EASTERN NAZARENE COLLEGE
Wollaston Park • Quincy, Mass.

We come from California and Maine; from Northern Canada and Puerto Rico; from Japan to Africa and Trinidad. We come from large cities and tiny farm communities; from families large and small. Each of us brings with him his own interests and capabilities, but when we arrive at Eastern Nazarene College we begin to broaden interests, share capabilities, and learn to live understandingly with others.

Our coming to E. N. C. was the beginning of four critical years of growing: mental, physical, spiritual, emotional, and social. Our development is not haphazard, but a guided growth which helps us to learn independence and discover our need for increasing self-discipline and professional knowledge.

Eastern Nazarene College consists of people—students and faculty working together because they enjoy it and know that its goal is worth while. Many are the fine daily associations which are the larger part of college life. Times of counseling with our professors, inspiring moments of fellowship in the chapel, and friendly discussions with classmates in the lunch-line, all add together to enrich experience, and deepen understanding.

As our understanding deepens, we see the need of becoming the best person we are capable of being. To accomplish this we are continually broadening interests. We engage in activities which give us great personal satisfaction as well as a deep sense of sharing in the lives of other people.

The thrill of winning the first touchdown for our team, the tingle of cool, crisp air on our skins as we made our way to the first basketball game of the year, the crack of the baseball bat as leather meets wood; these we will remember.

We will not forget the fun we had together at the Squaw Hawkins Party when we all became squaws and braves. Nor the Christmas Party, when, instead of buying corsages, the girls made ones out of money to be used for a worthy cause. Then came the Spring Party when the girls had a chance to appear in their laces, satins, and tulles, and the boys were on their best behavior.

The eighty-five per cent of E. N. C.'ers who hold part or full-time jobs have found that even their outside work can become a source of gaining helpful experience and learning to understand others. Whether we work at the supermarket, drive a delivery truck, or do housework, we can find satisfaction in a job well-done.

Very important to us is the Christian emphasis which pervades all our activities. The maxim—"There is no substitute for Christian education"—we can now appreciate. Prayer before classes, informal group prayer-meetings, and discussion of spiritual problems with student and professor friends have added something of inestimable value to our lives.

Colleges, like people, have personalities. They are basically alike, yet unique and different. Eastern Nazarene College has some unique qualities: the genuine friendliness of a comparatively small group, the resulting close student faculty relationships, the emphasis on quality rather than quantity. We know these things as the E. N. C. spirit which has become a part of us during our stay here.

DEDICATION

- To — the son of a former illustrious E. N. C. professor, Ernest T. Angell.
- To — the man who places Christ above his multifarious activities in the business world.
- To — the mastermind of our new Nease Memorial Library and architect of our president's new home.
- To — the master craftsman who moves quietly, but powerfully through his hour upon the stage.
- To — the type of man that has made possible the growth of this college.
- To WESLEY ANGELL — with thanks and respect, we dedicate this 1955 NAUTILUS.

"Who builds a church to God, and not to fame,
Will never mark the marble with his name."

Pope

With the great emphasis in history on the social aspect, we have taken our theme from a historical setting: the rise of the town and then to be up to date, emphasized the social by arranging our book according to the social class names. This is the period when knighthood was leaving and the bourgeois society was making its initial entrance onto the stage of history.

The clergy still played one of the dominant roles in the slowly dying Medieval civilization and thus we have placed our religious sections under the Greek term for clergy—Ecclesia. High on the ladder stood the mastercraftsman in wealth and social prestige. Then came the trainee or the apprentice. We decided our administration and faculty served the same purpose to the students in our college life as did the mastercraftsman to the apprentice in the early town.

After the tension of the day the traveling minstrel entertained the entire society. Here at E. N. C. the minstrel comes in many forms. Organizations are a vital part of any society, the guilds constituted the working classes of the town and different functional groups are E. N. C.'s modern adaptation to the guilds.

Chivalry wasn't quite dead and Don Quixote had not spurred his dashing steed across Spain to revive it, as yet. Our intermural sports might remind one of the "goodly" sport of King Arthur and his Knights of the round table.

Finally the dominant man, or near dominant of this age was the merchant. He is analogous to our advertisers for they have destined the color, size, and the over-all extravagance of this book.

PASTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Friends:

We have lived another year together, and now view in retrospect the record of our labor. It is an oppolling fact that the record we have inscribed must stand forever; for there is no road which leads back to yesterday.

*"The Moving Finger writes; ond, having writ,
Moves an; nor all thy Piety nor Wit
Shall lure it back to cancel half a Line,
Nar all thy Tears wash out o Word of it."*

It has been a glorious year in many respects. For many of you it hos brought you to the coveted goal of a college degree. We congratulate you and remind you that there is much land ahead to be possessed. It is not without meaning that your college career ends in a "Commencement."

Even more important thon intellectual achievements are those experiences of men when they encounter Jesus Christ ond the cloims of His Gospel. It is my earnest hope that you have settled the issues which turn about the perfect will of God for your lives, and settled them in a way that has enthroned Christ within you. To live thus is to find the most hallowed compensations which one can ever know. God bless you one and oll.

Foithfully yours,
J. GLENN GOULD

The church choir provides inspiration through uplifting music every Sunday. Arrangements of exuberant gospel songs and majestic stirring anthems contribute to the worship and praise.

In addition to the Sunday morning and evening services, the choir supports the revivals faithfully and assists in the annual presentation of the Messiah.

The choir, directed by Paul W. Rundlett, seeks to provide the best in church music and a program that will bring blessing to all.

The Nazarene Young People's Society of the Wollaston Church presents a challenge greater and more demanding than that of any other youth group connected with the college. Programs to cultivate genuine interest and promote spiritual uplift are arranged for every Sunday evening.

Services are planned by the Greek Letter societies, various students and professors, and the N.Y.P.S. Council.

Perhaps the greatest single effort sponsored by the Society this year has been the organization of "Prayer Cell" groups. These groups are made up of from six to eight students who meet in the dormitories once a week for prayer. Membership is completely voluntary, but nearly one hundred per cent.

The Student Ministerial Association is composed of juniors and seniors who are studying for the ministry or for full-time Christian service.

The foremost purpose of the association is to challenge young men and women to the work of spreading the Gospel. Realizing the seriousness of God's call upon their lives and the greatness of the opportunities that lie ahead, the ministerial students share with each other a bond of fellowship because of their mutual aims and goals.

Through the year visiting ministers bring challenging messages of inspiration and Truth, and lead discussions in which members participate.

BOSTON

The Boston Chapel, which has been in operation only a year, is sponsored by the Evangelistic Association. Since its beginning attendance has steadily increased in Sunday School, and the Association has done excellent work by giving to the underprivileged children of the South Boston area recreational activity and spiritual guidance.

The Evangelistic Association is made up of a group of college students who feel the urge to impart to others a knowledge of the experience of salvation which they themselves have received. Because of the challenge and opportunities which the Society offers its members, it has become the largest and most active organization on campus.

The year's program has been far-reaching. The Association offers four channels of service:

1. The Hospital Choir which sings every Sunday in Quincy City Hospital.
2. The Wollaston Visitation group which visits in the college community in the interest of the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene and the winning of souls.
3. The Boston Nazarene Chapel which is dedicated to the task of bringing the message of full salvation to the men and women, boys and girls of Boston's south end.
4. The mission group workers who hold services in various missions of Boston.

Through these channels of service the members of the Evangelistic Association strive to fulfill Christ's great command:

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

Student Foreign Mission Fellowship Council

A chapter of the Foreign Missions Fellowship has been recently organized on the ENC campus. This is a chapter of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship which provides a means of contact with other college and university students interested in Christian missions.

The purpose of the Fellowship is to help spread the gospel of Christ in foreign lands and to spread information concerning the various mission fields.

Each Thursday the group meets for study and prayer. Prayer groups for each mission field have been organized and through these small groups specialized study of the individual fields has been promoted. These groups also write letters to the missionaries of their choice.

Helping to promote the Thanksgiving and Easter offerings, filling alabaster boxes, organizing the prayer and fasting league, and attending the Inter-Varsity-Missionary conferences have all contributed to the activities of the Fellowship this year.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Edward Stebbins Mann, A. M., L.L. D., President.

Life at Eastern Nazarene College is full of variety. Each phase of life has its responsibilities and each responsibility, faithfully discharged, has its rich rewards. In addition to the educational demands, attention must be given to spiritual development. Participation in departmental clubs, musical organizations, athletics, and other extra-curricular activities are secondary but by no means unimportant aspects of student life.

