Christ must shine as lights.

Your year at Eastern Nazarene College has helped you better to understand the world in which you live, the social order of which you are a part, and the greatest mystery of all — yourself. But we hope its major contribution has been a better knowledge of Christ and a clearer reflection of His beauty. From this day on, make this your first concern.

N. Y. P. S. COUNCIL

Double or Nothing . . . Talent Scout Night . . . Let's Be Different . . . Here Comes the Postman . . . Twenty Questions . . . Stump the Experts. These were the titles of a few of the most outstanding programs.

"Miss N. Y. P. S.? Never! I would be sure to miss something special!"

A program that was different, but one that was inspiring awaited the students who attended the Young People's services this year. We were thrilled by Dr. Groves' chalk drawing of Sallman's Head of Christ. The testimony of Al Brickner, a converted Jew, inspired us. Each Sunday night brought surprises and blessings.

"Wonderful Savior, my heart is filled with praises to thee."

STUDENT MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Student Ministerial Association is to acquaint future ministers with practical problems, and to stimulate interest and action even during the busy years of intense study and preparation. The membership is made up of upperclassmen who are ministerial students, and meets monthly to hear guest speakers.

Harry Rich, president of the Association, delivered an inspirational message in the annual chapel service given by the student ministers. "We'll work till Jesus comes."

OUR GUESTS

Rev. Paul S. Rees, D.D.

Rev. A. H. Kauffman

Rev. E. Stanley Jones, D.D.

“How marvelous, how wonderful” — this melody of praise we shall ever sing for the blessings received this year in both revival and chapel services. Inspiration and challenge came from visiting missionaries and evangelists, pastors and Christian laymen, professors and students.

The keynote of obedience rang early in the opening convention with Rev. Roy F. Stevens. Other revivalists were Rev. T. E. Martin whose warm-hearted, practical preaching was blessed of God; Rev. Raymond Browning, in the mien of a patriarch of old, who won the hearts of the students by his vivid illustrations and profound understanding of young people’s problems; former president General Superintendent G. B. Williamson who presented the John Gould Memorial Lectures on the subject, “Preaching Holiness,” which was of remarkable benefit especially to the students preparing for the ministry.

Beginning a new series of lectures this year, Rev. Alvin H. Kauffman, veteran missionary to the Holy Land, delivered five challenging messages on An Evangelical Approach to Catholicism. We were thrilled during the Spring Missionary Convention as Robert Chung told of his miraculous escape from Communist-captured Seoul, Korea.

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, author and missionary; Thomas Sugrew, world traveler and news analyst; Dr. Paul E. Johnson, professor of psychology at Boston University; Dr. Paul S. Rees, and many other outstanding guests will be fondly remembered.

THE MESSIAH

From the shimmering strains of the orchestral overture to the thundering chords of the "Amen" chorus, we thrilled to hear again the immortal message of The Messiah.

Handel's great oratorio has been a growing part of the Christmas season at E. N. C. since 1934 when it was first presented here.

This year capacity audiences of students and guests enjoyed this musical masterpiece presented by the combined college and church choirs and orchestra, under the direction of Esther Williamson.

In the memory of this immortal music we will long see the radiant Christ who "shall reign for ever and ever."

The first system of the musical score features four vocal staves (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) and a piano accompaniment. The vocal parts are in a homophonic setting, with each voice part singing the same lyrics. The piano accompaniment consists of a treble and bass clef staff with chords and moving lines. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is common time (C).

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

"Singing . . . to the Lord." At rehearsals in the Canterbury as well as at public concerts to large congregations, the A Cappella Choir sang a testimony from the heart.

In the spring, the choir made an eighteen-day tour of the Eastern Educational Zone singing the Gospel to thousands.

Appreciative audiences thrilled at hearing "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," and were deeply moved when Mrs. Esther Williamson, director, joined the choir in singing "He Hideth My Soul."

MEISTERSINGERS

"Feet flat on the floor, posture erect, song books raised." These familiar words were heard each Monday night by the Meistersingers who faithfully practiced for their two major performances.

The group assisted in the presentation of "The Messiah," and in the spring rendered "The Redemption," a sacred trilogy by Gounod.

A love for singing because "He gave a song to me," is characteristic of the Meistersingers.

CHURCH CHOIR

"He Cannot Fail!" The choir's beautiful rendering of their theme chorus made this promise increasingly meaningful.

All felt a spiritual uplift in the Sunday morning services as Greg Larkin led the choir in singing such anthems as, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." Hearts were blessed in the evening services and in revival meetings as the choir sang the "blessed story."

MEN'S CHORAL GUILD

"Jubilee," "O, The Bitter Shame and Sorrow," "Gideon's Band" — how we were thrilled at hearing these and many other sacred numbers sung by the Men's Choral Guild organized this year by Greg Larkin.

The idea for a men's chorus originated last fall when the four E. N. C. quartets were combined to represent the college at the Park Street Educational Conference. They "sing for pure enjoyment," but have been a blessing in many services.

“Into all the world” have gone many devoted missionaries from E. N. C. Students preparing for this work and others vitally interested make the weekly meetings of the Missionary Society informative and inspirational.

During the annual chapel service, the needs of the foreign lands represented in our student body were graphically presented by the students dressed in their native garb and speaking their native languages.

EVANGELISTIC ASSOCIATION

This year the Evangelistic Association was a real factor for Christ in Boston. With two hundred members, organized in ten groups, thirty-five student preachers, and the new Chevrolet carry-all, the organization was stronger than ever.

“Our emphasis is SOULS,” stated President Charles Holman; and with God’s help, many souls were won in the seven missions regularly served. The Association also serves the Quincy Golden Rule Bible Class, conducts weekly services at the Middleton prison farm, and choirs visit local hospitals each Sunday afternoon.

“. . . So bright may be the flame, Benighted men may glorify His name.”

ESPECIALLY FOR YOU . . .

- The making of College Annuals takes far longer than you think.
- The co-ordination of photography, art work, engraving, printing and binding was entrusted to our skilled craftsmen who have been making college annuals for nearly a quarter of a century.
- Together with the staff who have served you so well, we too share in the satisfaction of completing this book . . .

Especially for YOU