It is with a sense of deep satisfaction that faculty members and administrative officers watch the progress of a student from his days as an Apprentice until he attains the status of a Master Craftsman. His rate of advancement is never satisfactory nor is his final success assured unless he manifested a vital concern for the influence of the Ecclesia. His interest in the Guilds and his development as a Minstrel or a Knight contribute not only to his own feeling of personal accomplishment but also serve to make him a better citizen in the college community.

It is the student who has learned to place the proper emphasis upon each phase of college life and who has met each obligation of student days with enthusiasm and determination who is best qualified to meet the demands of life after college and who is most likely to reflect credit upon his Alma Mater.

LETTERS

Kent Goodnow, A. M.,
Professor of German and Spanish.

Although the studies in this division may be put to the practical use of earning a living, yet they serve primarily to develop the student in order that he may express himself freely and effectively. The best safeguard for democracy is the creation of enlightened individuals.

Literature assists him to develop a sound philosophy of life through acquaintance with the best thoughts of the ages. The study of languages gives him a greater appreciation of his own nation and enlarges his sympathies with others. The objective of the Department of Music is to give a solid grounding in musical theory linked with its application to the practical use of music.

Courses in fine arts offer a guide to the understanding and enjoyment of pictures and sculptures. To cultivate power and praise in speaking is the aim of the Speech Department.

Professor of Philosophy.

Mel-Thomas Rothwell, A. M., Associate Professor of Philosophy.

Wilbur H. Mullen, Th. B., A. M., Assistant Professor of Theology.

"Philosophy is an attempt to discover the whole truth." It seeks to coordinate, interpret, and evaluate experience as a whole. It teaches the student principle of correct thinking, the elements of thought, and the true values of life.

The Department of Theology seeks to systematize the student's knowledge of the Christian faith: It is primarily planned to provide a working knowledge of the practical problems and preaching assignment for those students who are entering the Christian ministry. "Study to show thyself approved, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed . . ."

RELIGION

Associate Professor of Biblical Literature.

George J. Delp, A. B., S. T. M., Assistant Professor of Greek.

SCIENCE

James H. Shrader, Ph.D., Chairman of Division of Science and Math; Professor of Chemistry

The primary aim of the Division of Science and Mathematics is that of providing the pre-professional and pre-engineering student the necessary requirements for the mastery of their chosen fields. But providing the student with the content, discipline, and techniques necessary to professions in research, industry, teaching, medicine, and its many related fields is not its only purpose.

Study of the sciences should develop in the student the spirit of inquiry. It ought to teach him to observe accurately, to record completely and to think without prejudice. It then provides for him an intellectual discipline by the habit of first seeking the facts before forming an opinion or proposing a solution.

Finally, the department aims at intellectual outlook with the strengthening of Christian faith.

MATH

Ward M. Hunting, M.S., Assistant Professor of Chemistry;
Director of Audio-Visual Aids

Jasper R. Naylor, B.S., A.M., Professor of Mathematics; Director of Personnel Bureau

The Division of Social Science aims to contribute to the student a sound philosophy of life and a true standard of values through the establishment of historical background and critical consideration of past and present social problems. It also seeks to develop in the student an understanding of human nature from both the individual and social point of view. It provides practical training for those desiring to enter the fields of guidance, testing, research and clinical work.

PHI DELTA LAMBDA

L. Dygoski, T. Smith, A. Kauffman.

To create interest in maintaining a high scholastic standard at E. N. C. is the object of the Honor Society and Phi Delta Lambda. They feel that the student best prepared for Christian service is the one who has made the best use of his talents. Only as the student makes best use of his talents during his college life is he prepared for effective Christian service in the future.

The Honor Society emphasizes the real purpose of Eastern Nazarene College—that of providing the student academic training built upon Christian ideals.

Each year, the upper 15 per cent of the graduating class is elected to Phi Delta Lambda. It is a real challenge and an honor to be chosen as one who has helped E. N. C. maintain her high level of scholarship among her sister institutions.

GRADUATES IN THEOLOGY

To better prepare themselves for God's work these students have returned after graduation for advanced study in philosophy and theology. Desiring to be "workmen that needeth not to be ashamed" these have tried to get further preparation before entering the full-time field of Christian Service. After receiving their Th.B. degree they can better answer, "Here am I, send me!"

We feel God has been good to us these four years at E. N. C. We've gained friends, fun, a liberal arts degree, and, most important, a closer walk with God.

The years have gone fast and our memory book is full. Freshman initiation, Sophomore outings, Junior-Senior Day, Senior trip, and finally Commencement Day. We now are Alumni looking back with gratitude and forward ready to do His will.

Friends, professors, books—all a vital part of our past as we set out to be servants to God and man.

WHO'S WHO

Seven outstanding students have been elected as representatives of Eastern Nazarene College in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. They have been outstanding in their scholarship, leadership, participation in extra-curricular activities and Christian character and influence. We are confident that they will prove to be of future usefulness to society.

JUNIORS

Just one year to go!

Thanksgiving gave us a chance to prove ourselves in the traditional Junior chapel. We were a little shaky, but felt that the real message of thanksgiving was given.

It seems we have been in the spotlight a lot—reception for the Seniors after their trip, Junior-Senior activities and finally ushering and carrying flowers at the Commencement Exercises. We've worked hard but have been amply rewarded by the thanks of the Seniors for one of the best Junior-Senior Days E. N. C. has ever had.

As we've met together in our prayer-meetings, we have thanked God for three good years and asked His blessing on our last year.

Seated: L. Flick, Secretary; G. Pankaw, Vice President. Standing: G. Yaung, Treasurer; D. Grosse, S. C. Representative; R. Quanstrom, President; Professor Gery, Faculty Advisor; R. Crew, Chaplain.

Junior Chapel

SOPHOMORE

Our second year started with a bang—in the direction of the freshman! We felt we gave them the best welcome yet and it was a good chance to get acquainted with the "greenies."

Faxon Park was the scene of our fall outing and the fun and fellowship were worth the hours of planning.

Whether working together for a successful Freshman-Sophomore outing, studying together for a Lit. by Types exam, or praying together for a campus-wide revival, we were united toward a common goal—to prove ourselves worthy upperclassmen of E. N. C.

At the end of a good year we are looking forward to an even better year as Juniors.

FRESHMAN

Starched pigtails, early morning serenades, breakfast a la blindfold—fun that did much to drive away any feeling of loneliness and misgivings with which we approached this year, and made us realize that this was now our class and these were now our friends—we were a part of E. N. C.

We found that a balanced life was necessary in order to get all that E. N. C. offered us. Western Civ., Rhetoric themes, O. T. exams, were balanced by Friday night programs, dates, basketball games, class outings to the Blue Hills, Monday night prayer meetings, chapel and revivals.

The Freshman-Sophomore outing this spring was not only fun, but it made us realize that we would soon be Sophomores with added responsibility and standing—at least in the eyes of next year's freshman.

Eastern Nazarene Academy with a September enrollment of twenty-seven has enjoyed many good times this year. Outings, historical tours, fun at Cameron's, and uniting in prayer on Monday nights have been a part of the activities that have made us feel a oneness in work and play. E. N. A. owes much to Mrs. Nease, our principal; Mr. Cameron, our faculty advisor; and to the other teachers who have helped prepare us for college. The Christian atmosphere has been invaluable in setting our feet on the right path.

"From the shores of Gitche Gumee,
To the halls of E. N. C. — — —"

Squaws, braves, head-dresses, feathers, "Song of Hiawatha" with a few modern interpretations, cider, apples and cookies, all combined with a few war whoops to make the Squaw-Hawkins Fall Party at Four-River Club House a "heap-big" success.

Earlier in the year Erno Balough, famed pianist, presented a concert to raise funds for a grand piano for the school.

On Thanksgiving Day the faculty and students united under leadership from the Council to stage "Open House" for President and Mrs. Mann at their new home where they were presented with a lovely gift.

The Christmas and formal Spring parties added zest to the rest of the year's activity. Students and faculty alike again cooperated to help the campus wear its "new-look" after the annual clean-up, Campus Day.

A representative group of students and a faculty member compose the Council whose chief function is to discuss suggestions, ideas, or problems from the student body and formulate them into action. Improved campus life is the goal of such an undertaking.

NAUTILUS

Trying to find the pulse of a "spirit" is difficult, but once captured it is an enduring thing. A good yearbook must contain this spirit. The NAUTILUS staff has done all in its power to capture the "spirit" or the "soul" of our campus this academic year 1954-55.

Late hours, candles after "Carol" had gone, meeting deadlines, but most of all hard work by the entire staff has made possible a publication which we hope has captured those small things constituting E. N. C.'s "spirit."

We hope the 1955 NAUTILUS makes a book of memories that will be meaningful to everyone.

CAMPUS

Every other Wednesday night, when the Campus Camera slides under your door, do you ever stop to think of all the "blood, sweat, and tears" which have gone into its preparation?

Deadlines, the dread spectre haunting all editors, must be met, and tiresome routines must be followed.

Barbara Hemmings, Associate Editor

Barbara Milstead, Proof Editor

Plans are laid out, assignments made, and reporters go snooping. A week quickly passes, and assignments are due. Editor and crew go into action rewriting the hackneyed copy, while typists pound far into the night.

Galley proofs finally come back from the printer. The layout crew switch, shift and squeeze to make the copy fit. Headline editors wrack their brains for the right punch-line. The business manager is at last on his way to the printer's with the paper-to-be.

Rated by the Associated Collegiate Press as a first-class college paper, we feel that the Campus Camera is well worth a few headaches and late hours.

Club members looked at pictures taken by Miss Cove in the West besides listening to records of favorite selections.

Historical Society

The Historical Society is new on campus this year. It was organized not only as a departmental club but as an organization of all students interested in the study of History. Regular club nights were spent at Prof. Smith's house as informal gatherings. The year's program included a formal dinner, lectures by prominent historians, discussion groups and field trips.

Literature Club

The Literature Club got off to a good start this year under the leadership of Marvin Joy, who has provided interesting and informative programs. Lexington and Concord were chosen as the sites of Historical and literary interest to be visited on the fall tour. The group met in the Fine Arts Room to listen to recordings of the short stories of Edgar Allen Poe and other classics. The highlight of the Christmas Party at Dean Munro's was the reading in parts of the play by Dorothy Sayers, "Man Born to be King."

Psychology Club

The primary object of the Psychology Club is to arouse interest in Psychology both in the department and the student body. Highlighting the year's activity was a tour of the State Hospital at Danvers where diagnoses and various types of therapy were observed and studied first-hand. Dr. Bond Woodruff, an exchange Psychology Professor from Olivet Nazarene College who took over Dr. Grove's classes for two weeks, was a guest speaker for the club.

Spanish Club

Las Estrellas, the Spanish Club, centers its activities around the Spanish Department. The members observed their annual Christmas party at Mrs. Rothwell's house where Spanish and Mexican Yule customs were followed. Very interesting was a Puerto Rican speaker who addressed the group in Spanish.

Seated: I. Stanford, M. Moore, L. Gomes, J. Mori, O. Burch, C. Burgess, E. Mullen, N. Wilson.
 Standing: F. Culver, V. Agwodo, J. Latford, W. Mullen, B. Mullen, F. MacMillon, C. Owen,
 R. Burke, R. Landers, D. Doniels, A. Tikasingh.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

North, south, east, west! All four corners of the earth are represented here at E. N. C. Our foreign students make us better able to learn the cultures, interests, and characteristics of those from other lands. They are a definite part of every activity of the school. It is meaningful to hear thanks given at the table in Japanese, yet it is fun to rib those south of the Mason Dixon line about their "Y'all." Our insights are broadened, equality sharpened, and all are glad E. N. C.'s doors are open wide.

Seated: L. Flick, A. John, M. E. Boshart, Professor Parsons, B. Ashline, A. Rose, R. Plunkert, M. Mayes, Professor Groves, M. Insko, M. Treyz, M. Phillippi. Middle Row: T. Benner, J. Schlosser, D. Mattmueller, D. Mosbougher, M. Corrie, C. Wogner, M. Foss, M. Maore, L. Jones, J. St. Pierre, C. May, N. Wilson, C. Cloytor, V. Burgess, C. Smith. Top Row: O. Burch, P. Schurmon, D. W. Smith, J. Ketterner, S. Truitt, D. Brown, P. North, V. Boch, I. Styers, D. Crispell, P. Nosh, J. Deem, M. Merritts, D. Clingermon, E. Monn, H. Henderson.

FUTURE TEACHER'S ASSOC.

The project for the year in the Future Teachers of America Association was the organization of an F.T.A. in one of the local high schools. Each meeting proved to be very interesting and informative. Special speakers included Mr. William I. Huslia from the Perkins Institute and the Massachusetts School for the Blind who lectured on the various teaching methods used for the blind children. Miss June Sigmund from the Mutual Life Insurance Company also presented educational movies and demonstrations.

Seated: T. Benner, M. Mayes, F. Tysinger. Standing: D. Brown, R. Ireland, B. Blaisdell, J. Gidney.

HOUSE COUNCIL

A Circus, Open House, and pajama parties all were part of the functions of the House Council. It is the student governing body of Munro Hall, designed to enforce the rules and keep order in the dormitory. The Circus was an all-girls party where the students were hostesses to the faculty wives. Open House was sponsored by the House Council with prizes awarded for the rooms selected as original and collegiate. To welcome the freshmen a pajama party was held in the parlor, with games, introductions, and lollipops for everyone.

Roger Speakmon

The very controversial and current question for debate this year is "Resolved that the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to Communist China." A novice team began the season by participating in a tournament at Emerson College. The first regular tournament was at Tufts College where Sarah Cleckner, Dallas Mucci, Janette Morehead, and Richard Schubert tied for second place among twenty-three colleges.

Copy had to go to press before the team debated at the scheduled tournaments of M. I. T., Boston University, and Brooklyn College, New York.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The main objective of the A Cappella Choir is the tour that is made annually. The choir travels during E. N. C's Spring Vacation, and represents the school at various churches throughout the Eastern Educational Zone.

Much effort and hard work goes into the numbers given. The choir begins early in the Fall and works steadily on the numbers to be given with the exception of the time spent on the Messiah.

Many new songs were presented this year, and a complete section of Negro Spirituals was given. Nevertheless, the audiences gave rapt attention from the beginning strains of Alma Mater to the strong, emphatic closing notes of The Creation.

The route of the choir was a little different this year. The tour began in South Portland, Maine, working into the Northern New York area, continuing on in Ohio, Pennsylvania and finally presenting their final service in Pawtucket, Rhode Island.

Showing plenty of class E. N. C. blew the lid of a game rather closely contested for three quarters and roundly trounced Gordon College, 90-67, in the first of a home and home engagement at Commerce High Gym. It was the first time in ten years that E. N. C. was able to beat Gordon on their own floor.

Classy Jack Smith threw in 38 points with deadly outside shooting and Jerry Lashley gave the Gordonites plenty of trouble inside with his tremendous rebounding.

Song from the Senior trip

We started off from E.N.C.
The Juniors they slept sound.
We hopped into a Greyhound bus
And were New Hampshire bound.
The boys, they all sat in the back
And Roger with his cane
Grabbed Dottie, Marcia, Iris too,
And threw them at the pane —

CHORUS:

But they let the sunshine in,
Bore it with a grin.
The class of '55
Was determined to survive.
For the place was great,
As was the food we ate,
So why don't you be sure to put the
Elms upon your slate.

Bill hit the Elms at 9:00 A.M.
We started off with sleds.
Lila, John, they hit the fence
And Naylor's scratched their heads.
We slid by 2's and 3's and 4's
And Zig rode down — "down south"
We stopped for coffee, doughnuts, toast
And Bernie burned his — esophogus!

CHORUS:

But he let the sunshine in . . .
Don and Dave, they played on felt
And Yogi shot real cool.
Whetmore, Sterling, Jay and Gil
Tried a brand new game called — Billiards.
Dick and Cindy on their skis
Went down the hill with charm.
Marge, Georgie, Vaunda rode the tow
And Yeager gashed his arm.

CHORUS:

But they let the sunshine in . . .
Ken, Jane, Ethel, Rach, and Ruth
On ice fell with a bang.
Otty played; Jean, Barb and Dean,
Donna and Marylin sang.
Frieda watched a rhythm game
While Minnie and Charlotte clapped
Tony could not play so well;
Then at midnight we all napped.

CHORUS:

But we let the sunshine in . . .
Skiing, skating, sliding, too;
Everyone took part.
Although we're stiff and black and blue
We're still as gay at heart.

CHORUS:

'Cause we let the sunshine in . . .

Waitresses preparing for the mad rush — "ready, set, go!"

Deltas round-up new "ranch-hands" on Rush-Day.
